Dunning's Barn Dance

There are few local functions that can so consistently create such keen interest as the barn dances that are scheduled from time to time during the season at the Dunning's farm out Adams avenue. The dance scheduled for June 13, to be sponsored by the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women, is no exception. Tickets have been placed on sale this week and there is a stir among the dancing set to make reservations and it is suggested that there are to be a number of interesting supper parties preceding the dance.

Entertaining Mrs. Huston

Many interesting events both in Detroit and Birmingham have been centering around Mrs. S. Arthur Huston who, accompanied by her two sons and daughter, arrived in Detroit the early part of last week to visit her parents. Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Zel Dowling entertained with a dinner for the guests and on Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Huston's sister, Mrs. Francis F. McKinney, had a small group of old friends in to tea. Mrs. Huston is on her way to Seattle, Washington, where her husband will assume the duties of the Episcopal Bishoporic of Washington.

To Visit Europe

Mrs. Joseph P. Little of Ridgedale avenue, accompanied by her friend, Mrs. Gordon Le Fevre, of Detroit, sailed the early part of the week for a trip of several month duration in Europe. Mrs. Little's small son, Prescott, will spend the summer vacation with his grandmother and grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. John Manning, of Manchester, Connecticut.

To Visit In New York

Mrs. T. O. Doremus of Vinewood avenue, and her little son, Harold, left early this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Burke of Pontiac, by motor for New York, where they will be for two weeks attending the graduation of Mrs. Doremus' sister, Miss Cleo Burke. Miss Burke is well known here, having spent some time with her sister.

Garden Supper Party

The Harry Taylors on Brady Lane, were hostess at a very attractive garden supper party on the lawn of their home the evening of Memorial Day for a large party of Detroit friends who had been golfing at the Hills' clubs during the day.

Over the Memorial Day week-end Mr. and Mrs. William S. Walker on Big Beaver Road had Miss Helen Roberts, of Spring Hill Sanitarium, formerly of Birmingham, as their house-guest.

Are You Expecting Hay-Fever? If You Do, Then Here is a Message of Relief for you

I do not profess to cure Hay-fever—Chiropractors do not cure anything. But as a result of their skilled method Nature is given a chance to take its normal course, and bring about a normal condition of the parts affected.

It is supposed that the pollen of certain plants is responsible for this inco-ordination, but there is little foundation in fact for such belief. If pollen were the cause, we would all have it. The real cause seems to be a subnormal condition of air passages, making them susceptible. The problem, then, is one of bringing that person's resistance power up to normal—and Chiropractic Adjustments do it.

Do not wait until the "Hay-fever season is on." If you take adjustments in advance you may pass the season without symptoms of Hay-fever. The percentage of results through adjustments is very high.
