URGE PATRONS TO COOPERATE IN YULE RUSH

States, or the United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and the Canal Zone it is 20 cents for each half ounce or fraction of a half ounce.

Second Class — Newspapers, magazines, and other periodicals containing notices of second-class entry, one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof, except when the postage at the rates prescribed for fourth-class mail is lower, in which case the letter rates apply.

Third Class (limit 8 ounces)—Circulars and other miscellaneous printed matter, including Christmas cards sent in unsealed envelopes and bearing no unauthorized writing, also merchandise, 1½ cents for each 2 ounces; books (including catalogs) of 24 pages or more, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions, and plants, 1 cent for each 2 ounces; bulk lots of identical pieces of third-class matter may be mailed at special rates under conditions which may be ascertained from the postmaster.

Fourth Class (over 8 ounces) Merchandise, books, printed matter, and all other mailable matter not in first, second, or third class.

Regulations Listed

To aid local mailers as to regulations covering address, packing, wrapping, enclosures, etc., Postmaster Byrne has listed the following information:

Address — Address all matters plainly and completely in ink, giving street address or box or rural route number, whenever possible. Place sender's return card in upper left corner of address side. Tags should not be used unless necessary, in which case a copy of the address and return card should be placed inside the parcel for identification if tag is lost.

Packing and wrapping — Pack articles carefully in strong, durable containers. Wrap parcels securely, but do not seal them except when bearing a printed label or indorsement, reading: "Contents, merchandise — Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary," together with name and address of sender, as sealed parcels not so labeled or indorsed are subject to postage at the letter rate. The name and address of the sender may be handwritten or typewritten on the labels.

Limit of size—Parcels may not exceed 100 inches in length and girth combined.

Limit of weight—The limit of weight of fourth-class or parcel-post matter is 70 pounds for all zones, including Manila, P. I., but parcels for other places in those islands (except Iloilo, Cebu, Zamboanga, and Baguio, Mountain Province, for which the limit is 44 pounds) may not exceed 20 pounds.

Permissible additions and enclosures—Parcels may be marked "Do not open until Christmas," this being permitted in order to encourage early mailing.

Written greetings, such as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With best wishes," and names, numbers, or symbols, for the purpose of description, may be enclosed with third- or fourth class (parcel-post) mail. Books may bear simple dedicatory inscriptions not of a personal nature. Other writen additions subject parcels to letter postage.

Do not enclose letters in parcels, as doing so would subject entire parcel to letter postage. Communications prepaid at the first-class rate may be sent with parcels prepaid at the third or fourth-class rate by securely attaching the envelopes containing the letters or other written matter to the outside of parcels. (See art. 56, p. 16, July 1936 Postal Guide.)

Seals—Christmas seals or stickers should not be placed on the address side of mail.

Special handling — fourth-class matter only — Parcels of fourth-class matter indorsed "Special handling" will be given the most expeditious handling and transportation practicable (but not special delivery) upon payment, in addition to the regular postage of the following charge: Up to 2 pounds, 10 cents; over 2 pounds up to 10 pounds, 15 cents; over 10 pounds, 20 cents.

Special delivery—The prepayment of the following fee on second-, third-, or fourth-class mail entitles it to the most expeditious handling and transportation practicable, and also entitles it to special delivery at the office of address.

Where to mail parcels—Ordinary parcels, 8 ounces or less in weight may be mailed in street letter or package boxes, at all classified stations and branches and at such numbered stations as are designated to receive parcels. Parcels weighing over 8 ounces cannot be mailed in street boxes. Parcels containing meat, food products, cut flowers, or other perishable matter, should be mailed only at the main post office or one of the large classified stations.

THIS AND THAT

as one man's contribution to the cause of international peace.

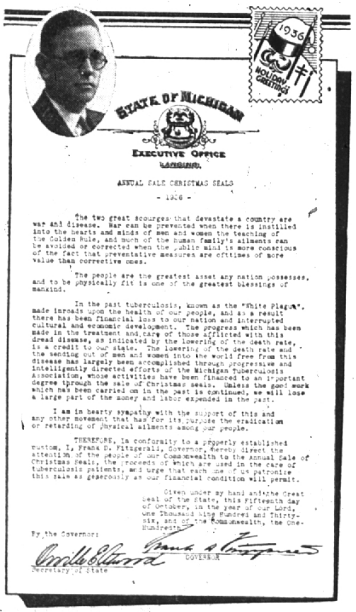
You who are parents have more than a year's subscription to The Eccentric at stake, I assure you. You may have the very life of one or more of your prospective soldiers at stake! Do you think it worth the little bother of following my suggestion — doing something that you can think of to assist in mentally disarming the world?

I don't know how far this suggestion may go, or how many will be moved to do something about it; perhaps some group within this area may get behind the plan; perhaps there may be evolved some sort of society whose slogan may be "I'm Working for Peace," and who will be given little badges with some fitting inscription engraved thereon. Have you some suggestions on the subject? I know that many Birmingham and nearby people are vitally concerned with having the world keep peace. Will some one, or some group, gather them together and launch my suggested program of international letter-writing? — and start in motion a plan that may extend beyond this area? I'll gladly give, to such a movement, a hundred dollars to get things going in this direction.

Once mankind stood in the midst of savagery, in a physical environment that was limited to the rawness of a cave or a cliff, since then he has used his head and his heart to bring him to his present physical comfort and security; he can make the same progress in the realm of human relationships if he will really tackle the job, as a job! Are you, who read these lines, willing to bend your shoulders to the wheels that slupport our vehicle of civilization, and help to push it out of the mud and mire of present international misunderstanding, hatred, intolerance, and ignorance?

The honeymoon is over when "hubby" begins to think of her as expensive instead of dear.

Buy Christmas Seals Urges Gov. Fitzgerald



URGING THAT Michigan people make a generous purchase of tuberculosis Christmas seals this year, Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald has issued the official proclamation reproduced above. More than 60,000,000 of the tiny seals are being distributed in the state this year by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and affiliated organizations. Funds raised will be used to carry on the fight against the White Plague that has been waged by the Association since 1908. The sale opens officially on Thanksgiving Day and will continue through to Christmas.

UNIQUE SHOW TO AID COMMUNITY HOUSE FUND

third life-size puppets of Punch, Judy, the baby, policeman and other classic characters, as well as circus performers, animals, dancers and others. Automobiles, airplanes and circus wagons roll along the stage, all worked from below. The play is written to give many trick marionettes an opportunity to show off. And has an abundance of laughable lines and situations, arising when Punch attempts to manage a circus and succeeds in doing so.

This production, has been designed and produced by Paul McPharlin, director of the Marionette Fellowship of Detroit, and is one of the few American companies to be housed in a theatre of its own. Mr. McPharlin has taught a special course in puppetry at Wayne University for the past four years, has edited an international yearbook of puppetry, the seventh volume of which is about to appear, and organized the first American puppetry conference in Detroit last July. His work is nationally known for its artistry and use of new puppet devices, and "Punch's Circus" his latest production, he considers one of his best plays to date.

Mr. McPharlin has been interested in marionettes for over 15 years. He designs his own puppets in his studio here, and, with his assistants, he costumes them according to the parts they play. He has made over 150 puppets and in "Punch's Circus," he will exhibit about 24 of them. He has assembled a private collection of many interesting foreign and antique marionettes and only the past week he received from Mexico a rare set of 18th Century marionettes representing a friar, bull, and several bull fighters and adaptable to a miniature arena contest.

Edward Johnson and Bertram Gable are the two puppeteers who will be behind the scenes when the circus appears at the House. Among the cast will be a set of seven dancers, trained seals and ringmaster, Susie, the elephant, the Dionne Quintuplets, a clown and tumbling traffic officer, and, of course, Punch, Judy and the latter's baby Judy Jr.

METROPOLITAN DE MOLAYS ATTEND VESPER SERVICE
