ROYAL OAK RUMBLINGS.

EDITED AND CONDUCTED BY ARTHUR W. CAMPBELL.

Subscriptions Received and Advertising Contracted for in this Paper by the Agent, Arthur W Campbell, of Royal Oak.

Miss Alice Fulton has recovered from her recent illness.

Mrs. E. H. Well has been seriously ill with inflammation of the bowls.

A Mr. and Mrs. Phillips are enjoying the hospitality of W. H. Knowles.

Our falll weather is gorgeous. Shell out your corn while the sun shines.

C. G. Wilson has gatered his crop of sunflowers, and is now drying them before gathering the seed.

The sickness of the teacher prevented the opening of the Hazel park school as intended last Monday.

The fall term began on the Porter school last week, Wm. Rogers, "chairman." It is Will's first school and he rather likes it.

The Memorial M. E. church ladies' aid society gives a fruit social at the church parlors on Wednesday evening, October 21. All invited.

The young people's Literary society will give a sandwich and coffee social at the residence of Peter McDowall on Friday evening, October 23. Nice moonlight, boys; better come out.

Prof. Taft, who was to have taught our high school, has accepted the principalship of the Oxid high school, where he gets $400 more than he would here. We are sorry he could not have been secured, for undoubtedly he was a teacher of no low order. A Mr. Ferguson has been hired to fill his place.

The pumpkin pie concert was a rich entertainment and all who attended were highly pleased, agreeing with the society that the pies were "just as mother made 'em." The only trouble was the rather poor attendance, owing to dark nights, muddy roads and the interesting revival at the other church.

The revival at the Congregational church is attracting considerable interest and is doing much good. Many souls are recording their names on the scroll of heaven, and Mr. Barker feels greatly encouraged. We advise everyone who possibly can to attend, for no harm can be done them, and their hearts are queer ones if they do not receive some benefit.

The funeral of old Mrs. Cook occurred at the Congregational church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Cook was one of the oldest pioneers of this township and was quite well known and respected through it. She fell some time ago, dislocating her hip, and as is usually the case with aged people, it proved fatal. She was somewhere near 85 years of age and her loss will be greatly felt by many loving relatives and members of the Congregational church of which she was one of the earliest members.

Another saloon row has transpired which must disgrace Royal Oak's fair page in history, and it is one of no light matter. Last Thursday the colored man who lives in Maro Robinson's house on Troy street, dropped into Herring's hellhole and drank, treating a few others at the same time. A few moments of conversation ensued and the negro, whose name is Wilson, stepped outside. He was suspected of trying to get out of paying for the drinks he had just furnished and Tom Tracy was detailed to square up with him. He got a club and was starting out for Wilson, when that person walked in as though something was incomplete. Tracy raised his club and felled him to the floor, making a fearful wound on the left temple. He was taken home, and a physician summoned, who for a long time thought the man could not live, but now it is believed that his recovery is not impossible. Tracy has disappeared and no effort is being made towards his arrest, as direct evidence is claimed to be lacking. It is more disgraceful than ever if such vandalism is allowed to go unpunished.

Lincoln's Assassination.

"The darkest day of my life," General Grant once said to a friend, "was the day I heard of Lincoln's assassination. I did not know what it meant. Here was the rebellion put down in the field and starting up again in the gutters. We had fought it as war, now we had to fight it as assassination. Lincoln was killed on the evening of the 14th of April. I was busy sending out orders to stop recruiting, the purchase of supplies, and to muster out the army. Lincoln had promised to go to the theater and wanted me to go with him. While I was with the President a note came from Mrs. Grant saying that she must leave Washington that night. She wanted to go to Burlington to see her children. Some incident of a trifling nature had made her resolve to leave that evening. I was glad to have it so as I did not want to go to the theater, so I made my excuse to Lincoln and at the proper hour we started for the train. As we were driving along Pennsylvania avenue a horseman drove past us on a gallop and back again around our carriage, looking into it. Mrs. Grant said: 'There is the man who sat near us at lunch to-day with some other men and tried to overhear our conversation. He was so rude that we left the dining-room. Here he is now riding after us. I thought it was only curiosity, but learned afterward that the horseman was Booth. It seems that I was to have been attacked and Mrs. Grant's sudden resolve to leave changed the plans. A few days afterward I received an anonymous letter from a man saying that he had been detailed to kill me, that he rode on my train as far as Havre de Grace, and as my car was locked he failed to get in. He thanked God that he had failed. I remember that the conductor had locked our car, but how true the letter was I can not say. I learned of the assassination as I was passing through Philadelphia. I turned around, took a special train and came to Washington. It was the gloomiest day of my life."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Homeopathists claim a new proof of the correctness of their theories in the discovery that the famous tree from the bark of which quinine is obtained furnishes no quinine unless it is grown in a malarial region.
