A Word About Kerosene Oil.

We have made a careful study and analytical test of the several qualities and kinds on hand and after experimental tests we have decided that we will sell the best Michigan Test Water White Kerosene Oil which is the Centennial Brand of the Greenlake Oil Co. for only 10c per gallon.

Then if you want the very best Pennsylvania Water White Oil, no smoke, no smell, no danger, no white scum over your chimneys, no trouble at all use the National Light Oil. Uncle Sam occupies a prominent place on every barrel of National Light Oil. If he is not there, the oil is not genuine. Try a gallon only 15c. In lots of five gallons or more 14c per gallon.

If you want the best, ask for and insist on having National Light Oil. As sell free from lime. The other oil is full of it.

Yours for a good trade,

The old reliable D. G. H. & M. R'y is the only road out of Detroit that caters for the suburban passenger traffic. No other road runs a train out of the city for accommodation of suburban travelers and no other road gives its people so low rates of travel or so many conveniences as the "old reliable." We are glad we live on this line and wish this accommodating factor of travel all the best luck in the world.

As we go to press Tuesday evening the sad news reaches us of the death of Andrew Bean father of the boy Frank who died last week, of smallpox near Clawson. Two more sons have the disease and considerable adverse criticism of the way the disease is handled by Royal Oak authorities is heard on all sides. We trust the trouble will not be allowed to spread.

"George H Mitchell has received his commission from Grover the great, as postmaster at Birmingham. In his moments between juggling the mail Mitchell edits the Eccentric—does a good job, too, runs a bank and a general store. When he wants a little exercise for his health, he goes fishing."—North Side Gazette. True, brother. Come and join in with me and I'll show you how to lift 'em.

About twenty years ago Prof. J. K Davis taught our Birmingham school and with good success. Since then he has been out west teaching with the best results, but becoming tired of this work for a change he has engaged himself with the Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Detroit, a first rate company and one that offers all the advantages of modern life insurance. He may call on you and if so give him a favorable audience and no doubt he can do you (or your heirs) a power of good.

"Our old friend George H Mitchell, editor of the Birmingham Eccentric, banker, real estate man, and proprietor of a general store, has been appointed postmaster at that city. Glad to hear it. George is a good boy."—Oakland County Advertiser. Nay, James, if you don't stop talking about me like this there will be trouble sure. Why don't you jump on me with both feet for stealing bodily many a choice, interesting item from the Oakland County Advertiser?

General Wm. Booth, the head of the Salvation Army of the world is a wonderful man. He arrived in Detroit, remained forty-two hours and preached five impassioned sermons to large crowds of delighted hearers. Rev. Jesse Kilpatrick had the pleasure of hearing the General last Monday afternoon and says: While he is not a fluent orator he is a born organizer and leader and a very sympathetic speaker. The Detroit papers are filled with columns of praise for the General for he is a good man.

When anybody dies, gets married, runs away, steals anything, builds a house, makes a big sale, or whips his man or his wife—or gets whipped himself, breaks a leg or gets the senses knocked out of him by a mule, or does anything that is in any way remarkable, and you have reason to believe you know as much as anybody else does about the occurrence, don't wait for some other person to report it or trust this paper to find it out by instinct, but come and tell us about it, or send a postal card, or hired girl over. This is the way news is supplied and it takes a goodly amount of that necessary article to make a good home paper.

The new postage stamps are now being sent to the offices throughout the country. The stamps are the same size and general color and design as the old red two cent stamp. The color is lighter, being a light rose that looks at first sight as if the new stamp was one of the old ones washed in the rain for twenty-four or forty-eight hours. The vignette of Washington is the same and the numerals and lettering are unchanged. The only new feature in the design is a triangle in the upper corners, where on the old stamps the back-ground was plain. The new stamps were not favorably received, for the color is one particularly trying to the eye, and they are very poorly gummed.

Mr. J. K. Stevenson, of Port Huron, a large carriage and cart manufacturer, although a staunch republican and an enthusiast over the result of the late election, told Richardson, the blacksmith man, that he never had a better year nor made more money than the year just closing—that he had forty hands all the time, sold all vehicles he could make and made good money. Mr. Richardson handles goods of his manufacture and they are first-class in every respect. See Freeman for particulars. Mr. Stevenson was accompanied by Mr. Boynton, also of Port Huron, another g. o. p. man and both gentlemen were so exhilirated that they walked into Childs' milk house and ate for an hour and a half waiting for the train to start. Query: What did Richardson give those fellows to drink?

The following is the list of jurors, drawn on the 8th day of November, 1894, to serve at the December term of Circuit Court, for the County of Oakland, to be in attendance on said Court at the Court House in the city of Pontiac, on the 4th day of December, at 8:30 o'clock in the forenoon: Groveland, Wm. J. Buckle; Highland, Charles Yarrington; Holly, Daniel Cady; Independence, Walter Whitefield; Lyon, Chas. Ellis; Milford, George Barton; Novi, John Becker; Oakland, Jasper Hixson; Orion, Frank Gregory; Oxford, Sylvester Johnson; Pontiac township, George A. Giddings; Pontiac, 1st ward, William H. Dawson; Pontiac, 2nd ward, Albert Freegard; Pontiac, 3rd ward, James G. Buchanan; Pontiac, 4th ward, Conrad Hoffman; Pontiac, 5th ward, Geo. Malcaim; Rose, Henry Fillingham; Royal Oak, Charles Allen; Southfield, Caleb Jackson; Springfield, Charles Miller; Troy, Eli Phillips; Waterford, Walter Whitfield; West Bloomfield, William Richardson; White Lake, Wm. Gorman.

Last Thursday night was an eventful one for George P. Robinson, son of Wm. Robinson, who was given the 3rd degree of Masonry by Birmingham Lodge No. 44 in royal shape, after which he was escorted down to his father's home where he was married to Miss Emma Farber, of Forestville, Mich., Rev. Jesse Kilpatrick officiating. Accompanying him from Detroit were a number of his friends who were already inside of the mystic circle and who enjoyed seeing George get "in it." Among them were our old acquaintances Messrs. Brooks, Sly and Dillon, members of the craft whom we have met before ourselves in Ashlar Lodge of Detroit. A light repast was served by Birmingham Lodge after which at his home Mr. Robinson became a Benedict in short order in Rev. Jesse Kilpatrick's best style, which is short form and a very easy one for candidates for matrimony. Among those present were Mr. Larkins, of Detroit; Mr. Chas. McKay and wife, Mr. W. B. Carter and wife, Mr. W. N. Fall and wife, Mr. Al Hutton and wife, Mr. F. W. Simpson and wife, Mr. M. H. Buel and wife, A. McBride and wife and a number of young friends from Detroit. We as well as George's many friends wish the young couple all the joy possibly to be had in the matrimonial state.

We were reading a rale good old Irish story in Romance one day last week and it referred to old maids as "stale girls," an expression in common use in "Erin go brough" land. Now in this country it would be considered very ungentlemanly and ungracious to address any of our unclaimed blessings as such, and we would be the last ones to refer to or speak slightingly of one of the "fortune ladies." (If you don't believe they are fortunate go ask all of your lady friends who are yoked.) But to get back to biz. One of our Birmingham unclaimed blessings informed the medical editor of this paper that on a winter's night if he would take a rubber hot water bottle to bed with him instead of a flatiron, he would find it much pleasanter on general principles; and she further said just before crawling in she slid it all around the bed, a la ancient warming pan style which warmed the bed as comfortable as could be wished and then slept with it at her feet all night. In the morning the bag furnished plenty of warm water for the morning toilet and through the night if one wished a hot toddy the water was on hand as well as feet. Say, Whitehead & Mitchell, sell hot-water bottles cut price from $1.50 to 77 cents each, and they hold three quarts of water each. Try one.

For over two years now Mr. P. H. Childs has been buying milk from our farmer friends and they have found him prompt and punctual in all his payments, able and willing at all times to make good any contracts, agreements or promises that his local agent, Mr. H. Hamlin, makes and in every way have found that their business relations with Mr. Childs has steadily improved upon acquaintance. Starting in the business of buying milk here, on the very start he was met with obstacles that would have worn out and discouraged any one else, has persistently kept pounding away until he has won success. A large tract of land has been leased from Jno G. Wilson with ample frontage for shipping both by rail and teams, and with a milk house with plenty of room, the business is going to be greatly extended. Mr. Childs will make pure ice cream and furnish it in any quantity, sells milk and cream both wholesale and retail, and is bound to please his patrons, whether they sell him milk or buy from him. Everybody knows H. Hamlin and a better man Mr. Childs could not find in this state to look after his interests here. Schools, churches, societies or anyone wishing cream or ice cream should call on Mr. Hamlin for low prices and prompt action. See advt. in another column.

How a Prohib Candidate Valued His Time.

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 16.—Some would-be congressmen place a very low estimate on the value of their time. T. C. Williams, the prohibitionist candidate in the sixth district, in a sworn statement filed with the secretary of state yesterday, gives his total election expenses at $10 45. Of this amount $2 25 represented hotel bills; 10 cents for postage; 10 cents stationery, and $8, two week's time at $4 per week.—Evening News.

WONDERLAND.

A good show is promised at Wonderland this week. Mirth, music and the miraculous are all included in the programme. Nelson, Levanion and Nelson on the slack wire, trapeze, horizontal bars, etc., combine comedy with a thrilling performance. They dress up as monkeys and Chinese. Their apparatus is represented to be improvised in a Chinese laundry, and the act is entitled "The Monkeys' Havoc in a Laundry." Maggie Willett and Harry Thorpe will cause another spasm of laughter, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tooley, in a roaring comedy afterpiece entitled "An Up-Town Flat." G. Fate Byers will dance and give acrobatic specialties on a high wire. The California operatic vocalists, T. Wilmot Eckart and Miss Emma Berg, will add to the programme with selections from favorite operas.

In the bijou theater the attraction is Kitaro and Otsuas' royal troupe of Japanese. Of this performance the features are Kitaro's high wire slide, Miss Otsuas' sword walking and Kitaro's perch and dancing barrel act.

William LaRoy, the man who drives calls with his fist, and Senor E. D. Garcia, the Spanish instrumentalist, who plays the pottery, an instrument with twenty strings, mentioned in last week's issue, will be features in the curio hall.
