Au education that makes a boy Kenny, Adams & Co., nd, stand higher than geniu

the end, stand higher than genue. The young man who has not gono bed discouraged many times, the ung woman who has made no sacrices for her education, will have ne more of intellectual strength than ann weld of physical strength who and walked all his life on crutches. A new interest is being taken in the youn by the members of the reload-and most of the historical work do school is being done Monday ev-ex. At the last meeting "Frankli is the subject. There were essays olife, quotations from his works a his life, quotations from his worl a general exercise on his life writings. The subject for the meeting is "Washington Irving"

Our rebooks to not need more from an or Greek, more fatory releases of rhetoric-but a dieper, better knowledge of the English alanguage. Surrounde by libraries filled with good book there is among the young men or women no close acquaintance with the best entillable writers. This for comes parily from the suffer of the start of the st energy, stick-tc-it-iveness and more s'amina. We believe with the of fogles--that pride of character is bette than goology, that a spigt of work is better than a love of Latin, and the economy and perseverence are bette than thetoric or botany.
