A Dressmaker's Experience.

DEAR SIRS—As Mr. Hilmine, the druggist, told you, I am a great friend of your remedy. I recommend it as a decide fer ing the past twelve years. It carried me safely through the critical period of my life without a relapse day, and I find great things for me in many ways.

I am a professional in where I see a case that needs it, I always do, sudden didly, often accomplishing more than you have ever claimed for it, and I tell anyone who I see, I can, that I do not personally know the cases.

I now consider myself well, but I work hard at my business—dressmaking—and when I am tired and nervous a small dose of Zoa Phora quiets and rests me. I almost wage love to those

Yours truly,

As Rich as Croesus.

Philadelphia (Pa.) Item, January 31.

Eli Zaneis a lucky man.

He has just drawn a twentieth of the second distribution of the Louisiana State Lottery, and finds himself the possessor of $5,000. He cannot contain himself for joy. Eli lives at 1304 Thompson street, and he was sensible and lucky enough to buy a quarter of a dollar in ticket No. 12,122 in the Louisiana State Lottery. That ticket entitled him to the prize, and the news accompanied to Mr. Zane immediately after the drawing, threw him into great excitement.

He did not feel quite like a rich man, however, until he got the money into his hands. Then he began to imagine that he could buy up the whole earth.

"Am I happy? he replied to an Item reporter who dalied up him. "Well, I should smile! Why, I'm as happy as a man who gets $5,000 for 25! Why I feel as rich as Croesus. I think I will buy a quarter ticket if I continued investing in the Louisiana State Lottery."

Question of Woman's Sphere.—Domestic man—Dignity Faith: She would be much happier at home with little children. Sweet man—Practical friend—"But think of her singing a baby to sleep with a $5,000 a night voice."

Physician (to Mrs. Col. Blood, of Kentucky)—"How did your husband pass the night, Mrs. Blood?" Mrs. Blood—"He seemed quite comfortable, sir, and asked for water several times." Physician (with a grave look) —"Hm—still flighty."

Mrs. Smiten—"Bobby, you bad boy, have you been fighting with Tommy Stimson again? Dear, dear! I shall have to get you a new suit." Bobby —"That's nothing, ma. You ought to see Tommy Stimson. He has may have to get her a new boy."

Most women have.—Caller—"How old is your sister, Johnnie?" Johnnie—"Belle? O, she has two ages. One in the Bible; that's 21, the other is in the one she tells people. Belle (suddenly appearing with terrible emphasis)—"Johnnie, mother wants to speak to you."
