CHEATED THE GIBBET

FOUR LIVES JACK BRADFORD HAS UNDER ITS SHADOW.

Has Been Sent to a Madhouse—An Ignorant Country Boy, He Was Hired by His Brother and a Woman to Commit One of the Blackest of Deeds.

(Special Letter.

Four times within the shadow of the gallows in a year, Jack Bradford, perpetrator of one of the most fiendish crimes ever recorded in Missouri, has been snatched from the jaws of death each time only to be at last put in the asylum for the insane at Fulton, a living mockery—the—[illegible] upon which he was to expiate his bloody deed still stands, a reproachful reminder of what might have been.

Jack Bradford, [illegible] he was hired to do, was the man he killed. He didn't even have the excuse of poverty. He took a room free for an insignificant and inconspicuous $[illegible] cash, a pony and a bottle of whisky, some of which he was ever given time to enjoy. He was a hired man and his own brother was his employer.

Will Bradford, aged 35, was employed by his father and hired by Lee Holt, 65 years old, who lived in the lower Blackwater neighborhood, [illegible] miles from Cooterburg, Mo. He was honest and respected and quite well to do. His second wife, Mattie, was 21 years. She was rather good looking. Jack Bradford worked in the lowlands where he was a single man just coming of age, 21 years old. [illegible]

JACK BRADFORD.

[illegible] Holt and Mattie Holt, appealed for relief from their difficulties. With most diplomacy it was suggested that he remove the old man. With the reputation of the man he was asked to endeavor to do it for [illegible]. Given the permission, Jack Bradford [illegible] would [illegible] given [illegible] $[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [
