this you will know that this medicine is composed of the active principles of roots and plants, which are chemically extracted so as to retain all their medicinal qualities.

Its action expectorant, tonic, alterative, sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic, and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It relaxes expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucous, changes the secretions and excites the vessels of the body to a healthy action. The Syrup, when taken into the stomach, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing Cough in a few hours' time, if of not too long standing. It is warranted to give relief in fraction even in the most confirmed case of consumption. It is warranted to contain no opium in any form and will not affect the head or produce costiveness. It is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system.

Foresters of America Hold the Grand Court of Michigan at Fort Huron—Serious Accident at a McKinley Celebration at Muskegon.

The Foresters of America.

The delegates to the grand court of Foresters of America at Port Huron participated in a parade on the opening day. Mayor Boynton welcomed the grand court and speeches were made by Grand Chief Ranger James E. Little, Grand Secretary Robinson and others. The second day was devoted to organization and routine business.

The election of officers resulted: Grand Chief Ranger, John Doney, of Hancock; grand sub chief ranger, Dan Thomas, of Pontiac; recording secretary, J. Hoskins, of Ironwood; grand treasurer, Harry Hooper, of Port Huron; grand medical examiner, Dr. W. S. Henderson, of Port Huron; senior warden, F. W. Feneley, of Pontiac; junior warden, F. Gusdorf, of Ironwood; senior beadle, J. Vivian, of Lake Linden; junior beadle, W. Lefebre, of Red Jacket. The next grand court meeting will be held at Hancock on third Tuesday in June, 1898.

At the annual reunion of the Seventh Michigan infantry at Bronson J. T. Spillane, of Detroit, was elected president; Stephen Dawson of Dundee, secretary, and Alex Navarre, of Monroe, historian. The next meeting will be held June 16, 1897, at Dundee.

Soldiers Badly Hurt.

While celebrating for McKinley and Hobart several Muskegon Republicans were badly hurt. Some one threw a dynamite bomb fire cracker into a trolley car of jollifiers and it exploded between the heads of F. J. Addison, secretary of the Muskegon Pingree club, and Aid. Fred J. Reynolds, manager of the opera house. Addison was knocked insensible, his clothing torn from his leg and he was carried into a saloon where he slowly recovered his senses. Reynolds was taken home with his face bleeding and torn. Comd. G. Gray received four large burns on the leg, and when he called at the doctor's office his shoe was filled with blood. J. J. Howden was struck in the head; scalp cut.

McKINLEY, OF OHIO,

HEADS REPUBLICAN TICKET.

SILVER KNOCKED OUT.

Proceedings of the National Republican Convention at St. Louis—Delegates of New Jersey, for Second Place—Silver Men of Western States Bolt.

The convention was the enthusiastic convention of the Republican party at St. Louis was not auspicious as to results, the silver men, and the proceedings. Convention hall is a magnificent pile of brick and uglis ness when viewed from the exterior, but the interior is admirably suited to the purpose for which it was put (depending, with the exception of acoustics. For it was enough nigh impossible to follow some of the speakers with small voices. There were probably 15,000 in the galleries the delegates within the walls of the building when the national committee, called for order at 11.26 p.m., on the gavel fell. The usual hymns and commotion followed as the delegates and audience settled down. Rabbi Sale came forward and asked the Almighty to bless the work of the convention, which Chairman Carter introduced the prayer of Rabbi Sale. Chairman Carter introduced the secretary, John H. Manley, of Illinois, who called the convention, after which Chairman Carter introduced the prayer of Rabbi Sale, Indiana, as temporary chairman. That gentleman proceeded to rip up silver, which was a strong and forcible statement in support of the Republican Democratic administration, and in which he declared the country was ready for free silver. Loud applause. Mr. Carter next presented the permanent chairman of the convention as recommended by the national committee, and Mr. Henry C. Hansbrough, Charles W. Johnson, of Minnesota, secretary; Frank Dixon, of Montana, Harry H. Smith, of Michigan; A. M. Humphreys, of Kansas
