Miss Pearle Jones, of Chesaning, Mich., is now head compositor in the office of this great moral engine.—The Eccentric.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Charles Stearns for a miscellaneous shower, Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Lucy Ward.

Miss Helen Keyser returned to her home in Pontiac after visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Keyser on Townsend street.

Next Monday Mrs. W. J. McKinney will give a theater party of ten congenial spirits at the Temple with Miss Lucy Ward as honored guest.

Don't fail to note Arthur Schattler's big auction sale advertisement elsewhere. Read the big advertisement for items and the date is Monday, November 23.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bowers and Mrs. L. L. Houghten are all at Mt. Clemens taking baths, resting up and getting well. As a noted writer for the Eccentric says, "Let the good work go on.

Mrs C. A. Given, of San Francisco, Calif., returned to her western home Wednesday after a very enjoyable and extended visit with her sisters, Mrs. John Perry and Miss Esther Chapman, of Bates street.

Now, we are not saying a word regarding the age of anybody, but Saturday night last many friends of Dr. and Mrs. N. T. Shaw gave that good lady one grand surprise,—and a party to boot. Over 50 were present and all had a real good time.

A man who doesn't own one says "The automobile drivers are always kicking on the manner in which some farmers refuse to give their share of the road. But when it comes to being real big road hog; who ever saw anything to beat some auto drivers?"

Any one who thinks that Mr. T. P. Foote is no clock tinker should call on George H. Mitchell for a recommend Say with a gill of kerosene oil and two feathers from Wash. Berger's poultry yard he defies the world, and asks for a yard full of decrepid, old and worn out clocks to make good.

Extensive repairs, alterations and rebuilding are now on at the M. E church. By the time all is over there will not be a more convenient, modern church in all the great state of Michigan than Birmingham has. It is all due to the great and good work done by the pastor, Rev. C. E. Wakefield. A great number of men are busy now hastening along the good work.

Far from complete, yet comfortable again, the remodeled Methodist church will be used next Sunday for regular service. Pastor Wakefield expects to preach at ten o'clock in the forenoon, and also at seven in the evening. The Bible school will meet at 11:30 a. m. and the young people, under the auspices of the Epworth League at 6 p. m. Class Meeting Sunday morning at 9:30. A welcome for all

Pastor Wakefield expects to begin, next Sunday evening, a series of sermons on the "Things Told in Genesis" which will be studies of much discussed stories of Creation, Adam and the forbidden Fruit, The Flood, The Tower of Babel, and many more. There will be few dull moments. The public, particularly students and young people, are invited. Written questions will be welcomed even the usual stock query of the pseudo-skeptic "Where did Cain get his wife?"

Down at John W. Perry's home there has been many weeks of good old fashioned visiting. The how and why. Mrs. John W. Perry and her sister, Miss Esther Chapman have happily entertained their sisters, three in number, and we will be real good and say at least they are fiddle aged people and the best on earth. Mrs. G. O. Williams of Rockford, Ill.; Mrs. C. A. Given, of San Francisco, Cal.; Mrs. Mary E. Adams, of Fort Huron; also Mrs. Mary E. Adams who is a daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Adams.

Cold weather is right about here now.

Mrs. E. D. Treblecock is spending several days in Toledo, O., with relatives and friends.

Miss Margaret McCarroll entertained the young people at her home, Friday evening at 7:30. All enjoyed a good time.

Get in all copy one day early next week for on account of Thanksgiving we have to print one day in advance. Advertisers take notice.

Some waggish friend laid this on our official desk; "H. I. M. William, Berlin, Germany. Please save us two Germans. Ringling Bros'. Circus."

The ladies of St. James Guild are planning many surprises in the way of different booths for their bazaar, and the supper, too, will be an extra attraction. Be sure and come, December 2.

You connot fail to notice that M. Levinson is out for the holiday trade and takes time by the forelock, to announce the fact in his big new advt. in this weeks issue. Pause, peruse and ponder.

The result of the school election on bond issue of $10,000 was: Yes, 134; no, 57; majority, 77. On sites: Elmwood, 101; Bruce's site, 48; majority, 53. Forty-five votes were cast giving no choice.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society met Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Rowe, on Maple Avenue. These meeting offer a welcome to all who will come. Miss Ella Adams conducted the program.

On Monday night, Nov 30th, at the Barnum school, the Village Board will meet with the people of Birmingham to discuss the merits of different paving material. Good Roads Earle will address the meeting. Residents of Woodward and Maple avenues are especially urged to be present.

For over seven years Miss Lucy Pearl Ward has been satisfactorily employed in the Eccentric office and in the postofflce. This is her last week. Sadness reigns. Miss Marian Emily Golden takes Lucy's place and Miss Esther O'Connell moves to Miss Golden's space. We sure ko move.

Advertise your town when you have a public building to erect, by putting it where passersby can see it and note how wide awake you are. We refer to the coming new High School building. Put it at the north end and no one going to Detroit or Pontiac can ever pass it and not see that here is a live and enterprising town.

The annual dinner given by the Auxiliary of the Franklin Cemetery Association will be held at the hall on Thanksgiving day at one o'clock, standard time. Dinner, 25 cents. Everyone is most cordially invited to attend. The program will consist of the following: Vocal solos, Misses Doris Watkins and Gladys Smith, of Birmingham; violin solos, Misses Mabel and Lillian Roedigle, of Franklin; address, Mr. W. D. Clizbe, of Birmingham; vocal solos, Mr. Samuel I. Slade, of Detroit.

The old Kentucky Jubilee Quartette at the Baptist church last Thursday evening more than filled expectations and the large audience present were greatly pleased. If the remaing three numbers of the lecture course are as good as the two we have already had, no one will have any complaint of the Course not being up to the standard of Lyceum Lecture Courses. The next attraction is Henry Clark, entertainer, orator and humorist. He will be with us Friday evening, December 4th. Do not forget the date.

Ed. A. Freer and Geo. H. Mitchell attended the funeral of James Messmore, aged 61, last Sunday afternoon at Utica. Mr. Messmore had a stroke Thursday afternoon at four o'clock and died at five o'clock Friday morning. Mr. Messmore was one of Utica's leading citizens, universally respected and esteemed by all. A good neighbor, a friend in need to everyone calling on him for aid, and loved best by his own family. His funeral was largely attended from his late home, after which his remains were laid away to rest in the Utica cemetery.

Arrangements have made at the Family theater, Birmingham, to exhibit on Monday next, the moving pictures of the Bloomfield Hills open subscription hunt, taken by the Ford Co. during their runs held in the past month Cards admmitting two have been sent to all those whose property was ridden over and, as those who have seen the film say it is very good, it should be worth while spending an hour in town to see. As the list of property owners who extended riding privileges to the hunt has been added to each week and so no of them have already sent them have never been received, owing to improper addresses, the subscribers will confer a great favor if, on failure to receive their cards, they will advise Geo. T. Hendric, Pontiac, phone 873.

Some people are dire distressed about the streets of Birmingham. They don't ever think that all this dirt, trouble and expense has got to be gone through with before we can have a fine dandy paved street for not only Woodard ave, but Maple avenue also. Now that our gas pipes are laid and also the sewers on this elegant throughfare, next summer will see the avenue paved from from Willow Ave. to Oak, the northern limit of our village. Good roads people will see that a connection will be made at each end so that stone and paved road will run from Detroit to Pontiac and Mr. James Slocum of Detroit, says that it will be continued on to Flint. Can you ever guess what this will mean to the growth of Birmingham The stone road from Detroit will bring more people to Birmingham for homes more than the trolley did, and you know what that did. With gas and sewer we have all the city conveniences with country life. Our village will see 5,000 population inside 5 years.

Watch out for the St. James bazaar and supper December 2, in the church.

Regular meeting of K. of P. Lodge. No. 149, next Tuesday evening. Work in Third Rank.

All grocery stores and meat markets will close all day Thanksgiving. Open until 9:30 Wednesday night.

Auction sale of August Bauman, on Rochester Road, three miles north of Royal Oak, Friday, Nov. 28th. Dinner at noon. M. H. Blunt, Auctioneer.

Regular meeting of Birmingham Temple, No. 94, Pythian Sisters, Monday evening, November 23, 1914, at 7:30. All members urged to be present.

The ladies of the Baptist church will hold a bazaar and supper the afternoon and evening of Friday, December 4th. Everyone is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Program and box social at the Erity school house on Friday evening, November 27, 7:30 sharp. Everyone come. Ladies asked to bring boxes. Blanche Meriwether, teacher.

On Seven Mile road, one mile west of Woodward avenue, John Black, Jr., Adm'r, has auction sale of all personal estate of John Black Tuesday, Dec. 1, next. Of course it's M. H. Blunt.

We have received an announcement telling us of the wedding of Charles Marshall Foster and Laura Pearl Marvin, both of Utica. We sure do wish them a long, happy and successful life.
