Literary Club Will Play "Uncle Jimmie"

"Uncle Jimmie" by Zona Gale will be given by the Literary department of the Woman's Literary Club next Tuesday evening at 8:00 p. m. in the Community house. Mrs. J. W. Parry, assisted by Mrs. E. G. Potter, will direct the production. Those taking part are: J. W. Parry in the title role; Mrs. Seymour Adams as Mis' Sykes; Mrs. J. W. Parry as Big Tom's lady; Mrs. Retta Barr as Grandma; Mrs. J. H. Marlotte as Calliope Marsh; Mrs. Leland Bunyan as Mitty; Jack Gale as Cousin Jim; and Louis Hascall as Uncle Rod.

Each member may bring only one guest beside her husband because of the limited accommodations the House has to offer.

This play is taken from one of Zona Gale's "Friendship Village" stories, the scenes of which are laid in Portage, Wisconsin. Portage, a small quite recently was a populated village retaining all of its quaint customs and simple, kindly ways but since it has been discovered by the tourists the characteristics depicted in the "Friendship Village" series have been relegated to the background and is becoming just one more standardized community.

Scout Leaders Form A New Organization

Scout leaders and the chairmen of the local troop committees held a meeting last Friday night in the office of Dr. F. L. Tucker in the First National bank building. The meeting was called by Lloyd L. Stanley to discuss a new scout organization and it was decided to form a Scout Masters' Association in Birmingham. The organization held its first meeting at the home of W. S. Spreen on Hazelwood avenue Monday night. Mr. Stanley spoke to the men, though he is not a member of the Scout Masters' Association.

Scout Masters Joseph McGregor and Clarence Vliet, Jr. of B-1, Howard Hall and Leon Mix of B-3, and Clarence Cummings and Roy Brown of 4-4 will meet the first part of next week at the home of Mr. Spreen to elect officers. Mr. Cummings has been appointed by Scout Master and troop committee, as Assistant-Scout Master of B-1.

Tonight the committee will meet in Dr. Tucker's office to plan the budget for the coming year. The Masters will also meet at the same place next week to decide on the style and cost of the building for Wing Lake as Mr. Stahl has the plans about completed.

OUR TREES

Let Progress' march steal on us
And Time bring much that's new
What can it give to take the place
Of the trees on the avenue?
Tho' modern plans of speed and skill
Make smooth and wide highways,
These cannot soothe our hearts nor thrill
Like glorious, spreading trees.

In summer's heat they sheltered us
With shade, to cool our brow.
They gave of their great majesty
Which naught else can endow.
In Autumn's warmest tones of brown
And winter's glistening frost,
Each bough in beauty, grace and strength
Inspired our pen and brush.

Like mighty sentinels they've stood,
Full many a year, we know.
They've watched this little village
Become prosperous and grow.
Tis deemed by many so unjust
They death's penalty should pay
Since twas these trees of Birmingham
Brought this Prosperity.

—Jessie S. Robinson.
