Puppets To Perform In Novel Program Depicting Scenes In Life Of Mozart

Mr. McPharlin

A program unique in musical annals will be presented by the Marionette Fellowship of Detroit under auspices of the Thursday Musicale at the Community House the afternoon and evening of Saturday, Dec. 10.

Under the title of Mozart in Paris, the program will include a ballet by Gluck, a puppet opera, miniature actors of wood and wire in the forms of men and women, a sprightly lad called "Chipid," and animals; and a short operetta, "Bastien and Bastienne," also by Mozart.

The libretto for the latter was translated by Paul McPharlin of Wimbledon Green, director of the Fellowship, who has constructed and directed the production. The marionette characters, including a portrait puppet of Mozart, were carved, painted and costumed in Mr. McPharlin's studio at his home, where he has a collection of more than 200 puppets with the scenery and various properties required for their plays.

The program will also include a prelude and interlude between the Mozart compositions depicting episodes of his life relating to the operetta and ballet.

Mr. McPharlin will act as puppeteer, assisted by Miss Helen Reisdorf and Kay Hinkle, who have worked with him as puppet operators for the past four seasons. The singing parts are synchronized with the puppet action by Mrs. Betty Lamborne Roberts, soprano; Frederick A. Protheroe, tenor; and Charles F. Hutton, baritone, with Mrs. Helen Wagner Neff as accompanist.

The matinee performance will be for school children. Following the evening performance an informal reception will be held for Mr. McPharlin, at which he will discuss the mechanism of a marionette.
