Baldwin Theatre Attractions For Next Week

Popular Jack Hoxie in "The Desert Rider" heads the bill at the Baldwin Theatre for Sunday only, May 4th. This star needs no introduction to movie fans here and crowded houses are sure to rule at all four performances on the above date. Vaudeville will also be an added attraction with "The Desert Rider."

Next week Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 5-6-7th, a film version of Sir Hall Caine's famous novel, "Name The Man" will hold the silver sheet. It is but a few weeks ago that this same picture had a run of 3 weeks at the Broadway-Strand Theatre down-town which speaks for itself as to the character of the production as well as to its big drawing power. Hall Caine's novels have always met with tremendous success and in presenting "Name The Man" in Royal Oak, the management of the popular Baldwin Theatre are offering none but the very first-run houses in Detroit in both presentation and other ways. Vaudeville will also be given with this feature. Rumor has it there will be such demands for seats, the entire program will be given twice nightly at 6:45 and 9:00 P. M.

For the last three days of the week, May 8-9-10th, the George Melford production "Flaming Barriers" with Jacqueline Logan, Antonio Moreno and Walter Hiers in the leading roles will be the main feature. This is a Paramount picture which recently played at the Madison Theatre in Detroit and was proclaimed by both press and public as being one of the season's out-standing screen successes. Vaudeville of a high-class variety will be presented with "Flaming Barriers."

William S. Hart in "Singer Jim McKee" and a special program of standard Vaudeville acts will be shown for the last times tonight and tomorrow with a matinee for children tomorrow at 2:30 so that they can see their favorite screen player, Bill Hart, in his very latest picture.

Burn Your Coal Twice

HERE'S how you do it with Cole's Hot Blast combustion: First, Cole's Patented Hot Blast tube drives superheated air—which costs you nothing—back upon the fire (as shown at the right) and thus completely burns the valuable fuel gases which gas companies sell at $1.25 to $2.00 per thousand cubic feet, but which other stoves waste up the chimney. The burning of these gases, with the soot and smoke, gives you several hours of intense heat which you cannot get with other furnaces.

Then, when all fuel gases, soot and smoke, have been consumed, you have a bed of coke—the most economical and efficient of all fuels. You close your Hot Blast, open your bottom draft, and proceed to burn this coke, which gives you many more hours of heat.

It is because Cole's Hot Blast gives you this double service from your fuel that it saves one-third to one-half in fuel.

Cole's Hot Blast Furnace

The ordinary furnace wastes 40 to 60 percent of the available heat from the cause of lack of correct air supply and mixture of air and fuel gases. It takes 20 pounds of air to burn one pound of coal completely. Cole's Hot Blast reduces fuel bills by burning more free air and less costly coal.

TRY THIS SIMPLE TEST

This simple test will show you how the ordinary under-draft furnace wastes 60 percent of the possible fuel value. It will show you also that the gases and smoke which are wasted up the chimney will burn.

Roll a sheet of stiff paper into a long cone and thrust a nail or pencil through the middle to hold it by. Touch a match to the large end, held downward, and note how the smoke pours out of the small end. Now touch your match to this smoke and see how it burns.

Cole's Hot Blast burns the gases, smoke and soot in just this way except that it burns them in the fire instead of at the top of the chimney.

If you are seeking real heating satisfaction and economy, come in and inspect this famous Cole's Hot Blast Furnace. This splendid furnace is correctly designed in accordance with the scientific laws of heating efficiency and is staunchly built to give years of economical service and satisfaction.

"Cole's Saves Coal"

EXTRA HEAVY CONSTRUCTION

The ribbed and corrugated firepot and dome of extra heavy construction insure enduring strength and service. The large square cup joint construction prevents any leakage of gas, dust or smoke.

The extra deep oversize radiator gets every particle of available heat from the flaming fuel gases, and the throat or opening from combustion chamber into the radiator is 50 percent larger than in most furnaces.

PURE MOIST AIR

The air is moistened and purified by passing over the extra large water pan, keeping your home filled with the moist sterilized warm air which is so necessary to health.

This furnace burns any fuel, and is also furnished in single register system. Come in and let us figure with you on the cost of installing this efficient, economical heating system in your home.
