

BOTH SIDES.

A man in his carriage was walking along... I saw a woman with her hair...

DRIFTING WITH THE TIDE.

The river flowed smoothly and peacefully along... Over mountains...

A faint light shone from the sky... The night was a shimmering now...

Again her head bowed under her weight... "Hush! let us think."

Whitely and momentous though the matter... "I must have been dreaming."

Some of the pieces of wood were four... "I must have been dreaming."

Some of the pieces of wood were four... "I must have been dreaming."
