MICHIGAN NEWS RECORDS IN BRIEF ITEMS.

Sensational Story of an Abducted Boy, an Alleged Murder and a Missing Farmer —Michigan Superintendents of the Poor in Annual Convention.

A Mysterious Case.

Sheriff Vosburg, of Kalamazoo, received a letter from Sheriff E. T. Cable, of Fort Wayne, Ind., stating that he had Joseph Watson under arrest on a charge of refusing to care for a boy he had with him. The boy claimed he was stolen from his home at Midland, and forced by the man to go with him. "The boy says Watson killed a man near Vicksburg and buried his body in the woods and threatened to kill the boy if he told of the crime. The boy's name is Geo. Bowen.

A telegram from Midland says that the parents of Geo. Bowen knew the boy was with Watson (alias Stivers) but supposed the man was taking good care of him. The Bowen family is in poor circumstances.

Another light is thrown on the matter by a dispatch from Vicksburg which says: Myron Reese, who lived about three miles southeast of Vicksburg, started a week ago for Parkerville with a load of peppermint oil to sell. He received in payment a check on the Mendon bank for $60.75. He then drove to Mendon and left his team in a barn, went to the bank, drew his money and has not been seen since. It is thought that Reese was the man killed by Watson, as related by the boy.

Later.—The Vicksburg murder sensational has completely fallen through. George Bowen, the 10-year-old Midland boy who was brought from Fort Wayne to locate the place where the body of the supposed victim was buried, now admits that he was lying, and that he did not see Watson, alias Stiver, kill anyone, but says that Watson told him he had killed a man there. As to Myron Reese, who disappeared, it transpires that he was heavily in debt, had mortgaged his farm and having obtained money left the country. The Bowen boy will probably be sent to the reform school.

Superintendents of the Poor.

The twenty-third annual convention of the Michigan superintendents of the poor was held at Mt. Clemens. The opening session was devoted to routine business, and the reports of the superintendents. At the second session Charles Holman, of Corunna, read an interesting paper on "Tramps," and it was followed by an earnest discussion. Judge Robinson, of Lenawee county, made a strong plea for the tramp, and Dr. Jenks, of Detroit, talked about the causes of that same well-known character, and urged the bettering of a great class of children who became criminal because of contact with crime. He also urged the necessity for a law to compel the state to care for all slightly diseased and feeble minded. Eli Bidelman, of Lansing, talked upon the subject of "Municipal Charities." He was followed by A. J. Murray, of the State Public school, at Coldwater on "Poverty's Children." The evening session, after an address of welcome by the mayor, listened to a paper by Prof. F. D. Clarke on "What Our State does for the Blind." and Mrs. Lucy M. Sickels, of the Industrial Home for Girls, took as her subject "The Michigan Girls in Blue."

The second day's sessions included the reading of several papers, discussions and the annual election of officers. One address was by Mrs. A. L. Cavanaugh, "mother" of the Industrial Home for Discharged Prisoners, at Detroit. Officers elected: President, Dr. J. F. Finch, Lansing; vice-presidents, G. W. Teeple, Livingston county; secretary, T. W. Roberts, Macomb county; treasurer, Oscar Fox, Montcalm county. Coldwater was selected as the place for holding the next meeting.

German Catholic Societies Meet.

The forty-first annual convention of the German Roman Catholic Central society met at Detroit. The first feature was the celebration of a pontifical high mass by Rt. Rev. Bishop Richter and a sermon on "Catholic Citizenship" by Rev. Bernard J. Wermers. At the opening business session President Adolph Moeller, of Racine, Wis., delivered his annual address which showed the society to be in a first-class condition. Among the other features was a grand sacred concert and one of the largest parades of the year in Detroit. Officers reports showed a total membership of 47,500. The reserve fund is now nearly $1,000,000. During the year $295,000 was paid out in sick and death benefits. The Michigan bund held their annual meeting at the close of the larger convention.

A Depraved Man Suicides.

Some time ago J. G. Bragg, a wealthy citizen was jailed at Harbor Springs, charged with criminal intimacy with two little German girls. During his incarceration Bragg has made no attempt to get bail, although he was undoubtedly able, but has remained in a stupor bemoaning his condition. Finally, while the jail officers were setting up a stove in the main corridor, Bragg slipped by them and passed through the village to the dock, less than half a mile away. He tied one leg to the railing of a pleasure yacht, in order to be sure of hanging head downward and jumped into three feet of water. He was not missed till locking up time, and then when found at 1 a. m. life had been extinct several hours.

Tried to Kill His Wife and then Suicided

Homer Chase, a young farmer of Rollin, Lenawee county, quarreled with his wife while they were driving on the street, fair at Hudson and ended the matter by shooting his wife twice and and then sent a bullet through his own head. He died a few hours later, but Mrs. Chase will probably recover. The young couple were evidently happy and were well liked, but Chase had been drinking considerable lately.

Joseph Rudler, an old veteran living five miles southwest of Shepherd, was found dead on the road near his home.

Dr. J. Wetmore is held without bail for trial in the Allegan circuit court for complicity in the murder of Enos Lawrence at Holland last spring.

The Twenty-third Michigan infantry held its annual reunion at Olivville. There were 120 veterans of the regiment present.

During horse races at Elsie, Ray Dournie, aged 17, tried to cross the track but was knocked down and perhaps fatally injured.

The Salooms Must Go.

The first convention under the auspices of the Michigan Anti-Saloon league was held at Lansing. The sessions were presided over by W. Rox, of Grand Rapids, who explained the object of the congress to be the consideration of means and lines of work which had for their objects the effective suppression of the saloon. He explained that the anti-saloon league was entirely non-political and non-sectarian, its only participation in politics being to support the candidate of any party provided he was in sympathy with the objects of the league. On the contrary no one who is hostile to the objects will be supported for any office, no matter to what party he belongs. Rev. Howard H. Russell, of Columbus O., the father of the anti-saloon movement and national superintendent of the work, spoke at length on the origin, purpose and methods of the league. A number of other speeches were made. A permanent state league was organized with the officers: President, W. R. Fox, Grand Rapids; secretary, H. S. Jordan, Lansing; treasurer, C. W. G. Overhart, Jackson. Board of trustees, Bishop W. X. Ninde, Detroit; A. M. Prodie, Manistee; L. R. Fiske, Albion; John L. Jackson, Dan. P. Bradley and W. D. Fuller, Grand Rapids; D. F. Barnes, Ionia; John Robson and L. C. Blodd, Lansing; Geo. F. Mosher, Hillsdale; J. J. Slaine, Owosso; C. C. Fuller, Big Rapids; A. Gaylord Slocum, Kalamazoo; W. S. Frye, Traverse City.

Serious Fire at Traverse City.

The factory of the Oval Wood Dish Co., at Traverse City, caught fire and the departments devoted to the manufacture of oval wood and wire and butter dishes was totally destroyed. The loss will be about $10,000; insured for $5,000. The engine room, however, was saved with all the engines. The value of the machines was about $10,000; building, $2,000; stock in the factory valued at $2,000 was also destroyed, besides other valuable apparatus, making a total loss of about $30,000. The saw mill and clothes pin and washboard factories were saved by the work, also the warehouses, which contained $30,000 worth of finished stock. This is the largest factory of the kind in the world and employs 300 hands. 200 of whom will now be thrown out of employment until the factory can be rebuilt. The loss was covered by insurance and the company will rebuild at once.

Fatal Freight Collision at Powlerville.

Two freight trains came together on the G. R. & I. railroad at Powerville in a head-on collision. The eastbound freight stood on the main track at the station, the understanding being that the westbound train was to pass on the siding. The latter did not do this, however, but came along at the rate of 20 miles an hour, and crashed into the standing train. Engineer Frank Frost, of the eastbound flight, whose home was in Ionia, was killed. His fireman, Fred Williams, jumped, but his leg was broken in two places, and he was scarcely expected to live. Engineer Henry Bailey, of the westbound train, living in Grand Rapids, and his fireman, W. Arnold, of Howell, were quite badly injured, but will recover. Both locomotives and two cars were badly wrecked.

Gloomy Prospect in the Gogebic Range.

Unless the ore trade picks up at once, so the mines can dispose of their surplus stocks before the close of navigation, there is little prospect of the resumption of mining operations on the Gobebic range in the upper peninsula until next spring. This means at least six months of idleness for a majority of the population. Some of the miners, however, profiting by their sad experience during the winter of 1893-4, have saved up their money, and will be able to tide over the winter. Scores are leaving for the farms and mines of the west. Only six mines on the range, the Sunday Lake, Palms, Newport, Aurora and Montreal, are running, and they have reduced forces.

NEWS FOR MICHIGANDERS.

Fire in Fletcher's restaurant at Traverse City threatened a large section of the city, but a rain helped the firemen to get it under control. Loss $1,500.

A scaffold broke down at the central school building at Allegan throwing three workmen 25 feet to the ground. Jan Verhey had his arm broken twice.

The annual reunion of the soldiers and sailors of the Northwestern Association of Michigan was held at Shepherd and the attendance was large.

Christopher Willis, a farmer near Constantine, drank hard cider, quarreled with his wife, and then hanged himself. He leaves a widow and three children.

Fred B. Read, 19 years of age, hanged himself in the woodshed of his father's house, 33 Linden street, Detroit. He had quarreled with his father and brooded over this.

The twenty-fifth annual reunion of the Eighth Michigan cavalry and Battery H. of First Michigan Light artillery was held at Holly, with about 100 members in attendance.

A. S. Boyd, a stranger who arrived at Saginaw from Cincinnati two months ago, died suddenly at his boarding place. His home was Macomb, Ill. It is thought he was a suicide.

Macomb and St. Clair county soldiers and sailors marched "on to Richmond" (Mich) where they held their annual reunion and had a fine time. A dress parade by 200 vets was a feature.

Lansing is now without street car service. The city insisted that the company pave between their tracks, but the company preferred to forfeit its franchise and stopped the cars.

The Ingham County Soldiers' and Sailors' association held their twenty-second annual reunion at Mason. The city entertained the "boys" in splendid style. Judge Cooley made a speech.

The Battle Creek guards were inspected by Inspector-Gen. Walsh and Adjt.-Gen. Green who complimented the members on their appearance and signified their intention to make Co. D, Second regiment, M. N. G.

The latest attempt, which was by Milwaukee parties, to find the steamer Pewabic, which sank in Thunder bay off Alpena with a cargo of copper during the war, has been abandoned after spending a large amount of money.

On Grand Encampment creek, about 45 miles southeast Rawlins, Wyo., A. H. Huston and Ben Cullen, at a depth of 12 feet, have, it is claimed, found a vein of gold, 3 feet 6 inches wide, which assays from $200 to $10,000. The vein has been traced for several mines. There is great excitement.

An Ohio Southern freight jumped the track at Limestone street, Springfield, and six cars of merchandise were telescoped, and several cars crashed into the N. Y., P. & O. freight house and Mr. Scott, a clerk escaped with his life by jumping out of a second-story window. No one injured.

FROM MANY POINTS

NEW ITEMS OF VARIOUS KINDS BRIEFLY RELATED.

British-Egyptian Troops Make a Successful Attack Upon the Khalifa's Followers and Take Possession of Every Point Including Dongola.

The city of Dongola, the stronghold of the dervishes against whom the British-Egyptian expedition was started down the Nile, has fallen. The river forces of the British-Egyptian expedition, pushing up the Nile from El Hafir, landed a force at Dongola and occupied that place before the dervish forces retreating from El Hafir and reached that place. El Hafir and Dongola are therefore both in the hands of the expedition, while the dervish forces are somewhere between seeking a refuge.

Gen. Sir Herbert Kitchener's expedition, consisting of 15,000 men, headed for Dongola and Khartoum, met with no opposition and did not meet the dervishes until Kerma, 30 miles from Dongola, was reached. Several halts were made at points above Kerma, as it was thought the dervishes would give battle at that place, which is just above the third cataract of the Nile. However, the dervishes evidently became alarmed at the strength of the British-Egyptian force and retired from Kerma after only feeble resistance. The British river gunboats did good work and the field batteries continued to force the dervishes from one position to another until they fled to El Hafir. The British gunboats, however, steamed rapidly for Dongola, hoping to arrive there before the dervish forces. The program worked out so well at Kermh was repeated at El Hafir and the dervishes retired under cover of night, having suffered heavy loss. No mention was made of the steamers and gunboats had reached Dongola and had landed a force which immediately occupied the treasury and the grain store, the principal stronghold of the town. The news was received by Gen. Kitchener's force with a great deal of pleasure, as the enemy is supposed to be marching between Dongola and Berber, and has hampered condition by reason of the number of their wounded and their retreat along the river bank threatened by the steamers, which can destroy at any moment the food supplies stored at Dongola, if they cannot hold that place against the retreating forces of the dervishes until land forces of the expedition have advanced to overpower them. The engagement at El Hafir seems to have altogether disappointed the dervishes, who placed great confidence upon the fact that it was their first victory.

The native residents of El Hafir welcomed the appearance of the British and Egyptian expedition and seem to regard their occupation which brought a deliverance from the rule of the khalifa and the Baggaras, the khalifa's native tribe, who have exercised a cruel dominion over the Nile tribes. Wad Bishara, the dervish commander, was wounded at about noon during the fight at El Hafir and was immediately carried out of range of the fire and repeatedly exclaiming to those who surrounded him: "Allah is against me." He was able to remove his guns but he was forced to leave behind a great quantity of ammunition for both the artillery and the rifles. A dervish steamer was sunk by the expedition's horse battery, and was said to have been loaded with ammunition and guns.

It is the general impression that the dervishes will not make any further stand. It is evident that Wad Bishara had brought up all his effective force from Dongola, intending to make a stand at El Hafir. Even if he is able to recover Dongola from the force of the expedition which now is occupied it, it is not considered possible that he should make a stand there against the advance of the combined land river forces.

Ex-Congressman Ashley, of Ohio, Dead.

Hon. James Ashley, of Ohio, ex-congressman, and territorial governor of Montana, died at the sanitarium at Alma, Mich. He has been lying very low for several days. He was one of the most prominent congressmen during the war and was a personal friend of President Lincoln. He was a prominent railroad magnate, being long connected with the Ann Arbor railroad.

NEWS ITEMS IN BRIEF.

Fire destroyed the Galena house at Baraga with a loss of $1,000. The entire town was threatened.

The officials at the Lake Angeline mine at Ishpeming have been advised by the Cleveland-Cliffs iron co. to cease to close down the mine Oct. 1. This will throw out over 500 men. The inability of the company to raise money is given as the cause.

Union coal miners in the Pittsburg district have voluntarily lowered the scale from 70 cents to 54 cents to meet non-union competition and now Ohio operators demand that their men work for 45 cents. The Ohio miners will probably refuse and trouble may follow.

The steam barge Lizzie Madden, with consorts Noquebay and Manitiee, of Bay City, lumber laden, and Duluth to Tonawanda, ran in at L'Anse for shelter. The Matinee lost her foremast and 900,000 feet of lumber, also her forward bulwarks. Off Copper Harbor, she is water-soaked, and will be unloaded and taken to the drydock. The fleet with cargo is owned by Capt. Thomas Madden.

The two-year-old smash-up on the D., L. & N. railroad at Okemos. The westbound freight, a long train, took the siding, but two cars trailed back on the main track and the men were run into by the eastbound freight, running at a high rate of speed. The fireman and engineer jumped and escaped injury, but the locomotive and two freight cars were demolished, and several other cars badly wrecked.

After deliberating five hours, the jury in the James Appleyard murder trial at Chebogan returned a verdict of manslaughter in the second degree and recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the court. When the final arguments were given many of the audience shed tears. Appleyard shot Dan Sullivan for wronging a woman whom Appleyard afterwards married, and consequently he has much sympathy.

The four weeks' work of the quinquennial session of the Michigan state board of equalization for the valuation of all of the property of the state for the purpose of taxation has been completed. The board has increased the valuation of most of the upper peninsula counties, and particularly the lumbering and mining counties, making a total reduction of $50,380,000. Wayne county, however, is increased $15,000,000; Kent, $2,500,000, and several other counties smaller amounts making the total increase $23,400,000, leaving a net decrease in the state of $24,900,000.

THE TURKISH SITUATION.

All Europe in a Nervous Condition Over the Probability of a War.

Only a short time ago it looked like a certain prospect of England plunging into land in deposing Abdul Hamid II., "the sick man of the east," the semi-idiot sultan of Turkey, the bloody incubus brother of innocent Christians, who whenever the time has come to bestow upon the reigning monarch of the Turkish empire. But the horizon has changed now and the Russian bear may be seen in the distance interposing his ugly bulk between the British lion and its intended prey. The situation may be summed up something like this:

The announcement was made that Great Britain intended to prevent any further massacre of Armenians by the Turks and would take steps alone, if none of the powers would support her, to depose the sultan. Not one of the powers signified their desire to help in the project, so Great Britain gathered a great fleet of war vessels at the mouth of Dardanelles ready to execute her threat and the Turks seemed thoroughly cowed for the time being; the sultan's party being so completely alarmed that a portion of the guard at the Yildiz palace, who had been paid been awaiting a chance to foment a rebellion, thought it their opportunity and attacked the palace. After a hard fight during which 700 persons were killed the rebels were forcibly disarmed in the presence of a large body of troops and were replaced by five Sensible battalions. Then Redran Pasha, governor of Constantinople, was dismissed and the sultan's brothers were arrested. The Young Turk revolutionary party took advantage of the disturbed situation and posted in Constantinople with cards inciting the people to dethrone the sultan. Serious trouble seemed certain and it was considered as good as settled that the sultan's reign was about to be ended. In England the press and people seemed pleased at the prospect, but on the Continent there was an ominous silence.

Suddenly all this was changed. Rumors of Russian support of the sultan became rife and soon the whole continental press was turned against England, and finally a semi-official announcement was made that Russia, while not outspoken in her defense of the sultan, will resist any attempt to depose Abdul Hamid II. At the present time the Russian fleet in the Black sea is preparing for active work, so as to be ready at a moment's notice to proceed to the Bosporus. The Turkish forts on the Dardanelles are to be put in a better state of defense under the direction of Russian officials.

In this emergency, the influential London papers, particularly the St. James Gazette and the Chronicle, propose a new remedy for the trouble—a new triple alliance. The St. James Gazette says: "We are hopelessly entered with Joint, hostile European action if we interfere (in Turkey) against the will of the powers. But, there is a combination which would, by mere mainship might effect. Two states which have little to gain from Russia could act with us and end the tension. Italy and Austria and Italy are both understood to be friendly to Russia. Nevertheless, neither is yet too deeply involved to be able to assume an independent attitude under British guidance. Why should not England, the United States and Italy form a new dreibund? Alone of the nations of the earth, the people of the United States are free from hostility and the impulse which would drive Englishmen to war in order to suppress tyranny or rescue the oppressed. Plenty of Americans would regard with enthusiasm the spectacle of the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes floating side by side in the Bosporus to back up their joint demand. It might be expected that the Russian combination would go to pieces at the mere aspect of this genuine league of peace, and that the new dreibund might lead to a fresh grouping of the powers and the delivery of Europe, both from Turkish misrule and the dangerous thraldom of Russia into which it is sinking.

New York Silver Democrats.

The silver convention of New York Democrats held at Buffalo indorsed the Chicago silver platform and nominated a silver ticket, thus making it a contest for the gold standard Democrats will hold another convention and nominate a sound money ticket. Chairman Rockwell in his opening speech talked for silver and then roasted M. A. Hanna. The report of the committee on resolutions was an unqualified indorsement of the Chicago platform, and pledges unwavering support to Bryan and Sewall. After a force created by Delegate Purroy, who cried out against gag law, the platform was unanimously adopted. The Albany county delegation presented the name of John Boyd Thacher for governor. Allegheny county presented Congressman Sulzer. Jefferson county presented Wilbur F. Porter. On call of the roll Thacher was nominated, and it was made unanimous. Elliot Danforth moved the nomination of Wilbur F. Porter for lieutenant-governor. Judge Porter was immediately nominated by acclamation. Robert G. Titus was unanimously nominated for judge of the court of appeals. Presidential electors were chosen and the convention adjourned sine die.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

There is still no distinct improvement in business, though conditions favor it, but it comes slowly; rises, speculative buying of materials for future use continues, imports of gold do not cease and the Bank of England has not yet checked them by further advance in rates, as the weight of the demand has ceased. It is plain that as customers for business is held back until the future is more clear. In cotton, wool and pig iron buying openly speculative in character, and the current business is light, yet prices, although western receipts exceed last year, are kept up by speculation, and the heavy Atlantic exports have also increased. Corn has advanced, as western receipts are very small, and exports small. The net stability, showing increase of mercantile failures, the cotton manufacture, restriction of spinning secured a better adjustment of some goods. Most of the mills have started or are about to start, though the uncertainty in cotton market embarrasses them. Wool is practically unchanged and the outlook is not bright. The iron and steel manufacture is still waiting for business with nearly half the productive capacity idle, but hopefulness and the speculative buying of pig iron sustain prices.

The annual reunion of the army of West Virginia was held at Gallipolis, Ohio.

A TRUSTY EMPLOYE

FOR MORE THAN THIRTEEN YEARS MRS. HOFFMAN HAS BEEN SUPERINTENDENT OF SPRING & CO'S CLOAK DEPARTMENT.

From the Democrat, Grand Rapids, Mich.

One of the most familiar faces in Spring & Co.'s great emporium at Grand Rapids, Michigan, is that of Mrs. Lottie S. Hoffman, superintendent of the cloak department. For more than thirteen years Mrs. Hoffman has held this position and during that time she has made the acquaintance of many thousands of people, and her kind and obliging manner has won for her among the patrons of the firm the confidence and esteem of many.

Mrs. Hoffman was attacked down with rheumatism. In less than one week from the moment of the first attack she had lost the use of her limbs and in relating to a Democrat reporter her condition at that time, she said: "My feet were swollen so large that it was difficult to tell whether there were toes on them or not. From the knee to the ankle the limb was swollen to twice its natural size and the pains suffered cannot be described. Then began a long course of medical treatment. First one doctor was tried and then another, making only a dreadful succession of failures, not one of them succeeding in even giving temporary relief. In fighting the awful malady extravagant inroads were made on the little earnings laboriously saved of toil, frugality and economy had brought together, for while the doctors were unable to cure they were excessive in their charges.

Worn out, suffering and exhausted she gave up the struggle and waited the end, believing that death alone there was relief. Hope had gone and all new remedies were looked upon as a useless expenditure.

It was no easy matter to induce her to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but to satisfy a friend she began taking them, and in speaking of the result she said:

"The very first doses of Pink Pills that I took did me good. I felt very light, in three days I felt like a new woman, and in just one month they transformed me from a physical wreck into the same healthy, happy woman I had been before. I cannot say too much for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, they have been a blessing to me and to others. It is now two years since they cured me and I have not felt a return of the disease. I resumed my work here immediately after being cured and have not lost a day due to the disease. Dr. Williams' pills will cure the worst kind of rheumatism."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give life and new vitality to the blood and restore shattered nerves. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

HEEDLESS WOMEN,

They Pay a Sad Penalty for Their Neglect.

If women only heeded first symptoms—nervousness, backache, headache, lassitude, loss of appetite and sleep, palpitation, melancholy, "blues," etc., and at once removed the cause with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, there would be much less suffering. But they are careless, or their physician is to blame, and they drift into some distressing female disease. Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound at once removes all irregularities of the monthly period; inflammation, ulceration and displacement of the womb, and all female troubles. All druggists have it. Write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., if you wish for advice, which she will give you free.

"I should not be alive to-day, if it had not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was suffering greatly from a prolapsus, from general weakness, and nothing I had tried could give me relief; when by the advice of a friend I began the Compound, after using it two months I felt as I was a different girl, and now at the end of six I am entirely cured."—Mrs. Annie Kirkland, Patchogue, L. Bad Case of La Grippe Quickly Cured.

All Dangerous Consequences Avoided.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure Does the Work.

It Acts Like Magic—Speedy and Permanent Cure' the Result.

PNEUMONIA PREVENTED.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the nature of the case it was necessary to prescribe the very best and most speedy cure. From our advertisement of Shiloh's Consumption Cure and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form. Its use has proved a paying investment—through a thorough and speedy cure—to us and we are sure all who use it according to directions will find it to be what we claim. Shiloh's remedies are all good—at least that is the reputation they have earned here.—THE EAGLEVILLE, VIRGINIA, N. J.

The great danger from the grip lies as well as a severe cold is from its tendency to result in pneumonia. Shiloh's Consumption Cure prevents this.

Mitchell's Castoreal

HOW IS IT MADE?

It is made in this manner: Wormseed, Pumpkin Seed, Senna, Alexandria, Rochelle Salts, Potassium Bi Carb., Anise, Wintergreen and Peppermint all mixed together in the most scientific manner according to therapeutics. This delightfully agreeable preparation we have designed for use in most cases of children where medicine is needed. Its composition renders it absolutely harmless and our skillful preparing makes it pleasant to take. Contains no opiates and is a certain cure for constipation, disordered stomach and the many little ailments arising from improper feeding or other causes. Aids digestion, corrects sour stomach, regulates the bowels and allows rest for the child when other means fail. Full directions accompany each bottle. It is unquestionably the best thing for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. It is unknown to anything which is absolutely safe, pleasant to take, and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Don't

fail to give the best Cough Syrup yet discovered a chance to cure that disagreeable cough, and that is Mitchell's Compound Syrup of White Pine.

The remedy for curing Consumption, Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains or Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs. If you this you will know that this medicine is composed of the active principles of roots and plants, which are chemically extracted so as to secure the best medicinal qualities.

Its action is expectorant, alterative, endorific, sedative, diaphoretic, and diuretic; which combined make it one of the valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the mucus which clogs and damages the secretions and fouls the blood, heals the diseased parts, gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It is warranted to produce a favorable reaction even in the most confirmed case of consumption. It is warranted to contain no opium in any form and to be free of alcohol to hurt or produce costiveness. It is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child, and is one of the safest and powerful remedies for restoring the system.
