'TWEEN THE LAKES.

MICHIGAN NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD FOR MICHIGANDERS.

The Naval Reserves Take Their Annual Cruise—National League of Republican Clubs in Convention at Detroit —Uncle Sam Remembers the M. N. G.

Michigan Naval Reserves at Work.

The Michigan Naval Reserves—comprising 86 officers and men—embarked upon the U. S. steamship Michigan at Detroit for their annual cruise through Lake Huron. Gov. Pingree, accompanied by Col. Eli R. Sutton, Inspector-General Case and Adjt.-Gen. E. M. Irish, of his staff, also went on board and was given a bugle salute, while the entire crew stood at "attention." The governor found it inconvenient to accompany the reserves farther than Port Huron, however, and it was probably well for his appetite that he disembarked there, for scarcely had the Michigan steamed into Lake Huron than it began to "rough up," and the 36 hours spent in getting to Mackinac Island was a time for serious contemplation and study upon the frailty of the elements on the part of a number of the amateur tars who experienced the rather unpleasant feelings of the "mal de mer." The boys were put through a good "course of sprouts" including gun practice, deck scrubbing, brass polishing, etc. Then to counterbalance the hard work they were given shore leave and a dance was held in their honor at the Grand hotel at Mackinac Island.

Republicans From Everywhere.

Detroit, the star convention city of Uncle Sam's domains, has just entertained another mighty throng. Over 5,000 visitors were attracted to the city by the annual convention of the National League of Republican clubs. Of course the principal feature of the convention was the speeches and the election officers, but this was enough to maintain a lively interest. Gov. Pingree delivered a rattling address of welcome in behalf of Michigan, the state where the Republican party was born; Col. H. M. Duffield welcomed the delegates in behalf of the City of the Straits; and E. N. Dingley, of Kalamazoo, offered a welcome in the name of the Michigan League of Republican clubs, of which he is president. Then President D. B. Woodmansee gave the annual address to the league. Other speeches were made by Hon. Charles Emery Smith, of the Philadelphia Press; Hon. Webster Davis, assistant secretary of interior, and ex-Senator Arthur Brown of Utah.

Orangemen Celebrate at Port Huron.

The 207th anniversary of the battle of the Boyne was celebrated at Port Huron by Orangemen of Michigan and western Ontario in an elaborate manner. Over 20,000 visitors thronged the streets and about 8,000 were in the parade, which marched to Pine Grove park where appropriate exercises were held. W. J. H. Traynor, of Detroit, was marshal of the day and chairman of the exercises which were opened by Mayor Boynton with one of his characteristic speeches of welcome. It was responded to by State Grand Master C. H. Lloyd. Other speeches were made by well-known Michigan and Canadian Orangemen. After the speaking athletic sports were the order of the day, and were largely attended. The celebration was conceded by all present to be the largest ever held in the state, and although the crowd was large, there was no disturbances whatever.

A Murder Near Ionia.

Moses Walker, a bachelor, who lived two miles west of Ionia, opposite the state house of correction, was shot and instantly killed by Wesley Bennett, a farm hand on an adjoining farm. Bennett had been keeping company with Lydia Vivian, Walker's niece, and they had just returned from the city. The woman jumped out of the buggy just as Walker came out into the road. He ordered Bennett away, having previously objected to his presence, and is alleged that he threw a piece of brick at the horse. Bennett refused to go and drew a revolver from which he fired three shots at Walker, all of which took effect, the third striking the heart. Bennett skipped home and was changing horses, apparently for flight, when the sheriff arrested him. Bennett was promptly arraigned and his examination was set for July 22, the justice refusing to allow bail.

New Supplies for the State Troops.

Quartermaster-General White received from the war department for the Michigan National Guard two carloads of supplies, including caps, blouses, overcoats, leggings, tents, ammunition, etc., 50,000 rounds of ball cartridge being included. Each of the 3,000 caps will be embellished with crossed rifles and the company and regiment designation, made in one piece of gun metal, which will retain its brightness. On the 19th inst. Quartermaster-General White and his assistant, Lieut.-Col. Smith, will take a force of men to Island Lake to prepare the camp for the boys.

The Montcalm county poorhouse near Greenville was entirely destroyed with the exception of the barns. The 51 inmates escaped uninjured and were safely quartered in the barns. Manager Wood rescued three women from an upper room and had scarcely reached the ground when the walls fell. The loss is about $10,000.

B. C. Wright, a farmer eight miles north of Coleman, was awakened by his dog and heard someone in the chicken coop. His wife held a lamp while he started to investigate, but several shots were fired and Wright and his wife went back into the house. Mr. Wright then went out alone and set the dog on the intruders, when suddenly several more shots were fired and Wright and the dog both fell dead.

Some of the prominent dailies of the state tried to create a sensation by declaring that the question of providing for a general revision of the state constitution would not be submitted to the people in 1898 as the recent legislature took no action upon the matter. The constitution, however, provides that the subject shall be submitted every 16 years and as it was last voted on in 1896 it will come before the people in 1898 without legislative action.

About 40 delegates attended the national retail furniture dealers' convention at Grand Rapids. Over 100 buyers attended the exposition, mostly from the west, and larger orders were placed than at any time since 1893.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effect following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention THE ECCENTRIC, and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

WARM WEATHER SECRETS.

Water as hot as can be borne will take the sting from sunburn, then cold cream will heal it.

Rye flour dusted lightly over the affected parts is the greatest possible relief to those who suffer from prickly heat.

Frequent washings in warm water to which a little alum or a teaspoonful of vinegar has been added is a good remedy for uncomfortably moist hands.

A good toilet water should always be on hand in warm weather. A few drops of eau de cologne or violet water in the water used for washing will be found not only very refreshing but very sweetening.

A lump of magnesia is a blessing to those women whose faces shine from heat. Just rub the lump lightly on the glowing surface, allow it to remain on a short time and wipe off lightly. This will not clog the pores like face powder.

Powdered borax stirred into the warm water used in the proportion of one teaspoonful to a quart will keep the skin clear, white and soft and prevent excessive perspiration. No toilet table should be without a jar of it at this season.

Unless naturally curly, your beauty locks will straggle unbecomingly in damp weather or when hanging on a perspiring forehead; but if before doing them up they are wet with a very weak solution of gum arabic and warm water they will stay very much longer.

SMILES BETWEEN SERMONS.

Aunt—What would you say if I should say that you were my favorite nephew?

"There's not another bit of firewood on board," roared the steamboat engineer. "What's the matter with the log?" inquired the landlubber.—Philadelphia North American.

That Stern Revolt—"You belong to the Order of New Women, don't you, Miss Biggs?" "Yes; but don't call us that; the new woman won't stand being ordered."—Chicago Record.

Chamberemaid—Last evening Monsieur took me for his wife. Cook—Ah! He kissed you, I suppose? "Not in the least! He called me names and made a terrible scene."—Le Figaro.

Freshy—Professor, is it ever possible to take the greater from the less? Prof. Potterby—There is a pretty close approach to it when the conceit is taken out of a freshman.—Indianapolis Journal.
