SOCIETY IN BIRMINGHAM AND THE HILLS

By MARJORIE ELAINE PORTER

Marriage Rites To Be Read For Popular Couple

Of interest to the many Birmingham friends of the couple will be the marriage of Miss Esther Pyle, niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Pyle of Euclid avenue, to Milton L. Thomson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Thomson of Greenwood avenue, which will take place Saturday, April 8.

The nuptial rites will be read in the rectory of the First Presbyterian Church on West Maple avenue, by the Rev. W. Clarence Dietz at 2 o'clock. Miss Pyle will be attended by Miss Margaret Sutherland of Pontiac, and Manly Bailey will assist Mr. Thomson as best man. Only members of the family will witness the ceremony.

An informal reception for the family will be held later at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pyle. After a brief wedding trip, the bridal couple will return to Birmingham to make their home with Mr. Thomson's parents.

Prominent Teacher Will Speak Here

Class Will Continue Study Through April

Because of popular request, the class in international relations held at the Community House on Tuesday evenings will continue through the month of April, Mrs. Harold H. Corson, chairman, announced today.

The class, which was to have closed with the meeting of April 4, has been conducted during the past 10 weeks by Mrs. Charles J. Shain under auspices of the community service department of the American Legion Auxiliary. Those desiring to continue in the class for the extended time are requested to make reservations with Mrs. Corson or Mrs. James L. White, secretary.

At the meeting next Tuesday, Mrs. Shain will discuss question selected from those submitted by members of the class. These are "What is being done at the Arms Conference now?," "Would the recognition of Russia be of any help to the United States?," "What possibility is left but war in the Polish corridor?", and "What agreements have been reached between Hitler and Mussolini?"

"Mars Takes a Sabbatical," an allegorical sketch by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, will be presented by members of the two classes in international relations conducted by Mrs. Shain, at the Community House April 25, as the closing event of the year's course.

The cast of 26 characters will be composed of members of both the Tuesday morning and evening groups.

The allegory was first presented in Washington, D. C., in January at the Conference on the Cause and Cure for War.

The morning class on international affairs, which also meets at the Community House, will devote the remainder of the year continuing the study of Fascism in Germany.
