The recent death of General L. S. Trowbridge has taken from earth the last of a familo once prominent in this community. The father, Steven V. R. Trowbridge came to Michigan in 1821, and took up frkm the government, the farm on which he lived for many years. With his wife and three children he came from Buffalo to Detroit in that famous boat, "Walk-in-the Water." The road from Detroit to the farm in the township of Troy, was so bad that the ox team could go but short distances and the mother walked the whole way leading the oldest child. All the 11 children reared in that home have passed away. Many members of this family have been prominent and all have left a record of which Old Oakland is proud.

The outlook for good roads in Michigan in 1912 is exceedingly bright, said County Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines recently. The total amount of tax levied for county road purposes for 1912 in the 37 counties now under the county road system is $1,270,999.48 besides proposed bond issues aggregating $1,500,000. Wayne county with her $630,000.00 of the $1,270,999.48 will do her share and then some. In case a favorable vote is secured in Washtenaw, Jackson, Calhoun, St. Joseph and VanBuren counties it will mean the improvement of the old Chicago Road, or Michigan avenue out Detroit clear and across the State to Chicago, as Wayne, Kalamazoo and Berrien are now under the county system and have done considerable work on the road. Wayne county will have her end of the road completed through her borders from the city hall in Detroit to the Washtenaw county line by next September. Oakland county is a little slow, but is waking up a little on this important subject. Royal Oak township will build over $70,000.00, worth. Bloomfield, no doubt, will not be a bit backward when the time really arrives. At Robhester very lately they had a "good roads" meeting under the auspices of the Rochester Board of Commerce, followed by a Royal banquet with A. L. Ross, toastmaster, and among the talented speakers, he was pleased to introduce that bright young attorney, Geo. A. Dondero, of Royal Oak, who made them all sit up and take notice with his rapid fire talk. Hon. H. S. Earle, former state highway commissioner, then gave the big talk of the evening on this important subject. Mr. Earle is a forceful talker and carried conviction to his hearers, among whom were a number of gentlemen from Troy and Royal Oak, who went away with new ideas on the good road question, after hearing the commissioner's great speech.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Cobb entertained at cards Friday evening of last week.

The young People's Society of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the Manse next Monday evening Feb. 19th.

Signs of war are decreasing! A dainty little baby girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Camp, of Martin street,—last Friday.

THE SILENT WOMAN.

"The Silent Woman" was the subject of Rev. Hough's sermon last Sunday evening at the M. E. church. Mr. Hough said:

"Through the centuries woman has been compelled largely to do her work in secret, and for this reason, might well be called the world's silent builder of character and nations.

"The influence of a good woman spreads like contagion.

A fundamental reason why a mother seems to exert a larger influence over her children than a father is because she comes into closer contact with them.

"We have builded monuments in honor of the boys in blue; while the angels of heaven have recorded in books of gold the faithfulness and fidelity of our mothers, wives and sweethearts who have stayed at home".

The subject for next Sunday evening will be "The Talking Woman."
