SOCIETY

Mrs. H. M. Cox Entertains

The home of Mrs. H. M. Cox was beautifully decorated with spring flowers for the occasion of a buffet supper last Saturday evening at her home on East Maple avenue, where she entertained 22 of her friends from Detroit, Birmingham and the Hills. After supper, dancing and music furnished the evening's diversion.

Epworth League Party

The Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church had a glorious skating party a week ago Tuesday evening at Wing Lake. The entire party went by truck. Songs, yells and general good cheer were continuous throughout the ride. Upon arrival a huge bon-fire was built, and the skating party proper "was on." Refreshments were "hot dogs," served hot and frequently. The evening resulted in on "duckings" or other disasters. The main result was that everyone had a good time.

Celebrates 87th Birthday

Henry Wood Booth, venerable "sage of Cranbrook," celebrated his 87th birthday on Monday. During the day he was visited by his many children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. He received flowers, gifts and telegrams from all sections of the United States and Canada. At dinner in the evening Mr. Booth entertained Mr. and Mrs. George G. Booth of Cranbrook and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Booth of Detroit, when Mr. Booth made an excellent after-dinner speech.

Illness Visits Few

As is the rule during these winter months, Birmingham has its share of those who have "the ills that flesh is heir to." Bert Jackson of Frank street is improving from a seige of pneumonia. Aubrey Smith of Southfield avenue was in bed part of last week with a sprained back. Mrs. William Campbell of Lincoln avenue has been in bed during the past week with a severe cold. W. A. Stanger of South Woodward avenue has been very ill with pneumonia. Charles Chesnutt of Purdy street is recovering from a broken leg which he received more than a month ago at Miller's Plumbing Shop on East Maple.

Methodist Party

The young women of the Friendly Forum class of the Methodist Episcopal church had a social hour and "pot luck" supper at the church last Thursday evening at 6:30. The 20 who came had a jolly time, singing and playing games, after which Miss Fisher, head of a girls' school in India, gave a talk on the school life and disadvantages there.

Guests At Dinner Party

At a dinner and box party Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Henry Riley Fuller and their daughter, Miss Alicia Fuller, were the guests of R. H. Morse of the Detroit Conservatory of Music. The party attended the concert at Orchestra Hall which was given to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the Detroit Conservatory of Music.

Birthday Party

Last Friday night a birthday party was occasioned for W. W. Raymond at his home on East Maple avenue. Guests to Mr. Raymond were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wasey of Dorchester road, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anderson, "Wynoote Farm," Pontiac, Mrs. John Hare (formerly Miss Irene Anderson of Indianapolis), and Miss Mary Martin of the Community House. Dinner was served at seven, followed by man jongg for the rest of the evening.

Eastern Star Party

In spite of the extreme weather on Wednesday evening, Jan. 16, the Order of the Eastern Star entertained fifty couples at a benefit card and dancing party at the Masonic Temple on South Woodward avenue. The guests were engaged at cards during the early evening with the first prizes going to Mrs. Hopson and J. Craske, and the consolation prizes to Mrs. Thomas and David Roy. A committee served lunch and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. The arrangement committee consisted of Mrs. Gordon Bailey, Mrs. Winnifred Burkman and Mrs. Roy Brown, who announce that the sum of $50 was made on the party, which will be used for charity work.

SPANISH ART SUBJECT AT LITERARY MEETING

The Woman's Literary Club met as usual on Tuesday. The program for the day was in charge of the Literary Department, Miss Isabel E. Curtis, chairman.

Continuing the year's study on Spanish Art, Mrs. Clarence Vliet gave a most interesting and detailed talk on the art of Prado, setting forth the magnificence of the building as well as the many gems and masterpieces of the world's famous painters, Titian, Rubens, Van Dyke, Valasquez, Murillo and many others who have contributed to the grandeur of this gallery. In a well written paper, Mrs. Louis Hascall interestingly portrayed the lives of Valasquez and Murillo and pleasingly described some of their paintings. To added interest to the program was a collection of pictures, copies of the paintings described, loaned through the courtesy of the Detroit Public Library.

Mrs. George Singers and daughter, Miss Winona, delightfully entertained the club members with two piano duets. Miss Mary Martin, secretary for the Community House, gave a resume of the activities carried on under the direction of the Community Board.

The next meeting will also be in charge of the Literary Department. Mrs. Fred G. Crawford, chairman, will give a reading of the popular play, "Mary the Third." Members are privileged to invite a guest.

Ladies' Auxiliary Thanked For Xmas Gifts To Soldiers

Ex-Service Men At Northville Sanitorium Grateful For Presents

The Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion has just received the following letter of thanks from the ex-service boys at the Northville Sanitorium in appreciation of the gifts sent them at Christmas:

"The patients and the staff of East Lawn wish to extend to the members of the Charles Edwards Auxiliary, heartiest thanks and appreciation for their splendid gift of fifteen pairs of socks, fifteen boxes of handkerchiefs, home made candy and cookies. They were all very acceptable and will play a large part in giving comfort and pleasure to the ex-service boys. They join with me in wishing all your members a Happy New Year. We would be very glad to have a visit from your auxiliary at any time."

BISHOP VISITED ST. JAMES' SUNDAY

EPISCOPAL HEAD HONORS LOCAL CHURCH; GIVEN AFTERNOON RECEPTION

That the Right Rev. Herman Page, fifth Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan, should visit Birmingham on the third Sunday of his canonical residence in the Diocese was taken as a distinct compliment by the members of St. James' Parish. The church was packed to its full capacity to greet him last Sunday. The service was exceedingly impressive and, besides confirming a class of fourteen young people, he preached an eloquent and impressive sermon and talked to the children of both departments of the Church School, primary and senior.

The new Bishop is of exceptionally attractive personality with a commanding presence and deep, impressive voice, dignified but democratic of manner. That the Convention should have been lead to call a leader of his power and attractiveness to the head of this Diocese atones in a great measure for the loss of the late Bishop Williams who was a great favorite here as elsewhere.

Mrs. Page accompanied the Bishop and, with two close friends, dined with Rev. C. H. McCurdy and his mother. From here he went to hold an evening service in Pontiac. During the afternoon the vestrymen and their wives called at the rectory to pay their respects. His future visitations will be looked forward to with much interest.

Community House News

Calendar

Friday, Jan. 25—Afternoon, House engaged. Evening: Club room open for the boys.

Saturday, Jan. 26—Morning: Club room open for younger boys. Afternoon: Club room open for older boys. Evening: Dance, 8:30.

Sunday, Jan. 27—Community House Forum, Lee White, chairman. Prof. Frank Gerow Tompkins will speak on "Ideas In Contemporary Drama," 3:30 p.m.; everyone is welcome.

Monday, Jan. 28—Afternoon: Bridge party for the benefit of the Community House. Evening: Business Girls' Club, social evening.

Tuesday, Jan. 29—Afternoon: Literary Club, 2:30.

Wednesday, Jan. 30—Afternoon: Day nursery, 1:30-5:30, admission 10 cents. Club room open for boys.

Thursday, Jan. 31—Afternoon: Camp Fire ceremonial meeting at the Community House, 4 o'clock; Shuta and Akaga groups. 5:30-7:00: Boys' camp cooking class. Evening: Club room open for boys.

On Sunday, Jan. 27, Prof. Frank Gerow Tompkins, the head of the English Department of City College, Detroit, will speak at the Community House at 3:30 on "Ideas In Contemporary Drama." The talk promises to be of exceptional interest as Prof. Tompkins has been closely identified with the Little Theatre movement in Detroit for several years and is not only a student but a talented playwright. This is the second Sunday afternoon program at the Community House, and if the first program is an indication of the interest in these Sunday Forums, a large audience will be present.

The Business Girls held their weekly luncheon meeting on Tuesday. Three members of the Community House board, Mrs. Shain, Mrs. Marlotte and Mrs. Hartwell, were the guests of honor. Mrs. Shain gave a short talk which the girls enjoyed very much, after which a discussion was started on finding pleasure and joy in one's work. The next meeting will be the monthly social meeting, Monday evening, at the Community House.

The class in camp cooking for boys had its initial meeting Thursday, Jan. 17. Eleven boys formed a club and plans were made for the coming meeting. The officers elected were President, Edwin Weaver; secretary and treasurer, Walter Hannaum. The club will meet every Thursday evening from 5:30 until 7:30 at the Community House.

Jack Wilson of Townsend street is confined to his bed with a severe attack of rheumatism from which he has been suffering for several weeks.
