EVERYBODY'S ORAZ.

The Wills of the Inane and the Inanity of Persons thought to be Sane.

Dr. Hall, in a recent lecture before the Paris Faculty of Medicine, argued that the number of persons perfectly sane on all points throughout the entire period of their existence forms but a minority of mankind. The world abounds with people, he tells us, who at a strict scientific diagnosis would count as mad, or more or less "touché"; yet at times of their life would be permitted to put them in restraint. And the lecturer gave numerous instances of what he called "the tyrannical ideas" among persons ordinarily rational and supposed to have control of their faculties. One sufferer, he says, feels an unquiet sensation all over his body, and takes it into his head to have his legs lapped in grease. Another, a stultic, intelligent young man, is obliged to give up reading altogether, because each time he turns over a page he imagines he has skipped a leaf. He is obliged to give up again, and again the fancy returns and so he never makes progress. Dr. Cabale had once a patient whom he described as an excellent man of business, who nevertheless found himself unable, though free from the slightest physical weakness, to perform some of the simplest acts of daily life. He could not cross the threshold of his door without being pushed from behind. He could not rise from his chair without calling for help. In the street his progress was liable to be stopped at any moment by some imaginary obstacle, which no effort of the will would enable him to cross. Even so many numbers among his acquaintances some who never tires of talking of the imaginary ailments from which he is suffering. Many a medical student has been driven half mad by the symptoms of the different diseases, which his faculties described. Perfectly sane persons suffer from hallucinations of one sort or another. Lelorgne de Savigny was afflicted with visual hallucinations, which was a painful character that he at last himself in a perfectly sane manner, passed the remainder of his days there, having failed of obtaining relief in any other way.

The Oraz.

Uncle Moses is much given to playing practical jokes on even the most sensible persons. The old man one day went to an Austin lawyer and told him that he had a dispute with Jim Webster about a cow, and that he wanted to bring suit.

"Now tell me the facts about your dispute with Jim Webster about the cow," said the lawyer.

"Old Moses gave a detailed statement of the dispute about the ownership of the animal, and asked how much the lawyer would charge to take the case."

"It charges you $10, but you are sure to win your case, that is if you have given me a correct statement of the facts."

"I have given you no correct statement," said the lawyer.

"That's about the size of me and my business. The book's right here—fifty cents. It costs a part plenty of pictures and big type for the reading, written by one of the best lawyers in the city. I'll clear one on me every time I work one off. Do you take, or do I?"

"Here he passed while the manager of the law office."

"By this time eleven copies of the first part were ordered and the eleven who remained their work while the copy was being made."

TOO MUCH CLOTHING!

That is the trouble with nearly every Eastern manufacturer. The season has been backward on all orders have done little business, all are over stocked, and the manufacturers are at a loss what to do with their stock.

THAT DOES NOT WORRY US! Our Moderate Prices, Square Dealing, and USING OUR CUSTOMERS WELL,

Have caused our trade to steadily increase, and it is a fact that we have never done so satisfactorily as this Spring, when orders have been continually coming in, and we are now packed in most orders were, we found we could save a large quantity of goods. We are now manufacturing, "if you want to subvert us we are ready to buy," and we get paid at our own prices, in many instances at LESS THAN THE ACTUAL COST OF THE MATERIALS, sometimes buying and making what we were asked for them and others paid for them after the season. Now you can easily see the advantage you gain by buying from us.

WE ARE OFFERING THE Choicest Styles of Suits, Suits, and USING OUR CUSTOMERS WELL,
