

et.
e pains have been taken at the president's visit to the city is hard to say, as Mr. East person to consider his duty impaired by the removed joke, although the aged age as himself.

at the president is quite an sleight-of-hand tricks, in some of which he had boyhood. He boasts his move a handkerchief or pocket with as much the most light fingered the "swell mob."

members of his cabinet and again, been made victor's uncontrollable penning practical jokes, his the more easily mystified, location of the secrets, protects him from sniping. Jacksomville, the president-elect, is determined to attend a genuine monster darkey camp-out twenty miles away, near the river, and to enjoy it better than ever. While waiting for a comfortable tavern in solid village, he noticed an extremely fat man in a chair in the bar, displaying a preponderous and bunch of seals from his throat winked at his friends, and, at his opportunity, removed the seal from the saddle-bags of a traveler, that hung on the wall. It appears that Secretary of the A. S. is a pretty severe joke played by Ariadne on the members of the A. S. he gave her a chance to do as she pleased, and he quietly led each member

[illegible]

What? I don't know you President Kennedy's massachusetts adviser walked off
"Cottrell" cried Arthur. "Say, "Chandler! What does this mean to the people that I am the nick."
"You're addressing me," said of the navy, putting on "I'm not a senator," he "anti-orienter." "My name is not and I don't think I ever saw "This is outrageous!"
"The other fighting desperately from putting on the
"This is going to far, I tell me to go home."
"I'm rough with the poor man, "er, kindly. "Perhaps he's
"What are you president of,
"President of the United States?"
"prisoner, as 'you'll pretty
"tut!"
"I murmured Mr. Chan-
"gly. "Clean goes; clean
"ooking man, too. Got away
"say him, likely." And so

He was loaded into a carriage and carried off to the country where he was kept a full hour before the majority of his cabinet voted to credit the excess demand that, although he was in a state of frenzy, and under the lash of the cabinet almost down before he reached the city again, and concluded to "let his persecutors in true style. But he has been out of business ever since.

aid. It is about 10 years in the house, who is 63. Mr. and Mrs. Boston and a gentleman of culture.

The wedding was a very quiet affair at Boston.

Mr. Hadson's mother, in Boston, being present. Her husband, who will fill the same week of the year and will remain there until autumn.

On their return to Boston, Mr. Hadson bought several years which she has lived over the same week of the year until her father died some months ago. A curious episode in the lives of Mr. Hadson and her husband, Mr. Hadson were divorced in 1875. It was the first time in the afterward bore malice. It was purely as a business transaction, mutual consent.

At Harper's Ferry, Md., where they resided, the main letters he had from her in the year. In the year later, to a friend of both, he thought it would make her free and he secured her happiness, I gave notice. As there were no other letters, he continued regularly to call upon visited Washington after measured with her his proposed another lady before pro-lady in question. He has several years. He now live in the west.

Gu and The Fears.

seven californian pears in Six of them are gone. Do everything about it?"
look one of them."

g. Wish to die it—" " sked, bad boy: how often you never to use such an Here comes me; let us see about it about it he saw James take at them.

reased! How dare you never took one, and here's die one with the grub eaten not hit me. I said I dis-one of them—one—and—he didn't take."