Evangelist Hillis preached a very interesting sermon Wednesday evening, January 3, in the tabernacle on Martin and Bates Streets. The sermon was preached from the text: Hebrew 12: 1-2; subject: "The Race." "Who are the sprinters? Everyone. Who are the witnesses of my race? Every one who comes in contact with me. What are the weights of handicaps? Dancing, card-playing, temper, gossiping, lying, unforgiving spirit, two-faced-ness. And the goal, what is it? The world today has no place for a laggard; all who would succeed must sprint." The eligarette is the deadliest thing on earth. Tobacco is a great pest, as good for your wife as for you. A liar will make a lie out of whole cloth; a woman uses remnants."

Evangelist Hillis preached Friday night to young men and women on "Some Essentials to Success." His text was I Timothy 4:12. About 75 high school pupils attended in a body, and enlivened the preliminary services somewhat with class yells. Part of the high school orchestra assisted with the music. About 600 people were present, and it was altogether one of the best meetings held. "Make your opportunity. Don't cry over spilt milk; get another cow. Second essential: Power—Mental, moral, physical, and spiritual. Nothing so develops mental power as mathematics. The harder it is for you, the more you need it. Some people use their heads only for hat racks. If you want to build high, you must dig deep. A well is only a hole in the ground unless you go down to water. Third essential: Grit. Fourth essential: Cheerfulness. Religion does not consist of wearing a long face. Some people go around with a face so long they could drink buttermilk out of the bottom of a churn. That isn't religion; it's only chronic dyspepsia."

Labor Saved.

If mother has several small boys she plan is a good time saver. When making trousers insert loops of round white cord such as is used in corsets, instead of working buttonholes waistbands, and leave the facing wide enough to turn back; insert the loops and stitch down with the extra width. This serves for buttonholes and takes much less time.
