HOME NOTES.

PERPETUAL NOTICE. You will please take notice after you have seen our advertisement that we have no more space left in our paper for any other notices of this kind.

Is the sidewalk war finished? C. W. Jenks wants to sell his place. Mrs. J. A. Bigelow is in very poor health.

For Sale.

On Stanley's farm 1 mile south of Birmingham, fifty head of cattle, horses, yearlings and two mules.

A CARD.

The undersigned desire in some manner to express their thanks to the friends who in testimony of their respect assembled at the funeral of our beloved mother Mary Cook.

Among the Artists.

The exhibit of all paintings at the recent county fair, we might say, was perhaps the best that has yet been shown at that place.

Among historical paintings Mrs. J. E. Howard's portrait of her father, the late John Howard, and that of her mother, the late Mrs. Howard.

Among the portraits of the present day, we might say, was perhaps the best that has yet been shown at that place.
