A few words from a new firm at an old stand:

We have purchased the Garage business formerly conducted by W. Nichols, and will be pleased to have motor-car owners come in and get acquainted with us and our prices.

We handle or will get any accessory in the auto line at the lowest possible prices.

We also handle a full line of Dope, Greases, Oils, etc., for differentials, transmissions, and all other motor-car parts requiring lubrication.

In regard to Repair Work we have installed a complete line of tools for this class of work and feel that we can therefore guarantee all work of this type of work.

We have also installed a Half-Ton Truck, with which we can do light trucking at a reasonable rate. Watch next week's paper for Tire prices.

If it's a new house or barn you expect to build,
The "brand-new firm with the brand-new shed"
Can supply all your wants and fill the bill.
Does your old house leak? Does it need a new roof?
We have the Shingles or Patent Roofing complete,
If a new porch or room to your house you would add,
Just call on Lawson-Erb—you'll never be sad.

No matter what your house is like,
If it's old or new, or if your roof does leak,
You surely need Fuel, I think;
Lawson-Erb Lumber Co. handles Coal and Wood,
And if this you would buy, you could
Keep warm I'm sure.

We would be pleased to talk with you about Roofing. We have the very best. Call and talk with us on the subject.

Responsibilities of Citizenship.

The duties of citizens are not fulfilled so long as there is a single hovel in which a man, woman, or child sleeps or a hungry, uncared-for child is to be found.—Exchange.

HENRY HOWLAND

The LOST HONEYMOON

A year ago I used to see
Her walk beside him to the train;
Their fingers were entwined and she
Was very beautiful—ah me!
I sighed to be a groom again.
The footlight danced within their eyes,
They parted with heartfelt good-byes,
And, turning back her lonely way
To wait and wonder through the day,
Her tender bosom shook with sighs.

At length he went alone—'twas o'er!
Their blissful days forever past;
She fondly clung to him no more—
What joy would lovers have in store
If honeymoons might always last!
I saw him go day after day
And missed the glad looks and the gay,
Sweet laughter and regretfully
Recalled the artless graces she
Had shown along the happy way.

This morning I beheld him close
A door behind him and descend
The steps that gleamed in marble rows—
And then he turned!—Ah, Cupid knows
The honeymoon is not the end!
She stood inside the window there
And held with sweet and tender care
A baby up, that he might see—
How glad a world this world can be,
How good its ways are and how fair.

MERE OPINION.

Some men are more anxious to be heard than to be respected.

Few people under the age of forty are satisfied with the names their parents gave them.

Every man has a gift of some kind, but the trouble with most gifts is that they have no market value.

Nine men out of ten would rather find $100 worth of gold in an old pot than to have written "Paradise Lost."

A woman never can understand why a man buys a new derby hat that, as far as she can see, is just like his old one.

The woman who worries over leaving her children to the care of a nurse doesn't get very far into society nowadays.

A man who can sit and fish for six hours at a stretch without a bite would get all out of patience if he had to mind the baby ten minutes.

METHOD IN HIS MADNESS.

"Why do you keep on living in this old-fashioned town?"

"It's all my husband's fault. I can't get him to move into a city that's up to date. You see he wants to be where there are lamp posts to hang to while resting on his way home in the morning."

Anti-Snobbery.

"It makes me sick the way some people who pretend to be American slip over whenever anybody with a title happens to notice them. Why should we take any more interest in a duke or a prince or a duchess than—what's that crowd running for?"

"To see the duchess of Binglewash, I guess. I heard she was to ride past that corner at about this time. Hey, where are you going?"

"To see the duchess. Come on."

When a Baby Comes in Handy.

The drills with which mosquitoes bore, that seldom trouble me;
I go to sleep at night to snore
As calmly as can be.

Let others worry if they must,
And to destroy them strive—
Our little baby's plump and just
The sweetest thing alive.

Diogenes' Luck.

"After all, Diogenes was lucky."

"Why?"

"If he were living today how could he judge with that old tub of his to keep out of the way of the automobiles?"

As Usual.

"They say he has so much money he doesn't know what to do with it."

"Yes. And he isn't doing it."

Betrayed Himself.

"What made them suspect that she was a woman masquerading in man's attire?"

"The lawyer was the first to advance the theory. Every time she had a codicil tacked upon her will she referred to it as a 'P. S.'"

Under False Colors.

"And you say he was no true son of Kentucky?"

"No, sah! The papah says he died of wasah on the brain. He was an impostah, sah!"
