Birmingham Eccentric.

WEEKLY.

BIRMINGHAM, MICHIGAN.

MICHIGAN NEWS.

Rev. Jonathan B. Hubbard, aged 79, and for nearly 50 years a clergyman in the Presbyterian church, east and west, died at Adrian a few days ago.

A three-years-old son of Mr. Olmstead, of Fenton, was drowned in his father's cistern one afternoon last long since.

Mechanics throughout the state are beginning to meet to regulate price of labor for the coming season.

A few days ago the postmaster at Spring Lake sent the quarter's money, $300, to the Grand Rapids office, as directed by the government, and the same was properly received and receipted for, but now it cannot be found.

N. R. Potter, an old and valued resident of Lansing, died a few days ago from injuries received while mounting a horse.

During last summer about 100 dwelling houses, a dozen stores, and two mills were put up at Cheboygan, and at least 1,000 added to the population, and as great improvement will be made in the ensuing