Birmingham Eccentric.

WHITEHEAD & MITCHELL, Pubs.

BIRMINGHAM. MICHIGAN.

MICHIGAN NEWS.

Detroit is to have a new savings bank with a capital of $150,000.

The high school boys of Muskegon will issue a monthly journal during the present school year.

The new postoffice at Chippewa lake is to be called Wilmarth.

George Engle of Florence St. Joseph county, has sold $1,500 worth of wormwood this season. He sold it for $5 per pound.

A lady 102 years of age in Hinton, Mecosta county, is cutting her third set of teeth, and her hair is turning from gray to its original color. She has had her second sight for several years and can see to do fine work as well as a young person.

Chauncey Palmer of Watson, Allegan county, tried to get a flowing well, but when it reached the depth of 150 feet and no water came, he concluded to cut down small brimstone and gave the borer $50 for his trouble.

Mr. B. F. Coy, formerly of Lansing, went to the far west in 1859, since which time nothing had been heard from him until a few weeks ago, when he very quietly stepped into the family sitting room of his sister, Mrs. A. McMaster.

Mackinawians mourn because Gen. Sherman has recommended that the Tenth Infantry, now in garrison there, be sent to Oregon.

The Muskegon sanitary association has been called upon to suppress a Limburger cheese stored in the office of that city.

A Kalamazoo gardener lost over $1,000 on the one article of tomatoes by the late frost.

D. P. Sagendorph, principal light of the Prohibitionists of Michigan, is being criticised for the statement which he is alleged to have made at Toledo, that "since the inauguration of the present license law in Michigan in 1875 the tax had been raised until it was now $200 on malt and $300 on spirituous liquors, but notwithstanding this, the number of saloons had steadily increased."

The head chemist of Michigan University finds that the brine from the Muskegon salt well "carries with it a small quantity of sulphurated hydrogen gas, and a small quantity of suspended insoluble matter, the latter amounting to 0.0053 per cent, and consisting mainly of sulphide of iron." Pure salt, that.

Sault St. Marie is 214 years old. It is the oldest village in the state.

There is a white pine tree in Northern Michigan 11 feet in diameter. The tree is perfectly sound.

D. P. Clay lately brought suit in trespass on the case against two employes of the Muskegon booming company for putting the company's mark on certain unmarked logs floating in the Muskegon river at Newaygo, which logs are claimed by Clay. Both the booming company and Clay are dissatisfied with the results of the justice decision, and are to resort to the circuit court. The result will be watched with interest by lumbermen.

The Ann Arbor, Michigan, Journal is as usual early in the field with its ticket, which reads, for President Black Jack Logan; for governor Charles M. Mahone, for governor of Michigan Perry Hannah.

Joseph Bennett, of Shade, near Maple Rapids, lost his barn and all its contents by fire a few days ago. Among other things were four horses and the entire season's harvest.

Water froze half an inch thick at Battle Creek, on the night of September 9th.

A new method of binding shingles has been invented by Mr. Wm. S. Newtson, of Manistee. It consists in the use of a wire of the proper length as the common band, chisel-pointed at each end and bent at an angle of about 20 degrees, and notched to prevent drawing out.

A reunion of the Second Michigan Infantry will be held in the Senate chamber at the State Capitol on Thursday, October 11th. Reduced rates have been secured on all the railroads running into Lansing.

Nearly 6,000 persons draw books regularly from the Grand Rapids public library.

Remus, a wife awoke little town in Mecosta county, 19 miles from Big Rapids wants a fur niture store and undertaking establishment and a jewelry store. It would also like a newspaper.

John Ice Putnby, an old citizen of Ypsilanti, fell from a scaffold while laying brick at Kinsler's confectionary factory, a few days ago, breaking on his head and shoulders. His neck was broken and death was instantaneous.

Daniel Hall, a resident of Hamburg, Livingston county, for 45 years, is dead.

Lansing sighed for a town clock.

There are at present 350 boys in the reform school.

Latham Kasetck, the Jackson deacon who has been on trial for larceny, was acquitted.

At Addison, Lenawee county, a station on the new Ohio & Michigan, several new buildings are going up. Two have just been completed, and are occupied. A new bank opens in a few weeks. The work of grading the Ohio & Michigan Railroad near Addison is nearly done. There are 150 men at work on the subterraneous passage under the Detroit & Hillsdale Road near Jerome. A bad sink hole is reported near Macon.

From two acres of ground James Stevenson of Adrian threshed 166 bushels of oats, and from 95 we he harvested 420 of wheat.

Wm. Lee of New Hudson lost his barn and most of the contents by fire a few days ago. His loss is about $2,000, with no insurance.

Fred Peabody, of Sanford, is going to fire at a squirrel in his door-yard accidentally shot his daughter, aged 5 years, in the ankle. It became necessary to amputate the child's leg between the ankle and the knee joints.

All members of the Eighth, Seventeenth and Twentieth Michigan Infantry; also the First and Seventh Sharpshooters, Seventy ninth New York, 100th Pennsylvania, and the 15th York Irish Brigade are requested to meet with the Second Michigan Infantry at Lansing, October 11.

Representative La Du, of Montcalm, the well-known leader of temperance legislation for the last two years, has received an appointment from the Detroit M. E. Conference to take charge of the Indian mission in the Lake Superior District, and he will leave to take charge of his work October 1.

Paw Paw True Northener. The heavy frost of Saturday night carried no damage to grapes and other fruit. The fruit growers look rather blue at having lost their grapes which seemed to be their main dependence this year. With the failure of the apple and peach crops, together with the damage done to corn beans and buckwheat, and finally the grapes, it makes it bad-looking for the fruit-growers.

Wm. R. McCall, one of the pioneers of Calhoun county, died at his residence in Marshall, aged 72 years. Mr. McCall was a prominent member of the 1. O. O. F., having honorably passed through the chairs of Noble and Grand of the Grand Encampment. I. O. O. F. of Michigan, and at his last meeting was elected Grand Representative to attend the meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., which convened at Providence R. I.

The Atlanta (Ga.), Constitution says: A rather singular looking shipment reached down upon Griffin last Saturday. Upon inquiry the consignment it turned out to be a basket of peaches having been shipped all the way from Lowell, Mich., from a friend living up there to some living here. The basket weighed about twelve pounds, express charges $1 50. Those luscious peaches "did look luscious" more from the fact than anything else that there were quite a number of Georgia raised peaches offered for sale on all sides, and they had to be put in the express office as a curiosity from the North. Michigan apples would take better.

Louis Gale, convicted of forgery in Grand Rapids, has been pardoned by the governor on that official being satisfied that Gale was innocent of the forgery.

John Dougherty, a teamster of Grand Rapids, was found dead in a gulch near the Union depot in that city. His horse was grazing near him and the buggy was badly degolished. Dougherty was intoxicated and his horse ran away. He was thrown over the Kalamazoo river at Battle Creek that city but $1,100.

Carrie Rockinger, of Marshall, aged 14, has been sent to the Adrian Industrial school until she is 21 years old.

The compulsory education law is being very generally enforced throughout the state.

The Saginaw Courier says it is understood that negotiations are on foot to settle the litigation in the famous Litchfield case, the parties who commenced the suit being reported anxious to drop the matter. The case is one involving a great deal of property, and has been in the courts for many years.

The following are the gentlemen composing the board of official visitors to the Michigan state normal school for the present academic year: Hon. W. J. Baxter, of Somerville; Hon. Henry Fralick, of Grand Rapids; and Hon. Clarence Eddy, of St. Clair.

Robert Cheney, Jackson county, Branch county was driving with his daughter, when the horse ran away, and Crawford was dragged over 50 rods. One eye was put out, and he was otherwise so seriously injured that he died in great agony. His daughter was also injured, but not fatally.

Over 60 fairs will be held in Michigan during September and October.

Edward Israel of Kalamazoo, and a graduate of the Michigan University, was a naturalist of the Greeley expedition.

Cornelius Frons Hamand, a gardner of Grand Rapids, was thrown from his wagon and head striking on the curbing, causing concussion of the brain. Death was instantaneous.

Victoria Vidor, of Algonac, in furnace vile, on a charge of slaying her husband.

Fenton is telephonically connected with the outside world.

A young man named Leon Labeff was drowned at Wm. Peter's mill Bay City while trying to walk upon some saw logs. He was 24 years of age, unmarried, and had been employed at the mill only four days. His home was in Standish.

The Lansing Journal suggests Harry A. Conant as the next Republican candidate for governor.

Clover seed in Eaton county completely ruined by frost.

Alexander Frazer lately pardoned out of prison, after a confinement of 37 years, has established in the moneymaking business at Newport, Monroe county, his old home. He starts out with good prospects, and has the confidence of the people about him.

The saw and shingle mill of C. W. Joiner at Chase burned a few nights ago. Supposed to have set fire by tramps. Loss $10,000 with only $4,000 insurance. This is the fifth mill this firm has lost by fire, but notwithstanding this, they will rebuild at once.

Lansing's attendance at the normal school this year than have ever before been entered at the fall term.

The following is the comparative earnings of the Flint and Pere Marquette railroad for the first week in September, as reported by auditor Stevens: 1882, $43,153 80; 1883, $59,254 45; increase, $3,981 31.

There is a lock out of cigar makers at Coldwater. A union was recently started a few weeks ago, and when the manufacturers found out that men were joining the organization of other abandoning the union or quitting work.

The planing mill of A. Domito & Co., of Stanton, burned a few days ago. Loss $5,000.

St. Ignace Republican: For the past few years there has been much dissatisfaction among the Chippewa Indians hereabouts, with the treatment they have received from the Indian agents; but more especially in the allotment of lands to them under the treaty. Many of them never received their allotments, and others who did receive them have been unable to get their patents.

Corn, buckwheat and clover in Clinton county ruined by the frost.

Charles Johnson of Grand Rapids died the other day from the effects of a smash he received three weeks before.

Teliafo Rendleur, of Manistee while loading logs, was struck by the tongue of a load and instantly killed. His ribs were all crushed in and his body badly contused.

Peter R. Adams, one of the oldest residents of Lenawee county, and the oldest surviving member of the legal fraternity of that county, died at his home in Tecumseh, a few days ago.

Fruit growers of South Haven say that late peaches are not injured by the frost.

The Oakland Bay City barge, foundered off Conneaut, O., a few days ago. Capt. George W. Stevens, Robert L. Hanna, Charles Dickens, and another man, name unknown, were lost.

Mills have been filed in several of the Judge's the testators under the provisions of the laws passed by the legislature last winter