WHY HE WAS FIRED.

A Bad Man in a Leading Detroit Dry Goods Store. From the Wayne County News. "Do you think you can sell dress goods, ribbons, etc.," inquired Mr. Hugh E. Kenny, the senior member of the dry goods house of Kenny, Adams & Co., corner of Woodward and Grand River avenues. The party addressed was a florid young man with a florid nose, florid mustache and florid hair...

THE MIDSUMMER CLUB.

Annual Outing; of the M. Club; at the Cooper Farm. Every year for the past four years the friends and patrons of the Cooper Farm have entertained at the farm by the proprietor, Mr. J. R. Cooper of Highland, and last Sunday being the anniversary of this festive occasion, it was fifty of Mr. Cooper's intimate friends were present by the reception of an out thirty of Mr. Cooper's intimate friends...

CLUBBING.

The opening of the Birmingham roller rink is next Saturday night. Henry Street, Peter Reid's hired man recently shot 20 crosses and seven of that number at one shot. Fabulous as that feat may seem, it is really true as there is no trick in it. Mr. Reid used the rollers for a score or more and they are much more successful than any other rollers. Bowers has ground more grists so far this year than during the same period last year. Mr. Bowers is entertaining Mr. Honore on his 30th birthday...

Starkey's Darkey.

The following from the Detroit Free Press is part of an address delivered by our fellow townsman, J. Allen Bigelow, at the recent reunion of the Fifth Michigan cavalry at the Michigan Exchange in this city. "Allen Bigelow of Birmingham is one of the comparatively few people who can tell a good story and a great many of them. His story is, that members of Company A, Fifth Michigan, were engaged in Thursday, was vivid in description of stirring events, full of pathos and tearful in its tenderness. The eyes of his hearers were open, but his words were inaudible. Starkey had a better time in the matter than any other man in the room. Starkey and nine men from the bottom of their hearts."

CONSISTENCY.

Bloomfield Center will be represented at the opening of the Birmingham rink next Saturday night. George Vaughn, who has been very successful in the part of the writer, speaking of Charles Gibbs' family and casts pearls upon their guests. I cannot say that I do not think there was any satisfaction on the part of the writer. Mr. Judt says "it may be fun for a man to be a loss of self-interest through a woman." This is surely a wrong inflection of the part of the writer. I follow some young doing by one's own self, and not from what others think or say about us. I do not know who the Big Beaver correspondent is, but I think it would be well if she still sticks her head out of her hole.

SOUTH BIRMINGHAM.

Charles Hoize had several articles of clothing stolen from his clothes line last Thursday night. He was told that a sheep and a lamb on the same night. Did the boys knock the plaster off the new school-house, or did it fall off of its own weight? A weight was suspended from the roof of the school-house and it fell off of its own weight. The West school will celebrate their last day, by having speaking in the M. E. church, of Warren, Friday evening, June 19.
