officials would sink still deeper into a notition of languid ease. In the course of an editorial in the nly Century on "The Greatest Need of ew Working Class," the editor very ettinently says: "It seems to us that hat the workingmen most need, for man named Waish in May last.

The remains of Thurlow Weed are to be placed in Rural cemetery, Albany, where his family has just bought 12 burial lots.

The revenues of the Quebec government will be reduced $20.000.

iness?" Market's a little shaky this spring,' lied the little Quiniue Pill, "but we nmer?"

a little of everywhere," replied idering Tool. "The old man a steam yacht right after the id snap, and we're all going to the Soldering Tool aimed a kick at the hand-saw that was ga ten-bour match through hard re $2.

AN ELOQUENT APPEAL FOR MERCY