A very interesting letter has been received by Dr. C. M. Raynale and wife, from their son, George P. and his wife, who were about landing on England's soil. They had a most delightful trip. They met and were delayed by icebergs, between Labrador and New Foundland. Saw whales and porpoises galore. Had the acquaintance of the ship's doctor, and through him, hob-knobbed with all the officers from Captain down as far as they pleased. George says that old statement, that the Englishman has no sense of humor is all a lie. They can see through and enjoy a joke as well as a Yankee.

From the Sunday News-Tribune we catch the following gratifying and interestdig news, concerning the wife of our former neighbor and townsman, Mr. James E. Quick. This clipping reads: "Mrs. James E. Quick, wife of the general baggage agent of the Grand Trunk railway system, whose home is now in Toronto, Ont. but formerly a Detroit girl, has won the distinction of having her designs adopted by the Haviland Co., of Limoges, France, for the china to be used in the banquet hall, palm room and tea room of the new "Chateau Laurier," the Grand Trunk's $2,000,000 hotel at Ottawa, Canada. Mrs. Quick has long been regarded as one of the most original designers in Dominion. The design chosen for the "Chateau Laurier" was a decorative scheme of the bunch berry. The design was accepted without the artist's name being known to the Haviland company or the Grand Trunk people. This new hotel will be the very finest in the Dominion and will rival the best on the continent. The design is in the chateau style of French architecture, and is erected on a commanding eminence. It will be 11 stories in height.
