DITCH CONTRACT NOTICE.

Public notice is hereby given that on the 24th day of September, A. D., 1884, at 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, at the store of John M. Lee, in the township of Redford in the county of Wayne, I will let contracts for the construction of a drain in the townships of Southfield and Redford, described as follows: Commencing in the Carr drain at a point 6.25 chains east and 4 45 chains north of the southwest corner of section No. 3, T. 1, S. R. 10 east, Michigan; thence north, east and northeasterly direction across lands owned by O. Smith, Isaac and William Muldraugh, Seth Barns, William Halls and Mrs. Wood's land in Redford, and Onous Low's, R. S. Griffin's, C. Enricht's, John Stoll's, Dr. Gray's and Maggie Beardslee's land in Southfield. And at that time I will let contracts for the construction of said drain by sections to the lowest responsible bidders. Also at the time of letting contracts the assessment of benefits will be subject to review.

CHARLES I. JOHNSON,
Special County Drain Commissioner for said Drain.
SOUTHFIELD, Sep. 9, A. D., 1884.

Col. J. H. McLaughlin

When walking along Woodward avenue, Detroit, on Tuesday the 9th inst., I halted for a moment in front of store number 290 and saw over the door these words, "Col. J. H. McLaughlin." I looked inwards, upwards and outwards and noticed that wines, liquors, tobacco and cigars were sold there. I entered the store and made an excuse that I wanted a cigar, but really my motive was to see the champion wrestler, probably of the world. A cigar was handed me by a clerk of whom I required if the proprietor was within. A stout man arose from behind the counter and stated that he answered to the name "McLaughlin," and extended his hand, which I grasped coyly, not knowing but what he would squeeze my hand into mince-meat. Instead of feeling any unpleasant sensation in my digits I noticed the touch was as soft and as pleasant as a semi-lovely lady's "left," near her heart. We had a short and very entertaining conversation in which I learned that he acquired his gigantic strength while working in a black smith's shop in an early day, that he was about forty years of age, in good health and ready to bestow to the winner the $500 belt which he possesses and which he pleasantly exhibited to me. I observed sitting near the colonel his cheerful daughter, who is about twelve years of age, and who strikingly resembles her father in build and in general appearance. Whoever has the good luck to marry her, if she is a member of the "Women's Rights Society," and doesn't behave himself in a becoming manner while "around," he will occasionally find himself square on his back without the privilege of bridging, a very beseeming position to be in when a woman is boss. The colonel in conclusion intimated to me that Dufur was his worst antagonist and that the honorable member of the Vermont legislature would probably prefer making laws than contending with him again.

A WALKING SKELETON.

Mr. E. Springer of Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes: "I was afflicted with lung fever and abscess on lungs, and reduced to a walking skeleton. Got a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which did me so much good that I bought a dollar bottle. After using three bottles, found myself once more a man, completely restored to health, with a hearty appetite and a gain in flesh of 48 pounds." Call at Whitehead & Mitchell's drug store and get a free trial bottle of this certain cure for all lung diseases. Large bottles $1.

WEST BLOOMFIELD.

Just as dry as ever. That cold wave you asked for came too quick. Now speak for a little rain.

The swamp known as the Pine Lake swamp is on fire and burning rapidly, burning holes in the ground ten feet deep in places.

Rev. J. Joslin preached his farewell sermon before going to conference.

Miss Maggie Coulter of Milford has been taking care of her sister for the past week.

Doug Harger's son Mark was nearly killed one day last week. He was at work in a ditch when it caved in covering him two or three feet deep, but his father and hired man got him out as soon as possible. He was boldly bruised and nearly suffocated. Quite a narrow escape.

Will Boughner got his foot in a horse power and jammed it quite badly.

Mrs. James Sinclair is staying a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. H. A. Gamble.

Mr. Grinnell is drawing his lumber by car loads now and will rush his barn rapidly through.

Miss Adeline Harris is in Detroit at the hospital having her eyes doctored.

ROYAL OAK.

Poverty X roads.

School began Monday last under the management of Miss Annie Todd who gave such good satisfaction here last spring.

Miss Lizzie White returned home Saturday last from an extended visit among friends near Rochester and Utica.

N. S. Schuyler is slowly recovering from a severe attack of rheumatism which has kept him confined to the house during the greater portion of the past summer.

William Parks raised this year on 27 acres 1,400 bushel of oats, an average of nearly 52 bushel per acre. Two lots of 19 acres averaged nearly 50 bushel to the acre. Pretty good considering the severe drouth.

Bert Blodgett who has been interest in the lumber business near Traverse City, is expected home soon.

Locomotives on the D., Gd. H. & M. R. R. set fires almost daily, and many dollars damage has already been done in the destruction of hedges. Some pieces of meadow have been damaged by the fires beyond redemption this fall.

MAXWELL.

"Yes," said Mrs. Liberal, "I hate those Straiters, they are so awfully bigoted; but they needn't be so stuck up about their religion. The liberal faith is gaining fast, and it won't be many years, I guess, before we can be as bigoted as they are."

The old tramp who was a "Michigan fire sufferer" last summer will go on the road this spring as an "Ohio flood-sufferer." He thought once he would have to appear as a "Java earthquake-sufferer," but the floods have fortunately rendered this rather far-fetched excuse unnecessary.

New Yorker (who has been "stuck" more than an hour) with intellectual young lady from Boston). "You say that you despise New York men. Then why do you come to New York, and why do you go to New York parties?" Young lady from Boston: "For a complete intellectual rest."

"Pa," said a little boy to his father on their arrival at St. Louis, "I didn't know people in this city had wings." "Wings? Certainly not," replied the father. "Then what are those things that stick up so high?" "Hush, my boy," said the father in an undertone, "you mustn't speak so loud. Those are ears."

"Remember, sir, that you owe something to your constituents," said one member of our city council to another. "Humph!" said the other, "if you owe anything to your constituents, all I've got to say is that you're lucky. Why, there are not a half dozen voters in my ward that have not borrowed money from me."

A contemporary asks: "How shall women carry their purses to frustrate the thieves?" Why, carry them empty. Nothing frustrates a thief more than to snatch a lady's purse, after following her half a mile, and then find that it contains nothing but a recipe for spiced peaches and a faded photograph of her grandmother.

"Come, sorrow, smooth my brow and kiss my lips and lay thy gentle hand upon my heart," sings the poet. The courting of such a dismal maid betrays a bad case of dyspepsia or a woeful lack of invigorating exercise. A poet with a sound body would find joy a more cheerful and attractive maid.

Undertaking Continued BY KYNAST BROS.,

We the undersigned, desire to make known to the public that we have recently purchased of Mr. I. W. Lyons, his entire Undertaking Business including Stock, Tools and Hearse, Mr. Lyons retires from business, his past friends, succeed. Having now two well established Businesses in one, we anticipate a large trade. We have therefore reduced prices on Coffins and Caskets, thereby giving our patrons the benefit of the combination. Those two businesses combined, make a Fine Business, which really belongs together, especially in a country town, as experience for running the two branches of the business are but little more than they would be for one branch only. Our experience in the Undertaking profession has been of six years practice, and constant study to improve and perfect the business in all its branches, and making it one of first class in every respect. Many have been the improvements and accompanying practical suggestions made by our patrons, which we appreciate, and we certainly may add be useful at our Undertaking Department on Main street, and we will show you them. We now furnish parlor clothing chairs at each funeral free of charge for the convenience of mourners and friends. We also attend to the laying out of bodies and preparing them by the ethel treatment, the Rochester method, N. Y., the best method in the world. Call and see what we can do. Service satisfactory to every patrons. And now thanking our friends and patrons for the liberal patronage bestowed on us in the past, we hope to merit a continuance of the same in the future.
