Throat Coughs

A tickling in the throat; hoarseness at times; a deep breath irritates it;—these are features of a throat cough. They're very deceptive and a cough mixture won't cure them. You want something that will heal the inflamed membranes, enrich the blood and tone up the system .·. .·. .·. .·.

Scott's Emulsion

is just such a remedy. It has wonderful healing and nourishing power. Removes the cause of the cough and the whole system is given new strength and vigor .·. .·.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair Street, Columbus, Ohio, was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters, with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs mean powerful creatures. NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

Whitehead & Mitchell and Cobb & Cobc Tell of the Remarkable Success of Pepsikola Tablets in Relieving Indigestion.

After selling all kinds of remedies for dyspepsia and indigestion we can truthfully say that we never knew anything to give such universal satisfaction as Pepsikola Tablets. They not only aid indigestion but they act as a grand nerve tonic as well. Many Birmingham people who have not enjoyed a good meal for years now say that after using one or two 25-cent boxes of these little tablets they feel as if they could eat a horse and digest it too.

Whitehead & Mitchell and Cobb & Cobb have been recommending this grand dyspepsia remedy for nearly two years now, and from actual experience know there is no other remedy so sure to relieve sour stomach, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, palpitation, sleeplessness, wind belching, and other distressing symptoms of indigestion. And Pepsikola Tablets must cure you or there is nothing to pay. They will relieve your energy, steady your nerves, regulate the action of your heart, improve your appetite, put new life in your stomach, and will do more to tone up and improve your general health than anything you ever heard of.

MR. MAKINBRAKES FALLS OVER HIMSELF AGAIN.

Mr. Makinbrakes was endeavoring to put the caller at his ease.

"Bless me, Mr. Glizzard," he said, "you mustn't think you are disturbing anything or anybody by dropping in. No; indeed; I wasn't going out. I had planned to stay at home and have a quiet, restful afternoon. That is—er—I wasn't going anywhere. I can rest, you know, just as well when—in fact, I was getting kind of bored with myself, and would have been glad to see almost any—although, of course, one would rather meet a friend than—and I'm not referring to you—certainly not—just in a general way, because there are fellows, you see, who have a habit of coming in unexpectedly—I mean other fellows, you know—when a man feels that he would prefer to be—won't you take off your hat, Mr. Glizzard?"—Chicago Tribune.

Workers in the Vineyard.

Spokesman (at donation party)—Mr. Goodpastor, the principal donation of the evening hasn't arrived, owing to some delay on the railroad. It's a piano for the parsonage.

Mr. Goodpastor (delighted)—A piano? Yes, an' it's a good one, too. We beg that you will receive it as an expression of our regard, and we only ask that, as a good many of the donators haven't any pianos of their own, you will allow their darters to use the parsonage piano to practice on."—N. Y. Weekly.

Miss Tabasco—Yes, I should think you would find fencing a decided advantage.—Chicago News.

AT THE THEATRES.

LYCEUM.

"Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," the interestiug play, which will again bring before us talented S. Miller Kent at the Lyceum, Sunday evening, is not merely a study in criminology. Nor are the four acts after the disappearance of Lady Melrose's $100,000 diamond necklace taken up entirely with the battle of craft and cunning between the gentleman-burglar and Captain Bedford, the detective. Along with the exciting psychological exposition of a mac's responsibility (or lack of it) for wrong-doing, is a story of unusual romance and tenderness. Although Raffles is a thief he has a heart, which he loses to Gwendolyn Conron. He is a born criminal, with an inherited cerebral affliction, craving excitment that ordinary life cannot give, yet with the longings and hopes born of innate refinement and gentility, he sees in the love of a good woman his best chance of redemption.

The engagement is for one week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

WHITNEY.

The smell of burnt powder will hover about the Whitney all the coming week for Harry K. Blaney, equipped with four Gatling guns a score of Winchesters and fully forty Colt's revolvers will make thing lively at this popular playhouse in "The Boy Behind the Gun," wnich opens a week's engagement Sunday afternoon. Admirers of melodrama who have seen Harry Clay Blaney in the past know that he has a marvelous capacity for "making good" in his plays and can appreciate what he means when he says that his present vehicle makes his former production look like target practice along side of a real battle. A big array of artillery is turned loose in the last act, showing the destruction of the Russian warships by Admiral Togo's fleet in the Sea of Japan.

Matinees will be given daily except on Wednesday.

GAYETY.

The new Gayety theater, at the corner of Lafayette avenue and Shelby street, opposite the postoffice, Detroit, offers a splendid bill for the week beginning Sunday matinee, Sept. 23—Sheridan's New City Sports. This is one of the most expensive vaudeville and extravaganza companies on the road. The scenery and costumes are all new and the large chorus of singing and dancing girls is one of the most attractive that has yet appeared at this popular new theater. One of the features is a champion female basketball team. The company includes numerous imported novelties which are new to this country.

The new Gayety theater is making a popular specialty of week-day matinees, 15 and 25 cents for good seats. The house is for comfort and real enjoyment, and you can smoke if you like.
