This is no time for noise, fireworks and empty celebration. Let us make our Independence Day observance one of sober and heartening discussion of the problem of our great democracy at war. Let us prepare for service rather than make the eagle scream. This, in brief, is the wish of Governor Albert E. Sleeper, as embodied in an informal Fourth of July proclamation issued today in the form of an interview from the executive office.

And still it rains.

Employees of the Michigan State Telephone Company have taken practically all of the $250,000 Liberty bond subscribed to for them by the company. With reports still incomplete, it is evident that the telephone employees fully come up to the estimate made by George M. Welch, Ceneral Manager, as to the part they would take in the Liberty Loan. The number of employees subscribing will exceed 3,700 says Mr. Welch. The part taken by the girls of the operating department is especially gratifying. The young women responded liberally to the call of the government. Many decided to make some sort of sacafice in order to enable them to spare the money for a Liberty Bond. The total bond subscripoion of the telephone operators amounts to $87,000. Subscriptions of employees in the central group of Bel companies, to which the local organization belongs will reach a total of $70,0000 according to late estimates. These subscriptions are in addition to the $5,000,000 taken by the Bell System. The majority of subscriptions taken by employees were for bonds of the $50 denomination, indicating the demand was largely from small investors.
