A. L. CRAFT

An Oakland County Man With an Oakland County Record for an Oakland County Office . . . .

County School Commissioner A. L. Craft of Pontiac, is a candidate for re-election because he believes there is a splendid opportunity for further service to the schools and the taxpayers of Oakland County. Mr. Craft believes that the office of School Commissioner should not be a political one. Because of this belief he will refuse to enter into any unseemly scramble for votes and wishes merely to lay before the taxpayers his record, and if after examining that record the voters wish him to continue in office he will be glad to serve. Mr. Craft has given his life to the schools of Oakland County. He has taught in rural schools and for twenty years was superintendent of the schools of Clarkston and Rochester. For several years he has held the office of Commissioner and during his administration not a dollar of primary money has been forfeited to the county because of the commissioner's failure to properly look after the interests of the schools. He has given the people of the county an honest and efficient administration and believes the people wish a continuance of the office in the same economical and efficient manner. Oakland County is ranked as one of the best counties in the state from the rural school standpoint, and for this high ranking Mr. Craft is largely responsible.

The Rochester Clarion had this to say of Mr. Craft:

"The people of Oakland County are too well pleased with the efficient services rendered by Mr. Craft to for a moment consider a change and we predict his re-election hands down. In justice to Abram L. Craft it may be truly said he has made not one of the best, but the best Commissioner Oakland County ever had."

The primary election will be held on Wednesday, March 7th and Mr. Craft urges those who are interested in schools to go to the polls on that day.

BIRMINGHAM GIRLS WIN EASILY FROM ROYAL OAK

The Birmingham girls had an easy time winning from the Royal Oak sextet Friday, February 23 on the latter's court.

The B. H. S. team is getting better every time they play. Ducky has struck her stride and is now making baskets from all angles of the court. The others on the team are playing good basket ball and are getting away from the fumbling acts that used to be.

Thursday March 1, the boys and girls 1st teams will journey to Wyandotte to meet the teams there, and on Friday March 2, they play Ypsi Normal here.

Every—Body—Out. Help—Them—Win.

BIRMINGHAM BASKETEERS WIN FAST GAME FROM OAK 23-19

One of the fastest games played this year was witnessed on Royal Oak's court last Friday when the Birmingham team defeated Royal Oak 23 to 19.

Being old Rivals, both teams were eagers to win. Royal Oak was defeated early in the season by the local team, and they were contemplating on squaring things up.

In the first half the Birmingham team went at a fast clip and rang up a score of 13, against Royal Oak's 5.

Royal Oak started, playing real basket ball in the third quarter and came near overtaking the Birmingham team. When the whistle blew for the opening of the final stretch it looked as if the Blue and White team was sure going to catch their opponents but for every basket made by them Birmingham made one also and managed to keep in the lead until the game ended.

The B. H. S. team has had a slight slump in the last two or three weeks and is just rounding into shape again. In a practice game played at Highland Park, Feb. 21, the team from that school defeated the Birmingham quintet 22-14.

Watch Them Go From Now On.

EDITORIAL

"The Senior Session Room"

"The Senior Session Room." What does this phrase imply to those directly and to those indirectly connected with it? To some it means fellowship;—for is it not in the Session Room that we meet our friends and come to know interesting people? To others it is, or has been a place to idle away time. But to most of us, it has been a helpful, peaceful place for study and preparation for life's school or for college.

The Session Room at this time "harbors" 167 students, all on life's highway, climbing gradually upward toward their goal. Each year one finds it harder and each year one finds a kind and helpful teacher's hand to help, guide and direct.

This Semester a new teacher, not new to Birmingham Faculty, but to the Session Room, was placed in charge of these 167 students, students who are at times unruly, but with no malice at heart.

As all teachers are wont to do, she told very plainly those rules she expected to be obeyed, and every student in the room tries to show her the kindness of obedience. It is not her sternness, for she is not stern; it is not her air of "I am boss" for she shows no such air. But she is kind, she can conceive of youthful pranks; yet no one ever over steps his privileges, no one is unkind to her, because—and here's the answer to the riddle—because the power behind the throne does not believe in the "Divine Right of Kings."

It is Miss Hardy,—dear, kind, beloved Miss Hardy, the Teacher of the Session Room.

E. Rainey.

BALDWIN BRIEFS

Monday the Parent-Teachers Association was well attended and all had a profitable evening.

Our teams are practicing and we expect another victory Friday as they overscored Royal Oak last week end.

Thursday Mar. 1, our 1st teams play Wyandotte there.

The members of the High School notice white tags with red letters, on the students who have bought their Annuals. Better buy one and wear your tag.

This is the week of the first five week Exams of the new semester. A number of names are expected to appear on the Honor Roll.

Declamations are receiving the attention of the Faculty at present and Oratory is soon to follow.

Two very enjoyable Assembly programs have been given this Semester.

JUNIOR HIGH ASSEMBLY

The eighth grade gave a very interesting assembly Friday. The program opened with a song, "Mt. Vernon Bells" after which Maxine Jewell read the scripture. Roy Thomas Edwards entertained us by telling of George Washington's life. He spoke especially of Washington as a boy and that there might be other George Washingtons right in Junior High.

Virginia Taylor and Bonner Waterman favored us with a violin duet after which Helen Savage gave a declamation, "George Washington." Clifford Harper read some of "Rules of Conduct" which were written by Washington when a boy. The program closed by all singing "America" and giving the flag salute.

SENIOR HIGH ASSEMBLY

The Junior Class had charge of Assembly this week.

It was opened with the song, "America the Beautiful" sung by the school. Winnifred Huntoon read the scripture. Douglas Atcheson gave two very pleasing piano solos. The first one of which Evelyn McClelland gave the history.

Miss Anne Campbell, Detroit News Poetess, gave several of her delightful poems including, "The Flapper," "Baby's Baby," "Manners and Etiquette," and "His Dirty Little Hands." Miss Campbell mentioned that if one meant to be a poet he must write continually.

She possessed a charming personality and her poems and manner of giving them won her unstined applause from the audience.

Milton Mallender gave some announcements concerning the Baldwinian.—(Won't the towns people help out and buy one?)

Assembly was closed with the School song, sung by the pupils. It was pronounced one of the best assembly programs given this year.

Last Friday a 7th grade class meeting was held in the Junior High Session Room.

The meeting was held for the purpose of electing the new class officers.

Milton Thompson was elected as president and Catherine Brown as secretary.

William McClure still holds his position as vice-president from the preceding term. Cecile Best also holds her position as treasurer.

A PROFITABLE TRIP

Last Tuesday afternoon, the members of the two Ancient History Classes, chaperoned by Miss Barker and Miss Nelson visited the Art Museum at the Detroit public Library. It was a very pleasant and profitable afternoon and the students were intensely interested in all that they saw and heard. Mr. Paulere, who has charge of the Egyptian and Assyrian art exhibits kindly acted as guide for the party and gave a fine half hour talk on Ancient Art. Such visits as these serve to give school work a practical touch and add to interest and understanding.

The regular meeting of the Adams School Parent-Teacher Association will be an evening meeting this month. It will be held at the school Thursday, March 8, at 8 o'clock. All parents of Adams School children are invited to attend. Warren K. Layton of the Psychiatry Clinic of the Detroit schools will talk on "Testing the super-normal and sub-normal children so as to place them where they will get the most out of their education."
