Baldwin

Before 365 students who jammed the Baldwin auditorium Monday afternoon, the boys' all-star basketball team won in a walk from the girls' all-star five by the score of 39 to 6. This doesn't mean that the girls were no good, for there were plenty of fine shots that just wouldn't go in. The "boys' all-star team" was just another name for the Birmingham High's varsity team. The girls' teams was composed of the best girl basketballers from the senior high.

The game was played in the girls fashion which the boys occasionally forgot. By the end of the first half the boys had scored 13 points to the girls' 2. During the second half the boys were content to tease the girls by keeping the ball from them under their own basket.

Don Fouracre, one of the guards, proved that chivalry can be displayed in this game when he gallantly assisted one of the fair sex to arise when she seemed to have some difficulty in getting off the floor.

The proceeds from this game will be used to purchase G. A. A. awards and Varsity Club pins.

For their program last week, the 9A home room had as their guest Mr. James W. Parry city-manager, who spoke to them about public service and vocational guidence. Mr. Parry was the first of a series of speakers to be presented to that room during the home room programs.

The officers of 9A have been elected and are as follows: Barbara Rhodes, President; Charles Gardiner, Vice-president; Arthur Underwood, Secretary; and Don Moses, Treasurer.

Movie shorts will be shown to the students who stay at Baldwin during the lunch hour at a very small fee. This fee will be used to pay for the reels. Any profit that may be made will go toward the purchasing of longer reels.

The Baldwin Senior High Science club is the sponsor of this project.

The 8A Civics class, under the direction of Miss Hammond, has elected a very much needed staff to help Bill Averill collect the Baldwin Junior High news. Those serving on this staff are Peter Halgren, Editor; Kenneth Spohr, Asst. Editor; and Ruth Cowen, Harold Roy, Marion Hoover, Lucile Chaminade, and Kenneth Spohr, Reporters.

A variation in the Baldwin junior high girls' basketball practice took place last Thursday afternoon, when the ninth grade played the Senior High all-star girls' team. The ninth grade team was greatly outplayed until some of the players on the two teams were interchanged. This evened matters up throughout the rest of the practice.

Yesterday afternoon the Baldwin Senior High homerooms had programs centering around the life of Abraham Lincoln.

The Baldwin Junior High held an assembly commemorating the birth of six of our well known men—Lincoln, Washington, Edison, Longfellow, Lowell, and Lindbergh. No teacher had anything to do with this program, the entire program was planned by the students in the 9A.

During the activity period Tuesday afternoon, the Baldwin 8A and 8B basketball squads staged a game with the 8B's coming out on top. The score was 23 to 20.

The 8A team was ahead at the end of the first half, but were upset later by the 8B team who kept the lead until the end. Ratsko, with the aid of Austin, scored the most points for the winning team. McDonald, helped by good passing on the part of Osterman, made 10 points for the 8A's.

Last night the Birmingham Teacher's Club held a dinner at the Birmingham Community House. As the party was held on Lincoln's birthday, the guests were dressed in costumes worn at that time. The program also centered around the things done at that time, such as square dances, tap dances, and old fashion'd songs.

Barnum Junior

Barnum Junior High School is getting under way with a larger club enrollment than ever before in its history.

Out of an enrollment of 280, approximately 255 are at present enrolled in some club.

In addition to last years schedule, a Travel Club has been added to the program, sponsored by Mrs. Della Wilson.

On Wednesday, February 12th, at 1:15, Reverend W. L. Forsyth addressed the students of Barnum Junior High School in a general assembly. His topic was, "Influences of Character."

Adams Junior

On Friday, January 31, three boys' basket-ball games were played in the Adams Gymnasium.

The first game began at 4:00, and was played between the 7-A 2 team and the 7-A 3, the 7-A 2 winning by a score of 4 to 2.

Attendance was unsually low, but the game was attended by many Adams Alumni.

The second game began at 4:25 between the 9-B 1 and 9-B 2 teams. The score was 17 to 0, favor of the 9-B 1.

At 4:55 the last game began, between the 9-A 1 and 9-A 2 teams. The 9-A 1 won by a score of 30 to 0.

The games were refereed by Arthur Neff, Harry Weaver, and Harry Price.

An urgent demand for more school rings by the students of Adams Junior High School is being met by Principal F. M. Cooke in that a man is again being sent to Adams School to take measurements for the rings.

The club program of Adams School now includes two Players Clubs because of their unusual success last semester. The clubs will be under the supervision of Mrs. Beals and Mrs. Oromie, of Adams.

Today, at 1:15, the students of Adams Junior High School, led by Mrs. Coryell, will participate in an all-school sing of Patriotic Airs.

It is expected to be enjoyed very much, as "sings" of any kind, usually "go over big" at Adams School.

"Baldwin Stars Of Yesterday"

By NORMAN LYLE

Baldwin high school almost always has had fine track teams. One of the best was the thinclad squad of 1927, which went through its season winning meets by overwhelming scores. It dropped only two games out of ten, and placed second and third in those. This team was coached by "Rip" Van Winkle, and captained by Dave Gafill, who was also one of the high point men of the squad. Others of that team who deserve special mention are Robert Lyon, a sprints star, Milton Thomson, Rudolph Zabel, an exceptional miler, and George Williams, who set a new county and state Class B high jump record.

Probably the most important win of this team was its victory at the county track meet, which was held June 3, 1927. Those teams competing in Class B were Ferndale, Royal Oak, and Birmingham. Birmingham had vanquished the other two teams several times previously in triangle meets, and was favored to win this, the county meet. The Maroons led out at the start with 28 points and seemed headed for a walkaway before Ferndale set a new county half mile relay record and began creeping up on the Naples. Ferndale got to within one point of tying the Maples, but no farther, Birmingham pulled away and went on to win the meet by one point, the final scores being Birmingham 61½, Ferndale 60½, and Royal Oak 29. Birmingham grabbed five firsts, ten seconds, four thirds, and two fourths. Ferndale collected seven firsts but was unable to get those seconds and thirds which count for so much. Kubiac of Ferndale was the meet high scorer getting 14 points, and Captain Gafill of the Maples ran second to him with 12 and a fraction.

A detailed list of the members of the team is unavailable, but the roster included Gafill, Thomson, Waterman, Kamin, Lyon, Doherty, Williams, DeBoer, Rainey, Zabel, Brown, and Cox. Following the County meet, the thinclads went on to place second to St. Joseph's in the State Class B meet, and third in the S. E. A. A. meet. This last included ten teams from all parts of southeastern Michigan, and Birmingham's showing did not mar its excellent season record.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

—J. F. WENZL, Jr.
Deputy Scout Commissioner

Last Saturday evening, before a capacity audience at Orchestra Hall, the Detroit Council as an inspiring tribute to distinguished service to boyhood, bestowed upon five registered Scouters within the territory under its jurisdiction, the coveted Silver Beaver Award.

This award made annually to five Scouters selected from the large group of men who have contributed and sacrificed much for Scouting is best described by the words of Dr. C. B. Laundy, who in making the presentations said, "This award is made for worthy service of exceptional character to boyhood."

Col. Edwin S. George, long a patron of Scouting in the Birmingham District, was one of the recipients of this honor. An exemplification of the efforts of Col. George to better the standards of Scouting in this City is the beautiful camp site situated on the upper end of Long Lake. Among the many other things which may be credited to the Colonel's generosity is the Psalm Award. This award, based on the Scout's ability to memorize and explain in his own words certain prescribed Psalms, not ony merits the Scout's personal satisfaction for having complied with the requirements, but also a beautiful silver medal, awarded personally by Col. George.

Another feature of the program in which Birmingham District participated was the presentation of the Ten Year Program Awards. In recognition of their ability to produce men brought up in the School of Scouting and trained to give leadership, awards were made to Troops B-2, B-3, and B-5, with Harold Webster, Howard D. Crull, and George Beauchamp the respective Scoutmasters.

As an opening ceremony celebrating the 26th Anniversary of Scouting, the Birmingham Scouts, Leaders and Committeemen attended the Sunday evening service at the Methodist Church.

Because of the inability of Boyd I. Walker of the Detroit Y. M. C. A. to be present, Rev. Dr. R. D. Hopkins delivered the sermon of the evening. Using the life of Abraham Lincoln as his text, in contrast with the Scout Law as follows: A SCOUT IS—Trustworthy, Loyal, Helpful, Friendly, Courteous, Kind, Obedient, Cheerful, Thrifty, Brave, Clean and Reverant! Dr. Hopkins emphasized the fact that if each Scout in his every-day life worked as hard as Lincoln did to develop his character and ambition, he need have no cause to worry about setting a good example to his fellow citizens.

As a fitting close to the evening service, Commissioner Carl Wood led the Scouts and Leaders in the Scout Benediction.

In an effort to emphasize Scouting as an American Institution we have been offering in numerous windows throughout the business district for the past week, a practical demonstration of what Scouting means in the life of Birmingham.

The Birmingham District Committee wishes to extend a word of appreciation and thanks to Chauncey Nixon, L. J. Slusser, McBride Hardware and the Charles R. Peck Sons for the use of window space in their store.

These exhibits will be on display through Saturday. We promise that if you find the opportunity to glance over these demonstrations you will agree with us that your time has not been wasted.
