Brooklyn's Bridge. Everybody knows where New York is situated, and of the most remarkable growth of that city.

Communication between New York and its off spring, Brooklyn, has heretofore been carried on by means of immense ferry boats which ply back and forth every few minutes.

Necessity is the mother of invention, and the sage has told us. It is not necessary to the business men of New York and Brooklyn, that some way must be devised by which traffic could be carried on unimpededly.

Leading citizens of Brooklyn held a meeting of the matter and quickly procured a charter for a bridge company.

The weight of the cable and roadway are borne by two massive towers, one on each side of the river.

OUR BLACK SILKS. At 70 cts. $1.00, $1.10, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $2.00, we claim are the best values in Detroit.

SHIRTS. The roadway, 85 feet wide, from tower to tower is suspended by rods from immense iron cables, which, passing over the tops of the towers, are securely anchored deep in the ground on either side.

Yours for Bargains, Kenny, Adams & Co., 207 Woodward Ave. Detroit.

The anchorage which hold this massive structure are solid masses of masonry a thousand feet back from the tower on either side.

Golden Sauce.—Make a smooth boiled flavoured with the yolks of three eggs, and blend of sugar and a pint of milk. Flavour it to taste.
