GUEST FROM EAST HONORED ON VISIT

Miss Palmer Feted During Holiday Sojourn In Birmingham

Scarcely had Cornelia Palmer of Geneva, N. Y., arrived Saturday to be the guest of Mrs. Edward G. Wasey and her son, George, of Harmon avenue for the holidays, than festivities began in her honor. Katherine Mann of Greenwood avenue was the first to entertain, giving a dinner Saturday evening for a group including besides Miss Palmer and Mr. Wasey, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Harris, Mary Buick, Roger Brown, Mary Jean Wilson, Arthur Otis, Eleanor Wasey, Tim Neal and Arthur Brenthal.

Mrs. Wasey and her daughter, Eleanor, presented Miss Palmer to their friends Monday afternoon at tea. At the tea table were Mrs. Clara L'Hommedieu, Mrs. Howard L. Simpson, Mrs. Albert Wasey, and Mrs. Robert Hutchinson.

Miss Palmer was the honor guest Tuesday at a luncheon given by Miss Buick at her home. The guests included besides Miss Palmer and Miss Wasey, Mrs. William D. Van Dusen, Miss Mann, Vadne Scott, Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Robert Buick.

Members of the family were guests at a supper party Sunday evening given by Mrs. Howard Roberts of Philadelphia, the guest of Mrs. Albert Wasey, at Devon Gables.

PROFESSION OF LIFE

By
The Schettler Drug Co.

The profession of medicine is a living matter, the business of keeping people fit and healthy. It marches, progresses, develops, discovers.

Year by year the scourges of mankind give way before medical science—diabetes, pernicious anemia, kidney disorders, asthma, goiter. Once these were literal death sentences—now they can be kept in check, relieved, even cured.

Yet now and then one hears the remark, "Doctors don't know it all. Pay no attention to them."

They do not, of course, know it all, but they know so much that human life is immeasurably benefited, extended, comforted.

At the first sign of illness, consult a good physician, and take the prescription he orders to a reliable druggist.

Bloomfield Village Ready For Ice To Try Community Skating Rink

When young 1937 breezes around the corner, he will be greeted by residents of Bloomfield Village clamoring for frosty weather to make ice for their new skating rink. For some weeks past the rink has been the pet project of the Village. Fathers, mothers, boys and girls have aided in various ways in promoting the plan, and now as soon as the weather clutches it, the pond will be flooded for freezing.

The rink is not really a pond like Quarton Lake. Until a short time ago, it was merely an uninteresting plot of vacant property. Then the idea of making a pond to provide youngsters with a place to skate nearer home than Quarton Lake, and to give the grown ups the same opportunity, began to take shape. Then Judson Bradway generously donated the land and offered to furnish the water, provided the residents would assume the upkeep of the pond.

After that it was up to a group of mothers to undertake the responsibility of raising funds to maintain a skating rink. With a voluntary committee composed of Mrs. A. W. Golling, Mrs. Arthur Rose, Mrs. T. W. Eustis and Mrs. R. E. Noyes, telephoning to 30 or 40 mothers, the little matter of contributions was soon settled.

The rink is on Bradway boulevard, and is 75 by 150 feet, and will be a permanent fixture in the Village. The entire responsibility of getting the pond in shape for flooding has been assumed by Raymond H. Smith. While the women's committee was raising money for the upkeep, Mr. Smith undertook to take charge of getting the work done necessary before flooding.

As soon as the freezing weather comes, skating parties will be in order. Several supper parties have been planned to follow an evening of skating for grown devotees of the ice. The children will have their share, too as some of the mothers are contemplating Saturday skating parties preceded by luncheon for the juvenile skaters.

PLANS VARIED FOR NEW YEAR'S EVE

Hills Clubs Will Hold Dinner Dances To Welcome In 1937

What are you doing on New Year's Eve?

And the answers are varied. Many Birmingham and Hills folks are getting together in private homes this year for an evening of suppers, open fires, and for other ways and means of welcoming 1937 and speeding 1936 in merry way.

Other groups will celebrate the momentous Eve at one of the three clubs in the Hills having dinner dances or at one of the clubs or hotels in Detroit. Members of Bloomfield Open Hunt, the Bloomfield Hills and Oakland Hills Country Clubs will be entertained at dinner dances.

The Open Hunt will begin with dinner, and conclude with breakfast, with dancing between. Among some of those making early reservations are Mr. and Mrs. Clay E. Hertel, Mr. and Mrs. C. George Stoepel, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cassis, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Shuell, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth K. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Hooper, and Earl Pierce.

Bloomfield Hills Country Club will hold its annual New Year's Eve dinner dance, with the addition of a floor show, and a midnight supper. Del Delbridge's orchestra will provide the music.

At Oakland Hills Country Club, there will be dinner and dancing with a floor show. The ballroom will be decorated with Christmas trees illuminated with blue light, and two orchestras will play for dancing until the wee sma' hours.

Betrothal Revealed

Miss Babcock

Cards are out for Miss Irene Babcock and her daughter, Lois, and Harriet, at the home of their son at White Oaks farm, Saturday afternoon at Bloomfield Hills Country Club, received a pair of silver Red Foxes as the center of the table and what looked like a set of the same foxes, presence, a pair of the same each place. These, however, proved to be something quite far more ornamental. For the single guests were handed cards on which was written the names of "Lone and Bob." When the guests had perused the cards, they turned to Lone Mack—or Desmond Babcock, otherwise known by her friends as Lone, and Robert Jas. Anglin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert King Anglin of Washington road were engaged.

Miss Babcock attends Wilde-cliff Junior College and is a member of the Cornell Club. Mr. Anglin is a student at Cornell University, where he belongs to Alpha Delta Phi and Alpha Omega.
