HOME NOTES.

IMPERIAL NOTES.

How do you like August? Maud S. is still queen of the turf. Overcoats were in fashion on Monday last. The postoffice at Brandon has been discontinued. R. A. Parker of Detroit was in town over Sunday. Lubricating oils cheapest and best at Whitehead & Mitchell's. We may now look for a superb crop of wheat on Pierce street. Mrs. W. P. Fairchild of Swartz Creek is visiting Mrs. G. F. Aldrich. Peter Reynolds of New York state is visiting relatives in this place. Henry Randall and sons, Southfield, began their thrashing last week. The 'old hens' were talking of going camping, but it fell through somehow. Theron Everts of Detroit visited ladies and relatives in town last week. A goodly number of our citizens attended the excursion to Ann Arbor on Friday last. Lard oil, engine oil and castor oil cheaper than the cheapest at Whitehead & Mitchell's. Miss Edith Lowe and sister Bessie of Detroit were the guests of Miss A. Cromer last week. Will Brown's new bicycle, an imported English 'Ridge Roadster,' is the finest which he has in town now. The summer resorts could not ask for any hotter weather than we have had for the past few weeks. For sale: A few choice pigs at reasonable prices. Call on address W. S. Jeffrey, Southfield, Mich. Mrs. Eliza Nichols and daughter, Mrs. Stewart Gleason, are visiting friends and relatives in this place. Ladies kiss so loudly in this place that the charming music can be heard distinctly one hundred rods. 'Kidnet.' The Judge lately had a buzz in his ear. It kept up such an awful buzzing for a while that he could not hear himself think. Philo Phillips is seriously ill and his son Philo of East Saginaw was telegraphed to and arrived on Monday last. Miss Nora Long of Vassar, Mich., and Miss Annie Sittle of Detroit are visiting their friend, Miss Carrie McKee. Mr. Frost of Orion has a woodchuck record of 107 for this season. Eh, what? Did he hear you say anything Mr. Durkee? Now that harvest is over we hope to hear from every one of our correspondents every week. Wake up, ye silent ones! Trot Lockwood drew a crowded house at the skating rink on Saturday night and gave a fine exhibition of fast and fancy skating. Born: On Sunday last, August 2, a fine boy, F. T. Hoffbauer, son of J. B. Hoffbauer and his wife. Rev. J. A. Sherrill will preach in the Almont church on Sunday evening instead of Liberty Hall. Subject—'My Righteous Servant.'

justed the fracture. The patient is now doing well. Frank Beckman says that 'Iron spikes driven into apples' will not be tried, but that the truth should be trimmed first. Frank is a trimmer and a knower. R. Menushnik, proprietor of the Capitol City at Lansing, Mich., died of typhoid fever Monday by a fatality. Mr. Menushnik was a former resident of Royal Oak and had a large number of friends in this locality. A valuable four-year old colt belonging to Bert Broadway of Southfield, was killed one night last week by a tree when he was standing during one of the severe night storms of the past week. Sam Mills is collecting the village taxes. Look out your wealth and settle up. If you were a poor independent laborer, you wouldn't have to pay any taxes. Mrs. Willette Ward has been very sick for the past two weeks but is now rapidly convalescing. Fred Cowles of the Linden Record, was in town from Sunday visiting his mother and friends in Southfield. Fred has made a marked improvement in the Record and that clean, newy sheet shows the effect of his steady going industry. The following new books have been added to the library at the 'Temperance Mountains,' by Craddock, 'Husbands and Homes,' by Harland; 'Called Back,' by Curney; 'Vain Forbearings,' by Waver; 'Maiden's Prizes,' by the Editor of Jane Welsh Carlyle. To-morrow, Friday Aug. 7th, Donaldson & Rich's great 25 cent circus will exhibit in Birmingham. The company consists of 120 men and horses with a company of 25 artists. Street parade in the forenoon led by Prof. Shad's military band. Free exhibition on the grounds consisting of free walking, etc. The wife of Gus Kronberg, baker at 205 Jefferson ave., Detroit, put her head into the oven of a hot water heater in front of the bakery, on Saturday last and while she was serving some ice cream to a customer, a sneak thief got away with it. Kronberg and his wife fled to the city of San Francisco. He and she are now in the city of San Francisco. The ladies of the Cemetery association respectfully invite the people of Birmingham and vicinity to take supper and ice cream with them, on the lawn at the residence of Mrs. L. Simpson in said village. Admission 50 cents, served from 5 to 8, ice cream 10 cents, served from 8 to 10. Bill Post: 'A new kind of potato bug has broken out down in Connecticut and they are entirely unlike the post farmers have been fighting for several years. The new bugs are black and somewhat longer than the common potato bug, more active, and fly more readily. The pods come in colonies, and destroy a plant in very short time.' The Holly water works has taken the job of giving the water indications each day at noon by sounding their steam whistle. One long blast indicates fair weather; three medium blasts stormy weather, etc.; but what our folks are going to do with one poor little whistle when they want to 'indicate' such weather as we had last week? The sidewalk war in Pontiac has continued liveliest, and parties who refuse to give up their sidewalks will have the work done under the direction of the city. The cost of the building or repairing goes into the tax roll against the property holder. The 'Golly' 'The Golly,' 'The Golly,' and 'The South Deer-Hood,' each a prize-winner, and described by the owner of the prize-log. The August count of the census in this county, besides Mrs. Burton Harrison, includes Mrs. 'A Virginia girl in the First Year of the War,' which has a story in interest also in its picture of southern life. An annual account of the civil life in camp, contains papers by Gen. Fitz John Porter on Malvern Hill—'The last of the seven days' Battles,' and another chapter from the recollections of a private, both being illustrated. The fiction of the number 'embodies A Story with a Hero,' by James T. McKay, the concluding part of 'Sias Lapsay,' by H. H. Howells, and the seventh part of 'The Bostonian,' by Henry James. We hope our readers will skip the errors, both of omission and commission in this issue, for Mitchell has left us. The whole truth of the business is just before us. When we returned from our journey to Traverse City and Peotiky, Mitchell took us down cellar behind the vinegar barrel and asked us in strict confidence what was the prettiest thing we saw on our trip; we told him, under a glass of beer, that it was the young Indian girl at We-la-took-ah's young Harbor Springs. 'What was her name?' 'Ah! let me see—oh yes, it was Ke-wah-ah-lunk.' And the poor boy was so much interested in the girl's wilderness, Peotiky, Minnabasca, and he had Hiawatha's seven times in two weeks, aided by us, we freely acknowledged, by an occasional glowing description of the girl's beauty, until we were so much depressed by the boy's description that we had to get out of his grip on Friday and took the boat at Detroit for Mackinac where he will take the first train for Harbor Springs, We-la-took-ah, and Peotiky, Minnabasca. Now, we are afraid to have the boy come home, for the truth of the business is, we lied most abominably about the ownership of a very shy and aged one, toothless, yellow, and of the head bought lawn mowers to keep things neat, beheld with astonishment a four-horse team contending to a big pole ripping up the velvet turf in front of their domiciles, and feeling that the scene was a symptom of the cholera, the scamp dug out great holes four feet deep along their street fronts, and the plows tearing up deep furrows in dangerous proximity to their yards and garden paths. We have nothing to say on the subject. There is lots of argument on our side of the question, but it won't do any good. There is no appeal that we know of. Mr. Willits and the jury are on their kind, as absolute as that which exists in our peaceful village, wisely keep their mouths shut and submit to the damaging of their property without a word.

frinds. Our will is made. We hope our duty to file our proofs with the village clerk within one week thereafter. Sec. 2.—All ordinances and parts of ordinances heretofore adopted relating to the building or repairing sidewalks in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. And passed by the council of the village of Birmingham, this 28th day of July, A. D. 1885. Geo. E. DAINES, Clerk. IRA SLADE, President.

An ordinance establishing the official paper of the village of Birmingham. Sec. 1.—The village of Birmingham ordains that the BIRMINGHAM ECLAIR, a newspaper printed and published in said village, is hereby constituted the official paper of the village of Birmingham, this 28th day of July, A. D. 1885. Geo. E. DAINES, Clerk. IRA SLADE, President.

Mr. Willits, a hired man in the employ of the village of Birmingham, while riding a horse to the pasture field last Friday night after the cows, was met in the field by the Jersey bull, Bill Gar, and Mr. Willits and the horse were thrown to the ground. Mr. Willits was knocked insensible, his head was torn from the bottom to the top, and then the animal attacked the horse, making a large gash in the horse's side, causing the instant death of the horse and horse scrambled to their feet. The man and horse scrambled to their feet. The man and horse scrambled to their feet. The man and horse scrambled to their feet.
