Over the Hills and Away!

In your own car with the carefree spirit of youth! Take to the open road—where skies are sunny and winds are fresh. Choose your way with care or take any road that lures you. You will stumble on adventure—romance will trip you up—before you've gone many miles. For your Middle West is a fascinating wonderland of never-ending thrills.

Here's a hint of what it holds!

1—The county without a railroad—high, rocky picturesque Calhoun County, the greatest apple county in Illinois. On a long, ragged peninsula between the Illinois and Mississippi Rivers. Not far from Alton, State Highway No. 3.

2—Jay Cooke State Park, Minnesota, in the valley of the St. Louis River. Rugged country and pine forests. Fifteen miles from Duluth on State Highway No. 1.

3—The Hanging Tree, Versailles, Indiana, formerly used as a gallows for hanging criminals. In a vicinity of great historical interest. State Highway No. 6 from Indianapolis.

4—Valley City, North Dakota, set like a jewel on the Cheyenne River with beautiful trees and a great viaduct spanning the valley high above the river. State Highway No. 9.

5—The great dam at Keokuk, Iowa, a marvelous feat of engineering skill. Mississippi River Scenic Highway No. 1.

6—Deadwood, South Dakota, famous in the history of frontier life and still more for sunshine, western hospitality and production. Graves of "Wild Bill" and "Calamity Jane" overlook the city. State Highway No. 30.

7—Lawrence, Kansas, the scene of the famous Quantrell Massacre of 1863. Red Star Route No. 22.

8—Alley Spring State Park, Missouri. The spring flows from the bottom of a rocky cliff forming a deep, clear blue lake. Typical Ozark country. Sixteen miles north of Birch Tree, Missouri, State Highway No. 16.

9—Elk Lake in the heart of Northern Michigan's woods, chosen country of hunters and fishermen. State Highway No. 11.

10—Monument at Portage, Wisconsin commemorating the famous first portage from the Fox to the Wisconsin in 1673 of Louis Joliet and Father Jacques Marquette on their voyage of discovery toward the Mississippi. State Highways No. 10 and No. 33.

Make out your own wonder list of places near you—and set out to find them. There is nothing to stop you. Roads are good and Red Crown Gasoline is easily obtainable everywhere throughout the entire Middle West.

All nature will speed you on your way as you travel new paths of beauty. Fill the tank with Red Crown — and you're off.

Folksburg Items

P. G. COX, Itemizer

Somebody has taken the responsibility to post notices saying that the customary Fourth of July celebration will be held again in Folksburg this year. The notices further state that a band will be here if possible, and that attorney Parks will speak definitely. Everybody is invited as usual.

Jeff Patton, our well-known life insurance agent, has made an addition to his line. He's got the agency for a patented washing machine, which he says all you have to do is put in the clothes and amuse yourself until the washing is done. Jeff thinks that if he can't sell a person any life insurance, maybe he can interest them in his washing machine.

John Penny has been tolerably busy mowing yards this week. Mrs. Jay Butler offered to pay him 50c more than his regular price for cutting her grass, but John wouldn't take. He thanked her kindly, and said he wouldn't feel right to do that. He says all he asks is that his rheumatism won't bother him while work is plentiful.

Our Town Board is up against its annual perplexity as to whether to oil Main street, or let it go with a few sprinklings. Alec Powers, one of the members of the Town Board, says that no sooner does somebody convince him it ought to be oiled, than someone else rushes in and shows why it would be the biggest mistake that ever happened. Under such circumstances, Alec asks what a man is to do.

Mrs. Lucy Baker is continuing her efforts to learn how to operate a Ford. She almost run over Marshal Bailey last Monday on account of forgetting how to put on the brake. But when she saw who it was, it stimulated her recollection so that she managed to stop.

Miss Dora Davis came home from the State University last week for her summer vacation. She seems to have stood up very well under the hard study, and it's not affected her otherwise that can be noticed. She went over right away to see old Cap Bowers, who is not able to get out much, and she soon had him laughing so loud that some of the neighbors stopped in thinking maybe something was wrong.

Two women from out of town have been in Folksburg these last few days selling silk things. Mrs. Elmira Peek has been watching them with a good deal of interest. One of them called on her yesterday, and after talking a good while, Elmira persuaded the woman to show her the names of those who had bought. But just as the woman was getting out the list, Sidney Moon's new bull dog came up, and the sales lady left in a hurry. Elmira was tremendously peeved at the dog, but she was afraid to let him know it.

Milton Hall, the local depot agent, was visited by a delegation of our women last week, and urged to exert his influence with the railroad toward getting a new depot for Folksburg. Milton told them he had strained his influence to the breaking point trying to get a new chair for his office, and couldn't.

It sort of stuns us sometimes when we see how fast things go into the discard and pass out of mind. As for instance, somebody in the crowd at Sam Price's barber shop the other day made mention of a hoot jack, and none of the younger generation present had any notion of what was meant. We don't feel very secure in anything when we realize that the old dependable hoot jack could lose out that quick.

Professor Bundy, who is troubled some with absent-mindedness, happened to think last Thursday that it was Mrs. Bundy's birthday. Being anxious to show his thoughtfulness, he slipped out and bought a fine bouquet of flowers, which he presented with a good deal of pride. It was considerable of a let down when Mrs. Bundy explained that her birthday comes in November.

Miss Minnie Moon has found occasion to question just why her name has not appeared in these items. We ai mto please as many as we can, so here it is.

Everybody Loses When Timber Burns

Six Rules For Preventing Fire In The Forests

1. Matches—Be sure your match is out. Break it in two before you throw it away.

2. Tobacco—Be sure that pipe ashes and cigar or cigarette stubs are dead before throwing them away. Never throw them into brush, leaves, or needles.

3. Making Camp—Before building a fire scrape away all inflammable material from a spot 5 feet in diameter. Dig a hole in the center and in it build your camp fire. Keep your fire small. Never build it against trees or logs or near brush.

4. Breaking Camp—Never break camp until your fire is out—dead out.

5. Brush Burning.—Never burn slash or brush in windy weather or while there is the slightest danger that the fire will get away.

6. How to Put Out a Camp Fire—Soak the ashes while soaking them with water. Turn small sticks and drench both sides. Wet the ground around the fire. If you can't get water stir in dirt and tread it down until packed tight over and around the fire. Be sure the last spark is dead.

Michigan is the nation's playground. Last year 2,500,000 vacationists enjoyed Michigan's natural beauty. And summer visitors spent $200,000,000 last year in Michigan.

For here are giant forests . . . wooded wilderness rich in primitive attraction . . . wild life . . . an ideal vacation land.

It is the duty of each resident of Michigan to preserve this natural beauty. For each resident benefits by Michigan's resources.

Last year forest fires burned over 725,928 acres. These fires in addition destroyed a proportionate amount of property and the cost to suppress them alone amounted to $125,042.88.

Extinguish camp fires . . . break your match . . . "Heel In" your lighted cigar, cigarette or pipe ashes. Don't scatter refuse. For EVERYBODY loses—when timber burns.
