Sealship oysters in bulk and cans. Always best. Miner & Ferguson. 2

Did anybody notice the fine afternoon we had last Tuesday? Well we believe it was providential. A little over a year ago a chimney stack was ordered of Roy Blakeslee for the Methodist church. Roy made it and tried long and hard to get some one to tackle the perilous job of putting the stack up, but without avail and the good church people tried with the same result. So finally after being smoked and frozen on several attempts to work a good heating plant with an uncertain chimney, a bee was announced last Sabbath from the pulpit, young men being especially invited. Well the men turned out like the nice weather, lots of them, but the young men were missing So the crowd of brothers stood looking up Cassius Carter's 60 foot ladder and the remark of Elder Whitney that he wouldn't climb up for all the money in this world, didn't stimulate matters much. Fred Hamlin was cornered but he looked up the long ladder and said he would send one of his carpenters over, but said carpenter wouldn't come. Finally Guy Watkins climbed up eight-tenths of the way but no more, then another brother got up nearly nine-tenths, when finally Brother Shattack, the least expected, started up and up and kept going clear to the top and over on the roof and right at his heels Gene Smith, then there was doings! Up went the scaffold, and the stack followed instanter. It was soon in place, and then the unthought and unheard of thing happened. The pastor and family and a number of the brothers headed by Fred King, got busy the result being a fine oyster supper and everybody proud and happy.

It isn't because the rural carriers get "cold feet" in face of the various inconveniences that winter imposes upon them that they ask a discontinuance at this season of the practice by patrons of putting pennies for postage loosely in the mail boxes, but for the reason that cold, benumbed fingers interfere most annoyingly with picking up the coins. If you find it necessary to deposit money with your letters, wrap it up or use some other convenient receptacle.

The Southeastern Michigan Osteopathic association was launched Saturday evening, when about 80 osteopaths from Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Jackson, Lenawee and Hillsdale counties, met for a banquet at the Cadillac hotel and adopted a constitution and by-laws. The principal address of the evening was delivered by Dr. Otto B. Gates, of Bay City, on "Osteopathy in relation to the public schools." Dr. Gates remarks were highly interesting, and listened to eagerly. He contended that osteopaths are the best fitted for the examination of school children, as they are expert anatomists and, therefore, best qualified to detect deformities. Dr. Gates was the guest of Dr. Geo. B. Clark, over Sunday last and was royally entertained.
