Better City Well Costs More Money

A $10,190 contract for a new city water well at Southfield and 14-Mile roads was signed Tuesday and work should start within two weeks' time.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert, amplifying his report of a week ago that the well site appears to be a notable find, added that one official of the Ohio Drilling Co. had said the test formation is the best he had seen in the state, and that another official had predicted 2,000 gallons a minute—twice the contract minimum—at a mere 20-foot drawdown in the casing.

The well discovery was made after five other test wells yielded poor formations. Below 193 feet of clay, some 50 feet of water-bearing gravel was found.

The first contract, for a 180-foot well, called for an expenditure of $7,390. Because the good strata was found deeper, the price for a 250-foot well, plus heavier steel in the casing, was upped to $10,190 or $34.93 a foot. The city will use the old pump in the useless Lincoln well, but must build a new pump house.

Moths Can Squeeze Through Small Space

It takes an opening only four thousandths of an inch to admit a newly hatched clothes moth larva. Tests by Wallace Colman of the federal bureau of entomology and plant quarantine indicate why a larva can get into stored clothes when the cracks or open spaces are not large enough for the moth itself. Information received at Michigan State College from the new experimentation of Colman shows that a moth is smart enough to lay her eggs in a crack in a box when she can't get into the clothes. The larva hatches and crawls in to feed upon woolens. To keep clothes safe, all cracks should be sealed up with gummed tape for extra precaution, a plentiful supply of moth flakes should be in with the clothes.

Faucet Location

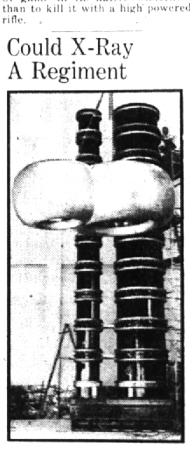
A multiplicity of hose bibbs or faucets in a garden and around a house is a great convenience to the home gardener. To have at least one on each side of the house and, where the yard is deep or wide, one or two well away from the house puts every part of the yard in reach of a comparatively short length of hose.

Drain Window Boxes

Window boxes should be drained to prevent the ground from becoming sour. Metal "weepers" should be provided at the bottom of the metal lining to allow excess water to drain.

According to professional guides of the north who have accompanied tourists on both camera and hunting trips, it is much more difficult to secure a good picture of game in its native wilderness than to kill it with a high powered rifle.

Could X-Ray A Regiment



The government doesn't intend to use it that way but the huge X-ray machine above in the U. S. Bureau of Standards, Washington, is big enough to X-ray a regiment at one time. The world's largest, it is capable of generating rays to a power of 1,500,000 volts, or equal the strength of $50,000,000 worth of radium. The "cap" is being hoisted to the top of the 31-foot towers.
