LIBRARY NOTES.

The Library is patronized too much to suit me. I never can get what I want. So says the book-worm.

"My, this is a nice place! I'd like to stay up here all the time." So says one young man.

The Library has a good line of bound magazines fully indexed, beginning with the year 1907. These are much used for reference work.

One boy reader has made a set of the wireless instruments, with which he can receive messages from all parts of the country. Another has ordered a set of tools from one of the Harper handbooks for boys.

Zone policeman, No. 88, and pictures of Panama, are two books of interest, both being written about the Panama Canal.

E. V. Lucas's "Wanderer in Holland" is a beautifully illustrated little book, dealing with the Country, the people, and the art, full of shrewd and humorous comment and apt quotation.

Maps Antedate Columbus.

It is said that there are well-authenticated maps showing the coasts of Florida and Cuba, one dated 1414 and the other 1492, before the return of Christopher Columbus from America.

Washington Theatre.

THE TALKER.

The current bill at the Washington theatre, "The Talker" is a particularly bright, well written comedy which makes a strong appeal to men and women in every walk in life. Its characters are all familiar and we understand them and their ways. The Washington players, headed by sweet Julie Herne, have added another success to their long string of well done, capitally acted presentations. There is a great moral lesson in "The Talker", which especially to women, not because a woman wrote it, but because women understand it so thoroughly. It is full of delightful comedy and the one scene, which sounds through the three acts of the play, is faithfully reproduced on the stage at the Washington Theatre.

Next week, we will have that admirable comedy, "The House next Door" by J. Hartley Manners, author of the wonderful current New York success, "Peg o' my Heart." While "The House Next Door" has been heretofore seen in Detroit it will always be welcome to our theatre-goers Dealing as it does with racial prejudice, it never at any time gives offense, yet interests and holds an audience from the beginning of the play to the fall of the final curtain.

Simple Things Best.

To retain youth you must cultivate and preserve your power to enjoy simple things. As our forms of pleasure become complex and expensive the soul becomes stiff and cramped. To love simple food and drink, simple methods of play, simple speech, and, above all, the manifest simplicities of nature, makes red blood. Resist the inroads of pessimism. It means the twilight of the soul and the empty night.—Frank Crane.

Garrick Theatre.

"The Firefly."

Considered from the standpoint of the music loving theatre goer it is indeed good news to learn that Mlle. Emma Trentini in the new comedy operetta "The Firefly" with the original cast and ensemble direct from its successful run of twenty five weeks at the Casino New York, will appear at the Garrick Theatre, Detroit, for one week, commencing next Monday night.

Mlle. Trentini's charm, personality and enthusiasm are always evident in her new vehicle and her desire to please easily finds response in the eagerly receptive mood in which she has her audiences.

The cast supporting Mlle. Trentini is composed of the following noteworthy artists; Roy Atwell, Melville Stewart, Craig Campbell, William Wolf, Tammy Lee, Louise Mink, Katherine Stewart, Ruby Norton and Miss. Vera Ross. Mr. Arthur Hammerstein lays particular stress upon his discovery of the composer, Mr. Rudolph Friml

Mr. Hammerstein, while in Europe last season, was attracted by Mr. Friml's music, who then had two orchestral ballets, "Auf Japan" and "Heifrled" to his credit. Both of these are still being presented at the Dresden Hofopern Theatre.

Mr. Friml was born in Prague in '81. He studied at the Prague Conservatory and afterward devoted his efforts to concert work and composition. In 1901 he accompanied his compatriot, Jan Kubelik, to this country, and in 1906 he played his own piano concerto in B major with the New York Symphony Orcestra.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Standart of Birmingham Heights, announce the engagement of their daughter Merab Cora Standart to Mr. Donald Bailey Ferguson.

PREPARING FOR THE STOCK SHOW.

Preliminaries of the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago, Nov. 29 to Dec. 6, have been completed, entries are being tabulated and the groundwork laid for the best display of foot animals and draft horses ever congregated in America or elsewhere Entries largely outnumber those of previous years and the galaxy of pure-bred and fat live stock to be assembled may never meet in the competitive arena again.

Construction gangs are busy increasing show facilities, buildings are being enlarged or altered to accommodate the expansion of the exposition and unsurpassed accomodation will be furnished both exhibitors and spectators.

In consequence of impending shortage of beef, pork and mutton, producers all over the United States and Canada are devising ways and means to expend production and on this account unusual interest is being taken in the 1913 exposition. The imperative lesson of economy in production will be taught forcibly and effectively, by the men who are now engaged in adapting their methods to changing conditions. New feeding and breeding problems will be presented in the stage of at least partial solution at this gathering.

The 1913 International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago will be so dissimilar from previous events of the same nature that both those seeking instruction and diversion will be well rewarded by attending.

Saved His Foot.

H. D. Ely, of Bantam, Ohio, suffered from horrible ulcer on his foot for four years. Doctor advised amputation, but he refused and reluctantly tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve as a last resort. He then wrote: "I used your Salve and my foot was soon completely cured." Best remedy for burns, cuts, bruises and eczema. Get a box today. Only 25c. Recommended by C. J. Shain and Cobb & Jennelle.—Adv.
