SEEKS LONGER MAIL ROUTES

Byrne To Ask For Extension Of Curb Delivery In Subdivisions

An extension by about 40 miles of the territory now served by route carriers from the Birmingham post office is contemplated in a recommendation to be submitted to the U. S. Postal Department at Washington within a week, it has been announced by Postmaster Joseph A. Byrne.

The extension would add about 5 miles to Route 1, and 15 miles to Route 2, and would affect Beverly Hills subdivision west of Greenfield road as far as Franklin road, Coryell Subdivision, Birmingham Highlands, Bloomfield Village and Quarton Estates.

If the recommendation is accepted, Mr. Byrne said, occupants of houses in these areas, which are now served from mail boxes placed in groups on Maple and Southfield avenues, many of them long distances from the houses themselves, would be able to receive their mail in boxes at the curb on their own streets in front of their homes.

Route 1 now covers about 38 miles, and Route 2 about 49 miles, so that the proposed extension would bring the two to about equal lengths. No extra carriers would be employed, but the present carriers, who work on a mileage salary rate, would receive more pay because of longer working hours, Mr. Byrne said.

The streets which would receive the additional curb mail service should the proposal be accepted are:

Glencoe, Greenfield, Seminole, Lahwood, Riverside, Devonshire, Cheham, Franklin, Northwestern, Detroit, Muer, Twelve Mile, Fourteen Mile, Town Line, Walnut Lake, Wing Lake, Thurber, Cheshefield, Quarton, Redding, Lakeside, Midland, Cranbrook, Shirley, Lexington, Pleasant, West Lincoln, Westchesterway, Glenhurst, Westwood, Yarmouth, Bradway, Tilbury, Berwyn, Avon, Bryn Mawr, Argyle, Avon Lane, Ambery, Kingary, Williamsbury, Mormew, Hamilton, Hupp Cross and Archlea.

Morehouse Cleared Of Perjury Charge

Charges of perjury which had been placed against Joseph J. Morehouse, 42 years old, of 1380 Maryland boulevard, have been dismissed by Justice Forbes S. Cowell in Municipal Court, on motion of Prosecutor Arthur Vague.

Morehouse, a salesman, was accused by Wesley A. Gibbons, inspector of the Birmingham Lawn and Golf Supply Company, of posting a bond in a civil case in Berkley justice court, pledging that he did not own as security, when evidence was insufficient to warrant binding the defendant over to Circuit Court for trial, the prosecutor ruled.

CAR UPSETS, INJURED DRIVER ABANDONS IT

William S. Meuere, 3902 Edgar avenue, Royal Oak, informed Birmingham police he was not injured except for a deep gash on his forehead when his large sedan left the road, hit a ditch and overturned several times Saturday night on East Maple avenue near Grand Trunk Railroad tracks.

Police found the car abandoned some time after the accident, and stood in the interior led them to believe some one had been seriously injured.

But Mr. Meuere did not explain why he travelled from the place where the accident occurred to the office of a Royal Oak physician before his wound was treated.

Birmingham Business Leaders

No. 3

During the 12 years he has been in business in Birmingham, Frank Sternal has come to be recognized not only as a business leader in the tire and service station field, but as a civic leader as well. Frank is the kind of fellow who'll always "go along" with the community, bearing his full share or more of the burden, in whatever it undertakes.

Sternal's is known to practically every Birminghamite who drives a car, but it has not always been known in its present location at 408 South Woodward avenue.

When Frank first came to Birmingham in 1921, he opened a small service garage in a vacant space now covered by part of the Brigg's Building. Six months later he took possession of a blacksmith shop on East Maple avenue and transformed it into a service station somewhat larger than the old one.

Within three years his business had grown to such proportions that he found it necessary to move again, this time to his present location where two houses were razed to make room for his new garage structure.

Frank was born in Duluth, Minn., and lived there for 25 years. When the World War came, he joined the 56th Engineers and served overseas for eight months. He was stationed for the most part at Colombey les Belles, France, where his job was spotting airplanes as a searchlight engineer with the Second Army.

Returning in 1919, with no place in particular to go, he was drawn to Detroit by the magnet of the automobile boom. After three months in the wholesale hardware business there, he opened his first tire and auto service shop. Two years later he was in Birmingham, attracted by the opportunities the North Woodward development presented then, and which, Frank believes, are still latent here in abundance.

Used to hard work and long hours most of his life, Frank seldom plays hooky from his garage. When he does, he likes to fish—but with ordinary, old-fashioned pole, bobber and worm. No fancy fishing for him.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Sustained Effort

"Every successful business man knows the secret of success," says John H. Wright, editor and publisher. "Yet, if a reporter asked 100 men to answer the question, 'What is the secret of your success?' not ten in the hundred would mention the one big thing that lies back of their business success. Perhaps not five, or even one, would mention it."

Sustained effort is the key to success, says Wright.

"At this moment," he continues, "I cannot recall the name of a single man who did not owe his success to sustained effort. I could name a dozen men with brains who are business failures because they are not able to sustain their efforts. These men possess everything necessary for business success. They are healthy. They are clever. But they cannot sustain their efforts long enough in any one line of business."

Newspapers Preferred

Newspapers as an advertising medium over all other mediums are preferred by 4,500 Los Angeles men and women college students, the California Newspaper Publishers Association was told before adjourning its annual convention in Santa Barbara, Tuesday.

Reporting on one of the most exhaustive surveys ever undertaken in Los Angeles to determine "buyers' wishes," W. D. Thurber of the Los Angeles Advertising Club said the survey found:

That 77 per cent paid no attention to advertising matter thrown in their yards.

Eighty-six per cent of all women and 57 per cent of the men watch for newspaper advertisements of special sales.

Illustrated newspaper advertising was preferred, 9 to 1.

Men students preferred in order, first, newspaper advertising, second, form letters, and third, radio; women picked newspapers first, radio second, and form letters third.

The students were unanimous in denouncing flamboyant claims in advertising "copy."
