CITY ASKS SPEED IN SETTLEMENT

Resolution Approving Proposal Seeks End Of Negotiations In 60 Days

A formal resolution agreeing "in principle" to the proposed method for dividing the joint assets and liabilities of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township was adopted by the Birmingham Commission Monday night. The other two units have taken similar action.

The Birmingham Commission had approved informally several weeks ago the general outline of the proposal, which was drawn up by Harry S. Starr, representing Bloomfield Hills in the settlement, and which provides for Birmingham to take over the township park and Bloomfield Hills the township garage.

The resolution contains the stipulations that suit will be started to void the contract for the township gravel pit, which is ignored entirely in the proposal, and that the Commission "reserves the right to accept or reject or discuss details before the final approval of settlement." It asks that final settlement be completed within 60 days.

Mr. Starr is now working on details of the settlement, and will submit them to representatives of each of the three units for their approval before formal action of the two Commissions and Township Board is asked on the final division.

What The Women Think About It

Each week, The Eccentric asks several women, chosen at random from the telephone book, to answer a question of general interest in Birmingham.

The question this week: Would you object to your children being members of secret high school organizations not sponsored by the school?

Mrs. J. Darby Taylor, 859 Lakeview drive: "I see no harm in it at all if it doesn't interfere with their school work. It produces a friendly spirit, provides good times and does not prevent the boys and girls from making friends outside their own organization."

Mrs. William C. Schwallie, 747 Chapin street: "I don't approve of it at all. If we don't know what is going on we can't tell what will happen. Such things should not exist outside of the school."

Mrs. Rufus D. Brown, 411 Hanna street: "I object to it on general principles. I don't believe any good comes of it. Lack of sponsorship may develop undesirable traits."

Mrs. Gardner M. Cobb, 319 Henley drive: "As far as I can see there is no reason at all why secret clubs are not alright. There is no interference with school work, initiation is held outside of school hours, the children make good contacts and have good times. If it interfered with or detracted from their work I would object. I don't altogether approve of Greek letter sororities and fraternities for high school students because it takes the glory from college life when they go away, but I have no objection to clubs at all."

Mrs. Charles Mercer, 891 Bird avenue: "I think that secret organizations in high school are perfectly alright."

Mrs. Alva D. Sprague, 588 Stanley street: "During their high school years, the pupils should give their time to their studies. School entertainments, home entertainment, skating, coasting and the like should be sufficient."

Mrs. Margaret Bennett, 1228 East Ruffner street: "I believe that belonging to a secret organization tends to develop one's brain and that it gives boys and girls a certain responsibility that will keep them from running around. I do think, though, that they should be compelled to earn their own dues."

Mrs. Ellis L. Larson, 1019 Knox street: "I certainly do object to secret organizations during high school years. Things which must kept secret and are not brought out in the open are not the things we should want our children to be doing."

Mrs. Thomas C. Corin, 487 Madison avenue: "I don't see any harm in it at all. When I went to school the people who objected to it were unjustified in their complaints."

Mrs. L. A. Dickson, Beverly road: "I see no reason for objecting to it."

Mrs. Richard Erwin, 1119 Southfield avenue: "Generally speaking, I don't approve of them. Cliques are formed and invariably many minds make mischief that a few wouldn't think of."

Mrs. John C. Cramer, 1144 Smith street: "It all depends upon the kind of secrets they have. A child should not keep secrets from his parents unless it is to surprise them with good work."

'KIDNAPED' MAID IN OHIO, POLICE LEARN

Mrs. Gertrude Deems, 41-year-old former maid in a Southfield avenue home is living, apparently happily, in Millville, O., with the husband who two weeks ago forced her against her will to accompany him to an unknown destination, the police have learned.

After several years of separation, the husband appeared at the home where Mrs. Deems was working, beat her, and forced her with him into a bus on which they rode to Pontiac, after which nothing was heard of them until this week when Mrs. Deems' sister, also a maid in a Birmingham home, informed police she had learned indirectly the couple was in Millville, where the husband formerly lived and worked.
