

EDUCATIONAL COLUMN.

CONDUCTED BY PROF. W. C. HAYDT.

The next Teachers' association will be held at Charleston, S. C., on March 17. These subjects will be discussed: Relative Importance of Orthography, Analysis of Words, Diacritical Marks, Spelling a Science, Art or Institution? Effect of the System on Spelling, Address by I. W. Morely, Discussion of Address, Query Box, County Institute, etc. Reduced rates will be given on all railroads.

The following pupils of the high room were perfect in department for the week ending March 2: Marjorie Young, Emma Young, Della Cannon, Robert Buel, Ida Brayman, May Eldred, Hallock Gibbs, Nell Reynolds, Charlie Buttrick, Eliza White, Minnie Waldman, Mary Lee, Lillie Bell, May Park, E. H. Broughton, Myra Covert, Frank South, Dora Beatty.

It is often alleged as an example of decline of interest in national and educational questions, that public meetings are not largely attended. We do not share the fear of cause that this presages a national weakness, but the interposition of a higher power. Thirty years ago when patriotism was in its prime, the public meetings were the chief means of instruction and such centers were conducted with remote places more easily than the present public gatherings with immediate local points. The educational institutions are not needed to carry on the work as they were in the past, generally attended, and the decline of professional interest. The benefit to be derived from associations is a matter of opinion, but the managers of state institutions have assumed the authority of compelling an attendance by setting a premium on the attendance at the meetings, and the honor teachers to be present who do not receive pecuniary proportion to the time and money spent. At the same time, the public meetings are not held for another reason than that it is not seem to be the time on the occasion of the State association that the best teachers are to be met, and they are not held for the same reason as they were in the past, and they are not held for the same reason as they were in the past, and they are not held for the same reason as they were in the past.

THE TEXAS KING OF SPIES. The other night a lady named Mrs. Leane, living on E. Pecon street, was in the act of taking a drink of water when a spider sprang and fastened on her upper lip. So tenaciously did the venomous insect cling that Mrs. Leane had to pull it until she managed it before she could pull it out. In less than fifteen minutes the lady was unconscious. She suffered terribly and was still in a very precarious condition at the time of last account.

To Our Patrons:

A little over a year ago we bought an interest in the clothing business with C. R. Mabey, under the name of Bird & Hamlin, and we take this method of thanking our many friends for their liberal patronage. We have tried hard to do everything in our power to please, and the trade we have had is sufficient guarantee that our efforts have been appreciated. On the first of January we bought Mr. Mabey's interest in the business, and we shall endeavor to keep our stock full in all its branches, and you will always find our prices as low as the lowest. We do not allow any over-pretensions to sell goods, and our prices are the same to a child as to an adult for the same article. Again thanking you for your liberal patronage, and soliciting a continuance of the same, we are, Respectfully yours, BIRD & HAMLIN.

Now is the time for Bargains in Dry Goods at AXFORD, STOCKWELL & CO'S, Pontiac, Mich.

WALL PAPER. We shall take our annual invoice the 15th of March and as we are anxious to reduce our stock as much as possible previous to that time, we shall offer bargains in all departments.
