GROVES-ANDERSON.

A Very Pleasant Wedding, Thursday Evening, Oct. 25.

As early as five o'clock in the afternoon of Thursday of last week, Oct. 25, the guests began to gather at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson in Troy to witness the marriage of their only daughter, Anna A., to Martin Groves, of Royal Oak. Besides near relatives and neighbors there were quite a few present from Detroit and other places. 120 guests in all.

In the sweet strains of the wedding march played by Miss Nettie Shelard, the bridal party entered the spacious parlor and took up their respective positions. Amidst the room had been made an arbor of evergreens and ferns and here the ceremony was performed by Rev. Montrose Maxwell, of the United Presbyterian church of this place. Prominent in the solemn words that made the young couple man and wife. The bride was handsomely attired in blue silk with white silk trimmings.

After supper, which was served in a manner so much like the gods and quite pleasant conversation, we had to leave the happy twain to receive congratulations, first before the departure of the guests for their home, two miles beyond Troy, and subsequently we were all up and a piece given to each guest to be taken in.

The happy couple were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents among which were silver ware, glass ware, several rockers, bedspreads, table linen, etc., which show the high esteem in which the young people are held by their many relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Groves will begin housekeeping near the bride's old home, where a new and modern house has recently been erected for them. That their lives may be long, happy and prosperous is the wish of all who know Mr. and Mrs. Martin Groves.

Grand Republican Rally.

The largest political demonstration held in Birmingham since the memorable campaign of 1888 was seen here Tuesday evening, Oct. 30, 1900. The local McKinley and Roosevelt Club, accompanied by the Pontiac Club, gave a grand torchlight parade and for a time at least the town was awake to the fact that there was lots of enthusiasm when it is aroused.

After the parade the people filed into the Library Hall to listen to Col. O. A. Janes, of Detroit. After a short introductory speech by John Hanna, the Colonel delivered one of his interesting and able speeches. He gave a fair explanation of all the issues of the campaign as viewed from his standpoint and everybody present was deeply interested. He paid a grand tribute to the veterans of both wars and in his closing remarks kindly asked them to vote for his party. After cheers had been given for the party candidates the meeting adjourned.

Visitors were present from Big Beaver, Royal Oak, Clawson and Southfield. Nearly all of the republican county candidates were present with the large delegation which came to our Pontiac. The displays of fireworks was a grand sight and in no way marred or injured property destroyed, as was the case in other that preceded. About one hundred in all could not get into the hall and were very much disappointed. During the parade the Pontiac band furnished appropriate music.
