HOPE OF WORLD IN CHILD EDUCATION

Mrs. Marietta L. Johnson, Noted Educator, Believes Entire Scheme Of Schooling Wrong

TOO MUCH REWARD HELD

Finning the hope of a future regenerated world upon a change in the educational system of the present day, Mrs. Marietta L. Johnson, principal of the School of Organic Education, Fairhope, Alabama, gave an intensely interesting and instructive lecture to a number of people in the Highland Park high school auditorium Wednesday night of this week. Her topic was "The Conservation of the Child."

"It is my firm belief that the future of the world depends upon the manner of education received by the children of today and tomorrow, just as the present day is the cause of our own and our ancestors' training," began Mrs. Johnson. "We adults do not understand the child mind and body. We think that the child is a 'little man, or a little woman,' when such is not the case at all. The child is no more to be compared with an adult than a mouse is to an elephant. We do not adjust ourselves for our methods of education to the child mind; rather do we adjust the children of today in all our training of them, both at school and at home, to the comfort of ourselves."

Mrs. Johnson declared that the system of awards and promotions in vogue in our school system were entirely wrong. She said that no child should be rewarded materially for acquiring an education, as the education itself was sufficient reward. In her school at Fairhope she stated that no children were allowed to read or write until past eight years of age, but were taught education and the methods of thinking through the use of various articles. Children are grouped into various classes, according to their respective ages, she added, and the system of education used was so entertaining to the child that vacations were not thought of. Graduates of Fairhope school are accepted into the best colleges and universities of the country, she said.

That present day school teachers are given entirely too large classes and but half enough salary, Mrs. Johnson loudly argued. She said that it would be a financial success for the city of Detroit, or any other community, to allow no class greater than 20 for any teacher, to double the teacher's salary, and that, inside ten years, the taxes of the city or community would be less than ever before. This would come about, she said by the keen and live mentalities that would necessarily emerge from the schools, thus making for better citizens and fewer feeble-minded and criminally-inclined people.

Mrs. Johnson said that noted educators throughout the world were awakening to the fact that something was wrong with the system of schools now used. She defended the present day teachers, superintendents and boards of education, saying that it was not their fault that the present inadequate system existed, but that it was rather the result of society's attitude toward education. She heralded the time to come when, instead of but one-half of one per cent of those entering school were graduated from the colleges, there would be ninety-nine and one-half per cent, thus making for a more intelligent world.

Mrs. Johnson's lecture Wednesday night was made possible through the efforts of Miss Cora Myhrs and her sister, Mrs. Fred L. Klingensmith, of Bloomfield Hills.

WOMAN'S LITERARY CLUB

At the regular meeting of the Woman's Literary Club, Tuesday last, reports were given from the State and County Federations. Mrs. F. J. Rose, delegate to the State Federation at Flint, gave an interesting and inspirational report of that meeting, at which there were 475 delegates present, representing 444 Michigan clubs. Mrs. R. A. Taylor and Mrs. C. C. Osborn reported the County Federation meeting held at Milford, Wednesday of last week. The Nov. 14th meeting of the Literary Club will be held in the church parlors of the Episcopal church, West Maple avenue. Mrs. Miller, a member of the faculty of the Palmer-Merrill school of Detroit, will speak on "Child Welfare," and Mrs. W. Nelson Whittemore, state chairman of National Women's Party, will speak on "Equal Rights Bill." All ladies interested in these subjects are very cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. F. C. Weller entertained eight guests at a dinner Wednesday evening, at her home on Bates street. The home was prettily decorated with chrysanthemums, pink ones in the dining room, yellow and white in the library, and bronze and white in the drawing room. After dinner, the evening was delightfully spent with games and music.

At the Women's Benefit Association officers' luncheon at the Hotel Statler, Tuesday, those representing Birmingham lodge were Mrs. B. A. Schug, Mrs. C. T. Moore, Mrs. H. C. Showers and Mrs. W. L. Melvin.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS THURSDAY

William Myers Of Eco City, And David Jacobson, Detroit, Victims Last Week

When alighting from a car in which he was riding home from his work, William Myers, of Humphrey street, Eco City, was run down by a machine driven by Dr. H. S. Chapman of Pontiac, Thursday night of last week. The accident happened just south of Birmingham.

Myers was riding home from work in the motor car of Claude Beltz of Birmingham, and Beltz had stopped the car to permit him to alight. Dr. Chapman, who was driving north, found it impossible to pass the Beltz car on the left because of a bus ahead of him, and because of the speed at which he was traveling, according to witnesses, turned to the right and drove over the D. U. R. tracks, passing the Beltz car on the right just as Myers was buttoning the side curtains after alighting.

The Eco City man was rendered unconscious by the accident, and was badly bruised and cut about the head. Internal injuries are a possibility, according to the physician in attendance. The injured man was removed to his home.

David Jacobson of 445 Napoleon street, Detroit, was injured about the chest when the automobile in which he was riding ran into the trailer of a truck. The accident occurred two miles north of Birmingham Thursday night of last week.

Jacobson was riding in the machine of Samuel Goldman of Michigan avenue, Toledo, at the time of the accident. Goldman's car hit the back of a trailer on a truck driven by W. J. Albear of Detroit, and Jacobson was thrown through the windshield. According to the men in the pleasure car the truck was without a tail light. Jacobson was taken to his home in Detroit.

MASONIC TEMPLE IS NEARLY READY

Remodeling Of Edifice Will Be Completed Early in December

IS CREDIT TO ORDER

Work of remodeling the local Masonic Temple on South Woodward avenue is progressing rapidly and it is expected to be ready for occupancy early in December, according to Clarence Cummings of the Temple committee. William McCallum, local building contractor, is doing the work of remodeling.

With the completion of the Temple, Birmingham can boast of one of the finest small-town Masonic edifices in the state, it is claimed. The main floor will care for three hundred persons, thus assuring adequate housing at special functions. Billiard and pool rooms, rest rooms, a kitchen modern in every detail, and a well-appointed lodge room are included in the new building.

Those responsible for the work of obtaining the necessary funds for the remodeling of the Temple are: Joseph Hinshaw, J. S. Hassberger, W. H. Storey, Bert Peabody, O. E. Harper, Harvey Howe, T. L. Luscombe, Louis Randall, John Brown, Charles Kamine, Clyde Wood, Elmer Meeker, Clarence Cummings, John R. Moss, Robert McClellan, James F. Wooster, Wylie Bell, Roy E. PONTIAC AND H. P. BOYS PLAY TIE SATURDAY

Game Of Interest Here As Local Boys Have Played H.P. And Will Play Pontiac

In a last minute desperate forward passing attack, Highland Park high school football team scored a touchdown and made the extra point, knotting the count with Pontiac high last Saturday afternoon on the Wisner athletic field. The score at the end of the fray stood 7 all.

Displaying the best brand of football they have shown thus far this season, Pontiac high gridders played Highland Park to a standstill during the early part of the game and scored one touchdown. Highland Park's score came in the last two minutes of play, when Rowe, Highland Park quarterback, pegged a perfect forward pass, 30 yards, to Culverwell who sprinted over the goal line. Culverwell kicked goal.

The game was of some interest to local fans as Birmingham high school has played Highland Park and they also have a game with Pontiac to be played on the local gridiron November 25. A victory for Pontiac high team was defeated by the Highland Parkers 12 to 0. Judging from the scores of the games, Pontiac will have a hard battle on their hands when they meet the Red and White boys the last of this month. While Birmingham may not defeat Pontiac, it is expected they will give them a tough argument.

COUNTY RED CROSS TO BEGIN ROLL CALL HERE

Mrs. P. W. Parmenter Appointed Chairman Of Bloomfield Township Committee

Mrs. P. W. Parmenter of Brown street, chairman of the roll call for Bloomfield township, announces that the following captains will be in charge this year. For the township: Floyd Beardslee, Mrs. T. B. Harper, Mary Valiafferro, David Green, Donald Colby, John Endicott, John Miller and Richard Irwin. For the village of Birmingham: Mrs. Buckbourgh, Mrs. Ewer, Mrs. Neff, Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Terry, Mrs. McAlpine and Mrs. Hartwell. All returns are to be before the 15th of November.

The work outlined for this year is almost entirely for the disabled ex-service man. There seems to be more need for the work this year than at any time since the war. One of the big jobs of the secretary in the matter of establishing all claims at the earliest date possible, as the time will soon pass when claims will be considered.

Our membership, which should mean our interest, and our dollar will mean much for the comfort of the disabled soldier.

"CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK" IS OBSERVED NOVEMBER 12-18

In a national observance of "Children's Book Week" Nov 12-18, libraries all over the country are displaying books that are of special interest to children. Miss Marjorie Allen, local librarian, has arranged a number of books in Baldwin library that are instructive as well as entertaining to local children. Books that strengthen the juvenile imagination and create an interest in history, poetry, folk lore and fairy tales are highly recommended to the child mind. Noted educators claim that the good influence of a public library is often counteracted by a poor class of books in the home, and it is hoped that a closer co-operation between the books in the public libraries and those in the individual home may be accomplished to the benefit of the juvenile reader.

The Burden Is Already Too Heavy

The motorists of Michigan are already paying a tax equalling 5.12 per cent of the value of their property as compared with a 2.90 per cent tax on real and personal property in the state. In one cent gasoline tax would add another 3.01 per cent to the motorist's tax burden, making 8.13 per cent in all. Isn't it time that a more equitable distribution of our taxes was made instead of putting a bigger load on the car owner?

THREE MORE SEEK POSTMASTERSHIP

Gaskill, Wheeler and Voorheis Seek Mitchell's Job Here, Was Learned This Week

NO APPOINTMENT YET

Several weeks ago the Eccentric printed a list of names of local people who are endeavoring to obtain the postmastership of Birmingham, to succeed George H. Mitchell, whose term expires November 1. It was learned Thursday of this week that several of the names mentioned were incorrect, and a new list, said to be authentic, was obtained by the Eccentric.

This new list of a parade (all Republicans), is as follows: H. F. Gassaway, John W. Cobb, L. N. Voorheis, Fred H. Fisher, Fred R. Schafer, J. E. McGregor and T. J. Hateling.

According to Postmaster Mitchell, no one has been appointed to take his place, he stated, and that the appointment might not take place for a number of weeks, possibly months, and that he would remain in charge here until officially notified of his relief. He said that he knew of towns where the retiring postmaster had remained in office for as long as a year after his term had expired, due to "red tape" at Washington.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

"Saturday, November 11th, will open the Sixth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross, and Sunday, November 12th, has been set aside as Red Cross Sunday.

"America owes a big debt to this splendid organization whose operations extend from coast to coast and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf. The value of its ministrations to our people cannot be stated; they are priceless. The war is over but many of the brave lads who fought our battles for us are disabled, and the Red Cross ministers largely to their necessities.

"I therefore urgently request the people of Michigan to respond in generous fashion to the appeal that will be made to them in behalf of this fine American Society.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS ANOTHER FATHER AND SON BANQUET

At the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association, held in Baldwin high school, considerable interest was shown in the work among our local boys. The report of Secretary Robert D. Lynd showed that a fine group of local boys enjoyed Camp Boyville at Elizabeth Lake last summer. Seven groups or clubs of boys are already organized, each with an adult leader for this year's work. The leaders are Ralph McBain, Harold McRae, M. C. Hart, Russell Melville, Russell Berger, Edward Bissell and Charles S. Kinnison. The probabilities are that 125 boys will enroll in clubs this year. The program will include devotional study, practical talks, service activities and recreational features.

The board elected the following officers for the year: C. J. Shain, president; E. S. Clark, vice-president; Clarence Vliet, secretary; Arthur Peck, treasurer, and J. B. Howarth, chairman of the finance committee.

The board plans to promote again the Community Father and Son Week in February. Committees will be appointed very soon to arrange for speakers and other features for this week.

BUSINESS REPORTS AUGUR PROSPERITY

Postponed Construction Work Promises Period Of Activity For Years To Come

Courtesy of First State Savings Bank

Business reports from all over the country indicate an expansion of activity, healthy in volume, but not of "boom" proportions. Money is beginning to flow appreciably from the securities market into productive and distributive channels and by Spring it is predicted that business will be going ahead in substantially prosperous fashion. Freight car loadings are at practically record volume, the slack in employment has been mostly taken up with a growing scarcity of unskilled labor, production in many lines shows increases, postal receipts continue to gain, advertising shows a healthy improvement, and Treasury refunding operations have been notably successful.

Significant of changed conditions is the 3½ per cent rise during September in Bradstreet's commodity price average to a new high for the upward movement. In January, in which every group of commodities participated, with especial strength in provisions and hides and leather, marks the thirteenth advance in the sixteen months since the conference of the upward trend in prices.

Higher grain and cotton prices have made the heart of the farmer glad. Still better prices for wheat are freely prophesied and may reasonably be expected to materialize, particularly should discretion be used as to time of marketing the crop. Notwithstanding the lower prices that have prevailed, the farmer is doubtless far better off in the diversified farming sections that he was a year ago, and considerably better off even in the grain-selling states. It is widely felt, however, that extensive price advances generally cannot permanently be accomplished without improved prices for such farm products as wheat and potatoes. The farmer is in debt and, realizing that it is risky for him to go further into debt, he is likely to purchase but little more than bare necessities unless his prices work upward to a level corresponding to that of other prices and thus enable him through enhanced purchasing power to further the coming prosperity of the nation.

Aside from the still complicated European outlook, about the only danger suggested by the current situation is that prices of goods, particularly finished goods, might possibly be marked up so rapidly as to bring about a repetition of the railroad workers' strike episode and thus temporarily check the forces now powerfully working toward capacity business. It is generally recognized that the people of this country are have maximum prosperity for any length of time, under present world conditions, they must bend every effort to produce in quantity and go after sales aggressively.

Democrats Spring Great Surprise In County; Republicans Favored In State And County Offices

REPUDIATE "OLD GUARD"

Oakland county, long acknowledged a stronghold of faith in the Republican party, for the first time in twenty-five years went to the polls at Tuesday's election and, by a queer turn of political fate, gave 3,300 majority of votes to Woodbridge N. Ferris, the Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator over Charles E. Townsend, the Republican candidate for re-election. However, in the matter of state and county officials, the entire Republican ticket was swept into office.

Bloomfield Township Vote

The vote in Bloomfield township, as a whole went Republican, although out of a total of 1168 votes cast, Townsend, with 606, received but 44 more than Ferris. According to James W. Cobb, township clerk, less than one-third of the people registered in the township attended the polls, Tuesday. Mr. Cobb stated that he never heard of more than 100 real Democrats in the township, yet the Ferris vote brought out 562.

Birmingham For Ferris

An analysis of precincts one and two, which take in all of the Village of Birmingham, shows that Ferris led Townsend by 31 votes. On all other officials Birmingham favored the Republican party. On the proposition for state income tax Bloomfield township went against it by a vote of 253-79.

"Old Guard" Discarded

The vote, not only in Birmingham and Oakland county, but in the entire state as well, augurs ill for the "Old Guard" of the Republican party. With the election of Ferris to supplant Townsend in the United States Senate, Michigan upset the traditions of nearly 70 years of uninterrupted Republican representation in the Nation's Capitol.

All Night On Ballots

It required until five o'clock Wednesday morning to complete the count of the ballots in the township. This was due to the mixed vote, as many people favored Ferris and other Democratic candidates, yet voted for most of the Republican county officials.

Birmingham's following of Democrats, for many years believed to number less than two dozen, gained in numbers when more than 100 ballots were voted straight Democratic.

Due to the activities of the members of the local Woman's Literary Club in compiling a canvass of the feminine voters of the Village, half those who attended the polls were women. According to Township Clerk James W. Cobb, this election brought out the greatest number of women at any election in the Village's history.

The laxity of registering previous to election day was noticeable when many local citizens attempted to vote, but were refused this right when told that they had neglected to register.
