BANKER TELLS BUSINESS GAIN

J. G. Bascome, one of the officers in charge of the Detroit Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank, Chicago district, was the speaker before Birmingham Exchangites Tuesday noon at Lone Pine Inn, as the guest of L. W. Martindale, cashier of the Birmingham Savings Bank.

Mr. Bascome offered some statistical information on the institution which he represents, and stressed the importance of the so-called "country bank" in relation to the big city financial groups, revealing that last year the former class of banks in this district did a total of 320 millions of dollars worth of business, while the city banks did but 164 millions. The Detroit Branch of the Federal Reserve System, stated Mr. Bascome, has 138 member banks in 19 counties of Michigan.

DRUNK DRIVER PAYS $100 FINE

Henry G. Cain, of Detroit, is at liberty today after paying a fine of $100 in Justice Malcolm Hunt's court on a charge of driving while drunk. He was arrested by Patrolman Earl Walker and pleaded guilty on arraignment. His two companions paid fines of $10 each for being drunk. They are: Joseph Olsen and Engwill Hudjum, both of Detroit.
