SOCIETY

Wedding And Fair Interest Hills And Village Folks

Absorbed in two of the most important functions of the autumn the first wedding of the season, and St. James annual street fair on September 12, society matrons and the younger set will all be well occupied for the next few weeks to come. The wedding is that of Miss Katherine Bromley daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Bromley, one of Bloomfield Hills' most attractive and popular debutantes, to Donald Sanderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Sanderson of West Grand Boulevard, Detroit.

Miss Bromley's wedding set for Wednesday, September 16 will be the first nuptials of the season and will be one of the most attractive and important as well, including in the wedding party a group of the most prominent members of the younger set in the Hills.

The ceremony will occur in the sunken flower garden that is laid to the left of the family home at "Uplands," the Bromley's Bloomfield Hills estate at Woodward and Cranbrook roads. Reverend Samuel S. Marquis will perform the service.

Miss Bromley, in selecting her wedding party, has asked Mrs. Ivan Snell to attend her as matron of honor and her sister, Miss Frances Bromley as maid of honor. The Misses Barbara Thompson, Marion Beck, Edith Robinson and Elise Morley will be bridesmaids, with Miss Jane Thompson as junior bridesmaid.

Assisting Mr. Sanderson as best man will be Elliott Sanderson, a brother, and another brother, Neal Sanderson with Robert Halstead and Gordon Johnston will assist as ushers.

The next few weeks will bring about a bevy of pre-nuptial affairs for the popular bride and groom, and will be set in motion by a dinner tomorrow evening. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morley and their daughter, Miss Elsie Morley are entertaining a large groups of the brides' friends at their home tomorrow evening on Lone Pine road, and next week a full calendar of bridges, teas and luncheons are planned for Miss Bromley.

Ranking second in importance to village and Hills society is the Italian street fair on September 12, arranged annually by the League of St. James women of St. James church.

This year, with the contingent of newcomers that have been attracted to suburban life during the past year, the committees working for the fair have increased the number of prominent names that they have always included.

Brilliant colors will transform the block on Chester street between Maple avenue and Martin street into a scene from old Italy while the Community House, on the interior, will closely resemble the shops of Italy with its hangings of bright colors and myriad of little booths. The plaza before the high school will form a delightful spot for the street dance in the evening where, under brilliant awnings and amid an array of flowers, an orchestra will provide music for the dance that is a customary part of the street fair. During the evening a group of Italian dances arranged by Mrs. Raymond Reilly and Mrs. Frank Briscoe will provide a touch of "atmosphere" and variety.

Mrs Frank J. Miller as president of the League is working with all of the committees and with Mrs. E. A. Stone, general chairman of the fair, Mrs. Manley D. Davis has taken the vice chairmanship during the absence of Mrs. T. R. Donovan who originally received the appointment. Miss Sarah Sly will act in her customary role as custodian of finances. Mrs. E. A. Palmer is providing the publicity and Mrs. Leigh Scott is in charge of the dinner tickets, the dinner to be served in the evening at two hours, six and seven.

The other committee workers are divided into each group assuming the entire responsibility for one particular booth or phase of the fair. These groups have functioned throughout the year preparing their merchandise and will sell the wares at the fair, costumed as Italian girls.

The linens are in charge of Mrs. William Wall, chairman, who has been assisted by Mrs. E. B. Roby, Mrs. E. A. Stone, Mrs. M. B. Whittlesey, Mrs. L. M. Baker, Mrs. H. C. Tenpy, Mrs. N. T. Shaw, Mrs. D. M. Johnston, Mrs. Eugene Brooks, Mrs. Emma Hupp, Mrs. William Reilly, Mrs. R. W. Reilly, Mrs. Milford Maxon, Mrs. E. W. Hett, Mrs. C. E. Monohan, Mrs. Howard Addleman, Mrs. C. B. Stephens, Mrs. George Moore, Mrs. A. L. Bloomer, Mrs. Tunis Miner and Mrs. Charles Dewar.

The novelties which always are an attractive part of the fair are in charge of Mrs. Stanley Pough who has on her committee: Mrs. Howard Addleman, Mrs. H. J. Conine, Mrs. Ward Cruickshank, Miss Charlotte Baden, Mrs. Henry Hart, Mrs. D. Gay, Mrs. F. W. Boynton, Mrs. E. R. Smith, Mrs. Robert Lee Goselin, Mrs. Wm. E. Blythe, Mrs. P. M. Brevier, Mrs. F. B. Butterfield, Mrs. John Gordon, Mrs. Frederick B. Smith, Jr., Mrs. L. A. Morgan.

Hemstreet, Mrs. H. E. Shave, Mrs. R. E. Hutchinson, Mrs. E. R. Smith, Mrs. F. J. Miller, Mrs. C. A. Gravlin, Mrs. J. B. Howarth, Mrs. Anne Hoagg.

While the doll committee is considerably smaller than the rest it will have an interesting display as Mrs. V. E. Burnett is chairman and in dressing dolls was aided by Mrs. F. W. Boynton, Mrs. F. E. McKinney, Mrs. S. H. Garber, Mrs. L. G. Welch, Mrs. Robert Gosselin, Mrs. R. A. Palmer, Mrs. Richard Kearns, Mrs. Wm. Stone, Mrs. W. M. Chamberlin, Mrs. Fred Farrar, Mrs. C. E. Dall, Mrs. Samuel Green, Mrs. J. B. Saunders, Mrs. Geo. Singer, Mrs. J. J. Roura, Mrs. John B. Gay, Mrs. F. D. Hardesty, Mrs. Geo. Beecher, Mrs. C. C. Wilmot, Mrs. M. B. Draper, Mrs. John Cooper, Mrs. Ward Cruickshank, Mrs. H. J. Conine, Mrs. W. H. Wilmot, Mrs. Melvin Kates, Mrs. L. A. Morgan.

Always a tempting booth at a fair is the handkerchief booth and this year promises a number of clever novelties devised by the committee headed by Mrs. E. C. Smith and made up of Mrs. Julian Case, Mrs. Walter Carpenter, Mrs. Loren Stauch, Mrs. Cecil Charlton, Mrs. E. G. Hatch, Mrs. Charles L'Hommedieu, Mrs. Roland Mann.

Pillows, and bags, another clever booth, will be stocked by Mrs. William Harris and her committee with Mrs. George Strelinger, Mrs. Walter Morley, Mrs. F. L. Klingensmith, Miss Cora Myhrs, Mrs. T. H. Taliferro, Mrs. Irwin Neff, Mrs. Herbert Pompleton.

Besides the customary fair booths there are to be a variety of specialty booths. The church school service league will have a grab bag feature which is being arranged by Mrs. C. E. Buck, assisted by Miss Agnes Hilbert. Assisted by Mrs. George T. Hendrie, Mrs. W. Nelson Whitemore will conduct a dairy booth. Mrs. Walter Morley will have a delicatessen stand, and Mrs. H. A. O'Dell is planning for the luncheon to be served at noon Mrs. E. B. Roby, Mrs. W. B. Brown and Miss Katherin Brown will have a baked goods stand with Mrs. Ward Cruickshank presiding over the pop-corn stand, Jane Wall the candy booth, Miss Mary Jenkins the old records, and Jeanette Brown the balloon sale.

During the afternoon tea will be served, as another new feature added this year. Mrs. E. H. Bingham will serve this and will be assisted about the tables by Mrs. Frank. Morley, Mrs. William Reilly, Mrs. Harry Penny, Mrs. Jerry Huey, and the Misses Marion and Clara Bingham and Virginia Woods. Miss Agnes Hulbert in addition to her other duties will be in charge of the girls who will assist in making the details of the fair function smoothly.
