HOME NOTES.

PERPETUAL NOTICE
You will please notice date after your name on papers and contracts. If you have your subscription expired, if you have your subscription expired, if you have your subscription expired.

There will be a special communication of the Board of Birmingham, Monday evening, Dec. 4th, 1882. Work on the Mark Register; a full attendance is desired. J. B. Jones, Sec.

Mr. Chas. Castle has been very sick with typhoid fever for the past few weeks, but at present is improving. Will Castle has also been very sick with the same disease but is recovering.

Prof. W. C. Hewitt will give a lecture on "Modern Evolution" at the Baptist Church on Wednesday evening, Dec. 6th, for the benefit of the Ladies Aid Society. Admission, 10c.

Our old friend Sam'l Holman is doing a thriving business in the harness business in his new shop, corner Townsend and Bates streets. He is a little out of the way, but his old friends find him out.

Mr. J. C. Brooks, of Southfield, has a brood mare for sale. Read his ad in this column.
Mr. John James, of Detroit, brother of M. J. James, made us a short, pleasant call last week.

Miss Ellen Randall and her mother are visiting friends at Owosso and other parts of the state.
The body of Frederick Zimmerman was lately found at Mt. Clemens with his feet fastened to the wall.

Richard Murray, one mile east of the Royal Oak burying-ground, has a number of fine stores for sale.
What are you going to have—turkey, chicken or oyster? We think we will scrape the gold—skin oyster.

John Boyd, treasurer of Troy township, will receive advertising notices in Birmingham, Whitehead & Mitchell's, every Thursday; and at Ike Peckham's, Big Beaver, every Friday.

S. P. Thompson and wife, old friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Huff, with their children, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Sawyer, and their grand children, S. Sawyer and wife and their daughters, all take Thanksgiving dinner with the Huff family. Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Huff and wife. We venture to say that the Huff house is the only dwelling in the family indulging in turkey this day.

For the past three weeks we have heralded the coming of a grand concert by Prof. Rainey and class. We understand that the concert did not take place on Wednesday evening of last week as previously announced in these columns, but as we had given our last quarter to the institution, and our other sympathies were not forthcoming, of course we could not attend and consequently are unable to say whether Rainey did actually give a concert or not. Said course of action may be profitable to Mr. Rainey, but it looks to us like "leaving at the signal and wasting at the post."

The B. D. G. held at National Hall on Friday evening of last week was well attended, and like its predecessors was a most enjoyable affair. Not the least of the interesting features of the evening was the brilliant display of the "Ladies' Aid Society" given by the ladies of the B. D. G. who were very quiet and orderly class of entertainment, and are a most desirable form of amusement.

James Emmond, who has been a long time in the employ of Hugh Irving, a hardware dealer of this village, was on Thursday last the recipient of a valuable watch and chain. This testimonial was presented to him at the store of J. A. Higley by Rev. Mr. Middlemire, who in a very appropriate manner told the reasons which induced the friends of Mr. Emmond to make the donation. The latter briefly responded, thanking his donors for the gift. He will receive credit for the same time present of the cloth for a dress. We learn that Mr. Drew, of this village, is entitled to much credit for his services in the cause of education. We say to continue: "As long as his watch continues to beat time, don't go back on your friends."

This popular drama will be presented at Liberty Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 1st, by the best amateur talent. The following is the CAST OF CHARACTERS:
