FRANTIC WITH PAIN

Long Suffering From Kidney Trouble More Than Words Can Describe. Doan's Brought Health and Happiness.

Mrs. Thorson

Mrs. Anna Thorson, 280 South St., Stamford, Conn., says: "I hadn't any more strength than a child, and after sweeping my back hurt me more and more. My headaches were so bad it seemed as though my skull were being torn into shreds and I would finally lose track of everything and lie in a stupor for hours. I felt I had to keep going or lose my mind and I kept up often when I trembled all over with weakness. My feet were swollen and every bone in my body seemed to ache. My fingers got almost as rigid as pieces of wood and the knuckles swelled. The kidney secretions were dark colored, scanty and terribly burning. I suffered more than words can describe. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and I believe with all my heart that they kept me out of the grave. I am well and happy after going through enough pain to drive me frantic. Doan's saved my life."

Sworn to before me this 11th day of Sept., 1911.

BENJAMIN M. AYRES,
Notary Public.

U. S. CONGRESSMAN QUICKLY FINDS STOMACH RELIEF

Joseph Taggart, M. C., from Kansas, Declares EATONIC Best for Indigestion He Ever Used.

A congressman bears many arguments for and against different propositions. His mind is open to conviction but before he casts his vote on any measure he insists upon evidence that, on its own weight, carries conviction.

In the case of "EATONIC" Mr. Joseph Taggart, congressman from the 2nd District, Kansas City, Kansas, decided that a trial of the remedy itself, would furnish the most conclusive proof. Read his decision and is what he says:

"One box of EATONIC will convince the most skeptical. It is the best remedy I have ever tried for indigestion.
Respectfully,
JOSEPH TAGGART.
M. C. 2d Kan. Dist. Pan. City, Kans."

Nearly all stomach trouble is caused by too much acid in the stomach.

Dignified Wraps for Spring

We are continued to give many of the dignified wraps for spring the indefinite title of "outer garment." They are to-day like affairs which manage to combine the convenience and warmth of coats with the grace and style of capes; part coat and part cape. Designers have employed a world of ingenuity in making them, sometimes joining a regulation cape to a short coat and sometimes merging two garments into one, but always contriving to keep the suggestion of the cape very much in evidence.

In the wrap shown it is the sleeve that turns the trick of converting a long coat into the semblance of a cape. This is the smart and modish mode of colours in marine blue with an ample dolman sleeve. A soft pearl-colored silk in the same color with white figures lines the whole garment and back. The sleeve through the ring makes an overlay on the wide shawl and when twisted around in position collar. It is designed so that sleeves keep the belt and from slipping and makes this a very spring song of a wrap. The long narrow sash is made of the material and falls over at the front.

Cherries on Spring Hats.

Cherries trim quite a number of the new spring models of hats, according to the bulletin of the Retail Millinery Association of America. These are used in the same shade as the hat, in natural shades or in a combination of different shades. One very smart little Milan hat in cherry red has a cluster of grapes dangling over the side brim. The facing and striped band of this model are of taffe taffeta.

To Take the Place of Petticoats

From top to toe everything in apparel is more or less influenced by the new and narrow skirt. Many of them are draped and some of them are cut so that they hang in, that is, they narrow about the ankles, often they are folded over or slashed at the bottom so that they allow a free stride but maintain their narrowness. Since their adoption, each has been modified to harmonize with the long lines of the new silhouette.

Under the new skirts there is no abundance of room for frilly silk petticoats, so pantalettes of satin have appeared to take their place. They are long and soft, with pointed ends at the bottom that allow a free stride. Where the skirt is slashed the pantalette is slashed to match with an elastic band run in at the hem, holds the pantalette snugly to the leg. They are a better protection against dust than petticoats and are more suitable for a motor coat. What fashion is trying to do is to [illegible] the silhouette of the woman, and these are made in wash silks and [illegible] satins, and in batiste and satin, in white and pink. Elastic bands hold them to the leg below the knees where they are finished with a narrow frill. As in other underwear the materials used for them are light in weight, but durable. Very dainty petticoats of batiste with lace rather sparingly used for trimming them, are presented for wear with their summer dresses. The silk underskirt is an essential item in the summer wardrobe.
