PROPERTY PURCHASE WILL FACE VOTERS

Question of Buying Additions To Barnum Field, Maplecrest Site on Ballot.

A question proposing the allowance of $5,100 in the school budget for 1927-28 to buy two additions to Barnum field and the present site of the Maplecrest school will be put on the ballot for the regular school election of this district July 11, it was decided at the meeting of the school board Monday night.

The largest addition to Barnum field will cost $2,500 and the other $500. The Maplecrest site will cost $1995, at which price an option is held today. It is in Royal Oak Township but in this school district. The extra $105 are for expenses incidental to the purchase of the property.

BLOOMFIELD MAN SLUGGER VICTIM

Charles Frawly, 38 years old, groom at the Bloomfield Open Hunt club, on Long Lake road, is recovering today in the Detroit Receiving Hospital from injuries received when he was held up and robbed Monday night by two bandits, who slugged him after they had taken his money. He is believed to be suffering from a fractured skull.

He was found early Tuesday morning wandering in Detroit on Michigan avenue, near Fifth street in a dazed condition, by police. It was not until several hours later that Frawly could remember what had happened to him.

He will probably be dismissed from the hospital within a few days.

SALES OFFICIALS TO MEET HERE

Approximately 200 sales representatives of the Oakland Motor Car company from all parts of the United States will meet in a sales convention at the Village Players Theater here Friday and a week from Friday.

The men, who have been visiting the factories in Pontiac, will spend both of the days in Birmingham in conferences at the theater and enjoying entertainment that the company has provided.

Both the eastern and western divisions of sales managers are attending the conference.

HAZEL E. LAWLER,
Village Clerk.

Arthur Hartwell, Prominent Realty Man, Dies Here

Mr. Hartwell, one of its original members, the Birmingham Exchange club Tuesday noon held a simple service in keeping with the occasion. Short talks were made by Melvin C. Hart, Charles A. Bingham, and George R. Averill, after which Dr. Otto Beck, Kenneth Bingham, Arthur Peck, and Melvin Hart, assisted by Eddie Edwards at the piano, sang a verse from the hymn "Abide With Me."

The speakers eulogized the character of Mr. Hartwell, and emphasized the loyalty that he had shown during his life in Birmingham and its civic enterprises.

"Birmingham has lost one of its best citizens, and the Exchange club has lost one of its most devoted members," declared Mr. Hart. "Mr. Hartwell was, indeed, the friend and champion of many noteworthy local enterprises; he always stood for an enlargement of our educational institutions, and espoused the cause of other worthwhile civic endeavors. He gave unstintingly of his time and energy to help any worthy project. He will be missed by those who knew him."

Resolutions expressing their sympathy to Mr. Hartwell's survivors were passed by the club.

Chief of Police Collins of Chicago declares that the club as a weapon for policemen is "a useless relic of bygone days of brickbats and fists."

A small riot was caused when New York waiters in a Bowery restaurant tried to put out four customers because they wore no collars.

Robert Lorgan of Chicago was arrested for begging, but the judge dismissed the case when Lorgan played a mouth-organ solo in the court room.
